NEGRO HELD FOR MANSLAUGHTER, IT-RUN COUNT

Calvin Claggett, Fairfield R. D., 42-year-old negro employe on the farm of Mrs. Mabel Walker Willemund, was charged this morning with involuntary manslaughter and held to stay at the scene of an accident in connection with the death of Harry Francis Wetzel, 40-year-old Irish R. D. laborer, November 1942.

Claggett was released on $2,500 bond and posted by his attorney, Richard A. Brown, Esq., to appear for hearing on the charges before the Peace John H. Base- Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Claggett is expected to appear before the court this morning to hear the charges against him.

Both the involuntary manslaughter charge and the hit and run charge which lists two counts, were by Pvt. Robert A. Deitrich, the local sub-station of the state police. The hit and run charge alleges that Claggett failed to stop and render assistance and led to stop and render medical assistance after his sedan allegedly hit Wetzel while the latter was walking along the Zora-Emmetsburg road about 8 p. m. November 1942.

Brother Is Held
Claggett's brother, David Claggett, 42, Fairfield R. D., who had been held with Claggett as a material witness at the county jail Monday, remained in jail here he is being detained as a witness in default of $2,000 bond.

The material witness charge against Calvin Claggett was dropped this morning with the signing of the two criminal charges against him and a habeas corpus proceeding which was scheduled for hearing at 10 o'clock this morning is dropped. Attorney Brown had sought the habeas corpus Thursday in order to find what charges are against Claggett," he said.

Cpl. C. F. Temple, Pvt. Deitrich, Claggett, District Attorney J. Francis Yake, Jr., and Attorney Brown were present in Justice Base- r's office this morning for the hearing. Claggett was brought on the jail where he had been a prisoner since Monday by Corporal Temple and then Private Deitrich.

Denies Charges
The charges were signed and read Claggett before Attorney Brown appeared to post the $2,000 bond on an involuntary manslaughter and a hit and run charge. Brown asked Claggett, "Did you do these charges?"

Claggett answered, "Yes sir; they are true!"
The negro has been an employe of the Willebrandt farm for the last three years, coming here from Montgomery county, Maryland. Harry Wetzel, whom Claggett is charged with fatally injuring with his car, was found about a half hour after the accident is supposed to have occurred, lying in the middle of the road. A depressed fracture of the forehead and another fracture of the base of the skull were believed to have caused his death. He apparently had not been dragged along the road.

PAPERS FILED IN COURT CASES

Two papers were filed by attorneys Thursday at the prothonotary's office in actions previously brought before the county court and scheduled for trial this month.

J. Francis Yake, Esq., attorney for Albert O. and Marian Beck in the action in assumpsit against Elmer L. Stanley, filed a plaintiff's plea to counter claim in which it was asserted that the Becks do not owe $100 to Stanley, as claimed in Stanley's reply and counter claim. The Becks' original statement of claim and alleges anew the contention in the original statement of claim that Stanley owes the Becks $400.

Franklin R. Bigham, Esq., filed a petition for rule to show cause why judgment of non pros should not be entered in the action in trespass brought by Charles F. McCaffrey and Michael Walsh against Samuel Dowell. Attorney Bigham asks that the judgment of non pros should be entered under the statute limitations. The case was brought as a result of an accident September 21, 1941.

ter 10 hours of instruction was permitted to solo. He was first trained at Northeast Airport, Philadelphia. After 65 hours of flying he received his private pilot's license. In his own ship he did considerable cross-country flying.

Strohmeier claims that he flew backwards from Philadelphia to Trenton at 500 ft. in 35 minutes. He explains that the 80-mile an hour head wind was far greater than his cruising speed which caused him to steadily drift backwards.

With another companion he spent two days and two nights in a non-stop flight trying to set a record for non-stop flying with a light plane.

Strohmeier started his Civilian Pilot Training program at the Boulevard Airport, Philadelphia, where he also instructed. He flew 1,600 hours in that area when the school was moved to Gettysburg. While at the Gettysburg School of Aeronautics he boosted his flying instruction time to 2,350 hours and his total flying time to more than 3,000 hours.

Big "Sign Mystery" Perplexes Police

The "mystery of the missing sign" was plaguing borough police today. The sign in question, up to some time Thursday night, informed motorists going around the square that by turning north on Carlisle street they could in due time reach Harrisburg, Carlisle and other points. The sign was attached to the light standard on the east side of the center plot.

This morning the sign had disappeared from the light standard and was lying in a crushed condition in the shrubbery in the center plot. The light standard, undamaged, presented a nude appearance to York street.

Borough officer Paul B. Shealer believes the sign was on the pole when he went off duty at 8 o'clock Thursday evening while Borough Officer Charles W. Culp, Jr., is similarly convinced that the sign was off the standard when he went on duty at 8 o'clock Thursday evening.

5TH BOND DRIVE STRESSES SALES TO INDIVIDUALS

Six billion of the sixteen billion dollar Fifth War Bond drive must be raised from investors other than commercial banks, Edmund W. Thomas, chairman of the Adams County War Finance committee, announced today in releasing details of the forthcoming campaign. The drive will officially open June 12 and will close at midnight, July 8.

Mr. Thomas quoted from a statement released by Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., as follows:

"Since January 1 the direct costs of the war have exceeded $23,000,000,000. With the critical phase of the war still ahead of us, certainly no decline in expenditures is now in prospect. For this reason the $16,000,000,000 is urgently needed."

Sales To Individuals
Throughout the drive emphasis will be placed on the $6,000,000,000 worth of bonds to be sold to individuals. Bond purchases by commercial banks will not be credited to the drive, therefore the entire quota for Adams county, which has not been announced as yet, will have to come from sources other than banks, Mr. Thomas explained.

From the opening of the drive through June 26 only sales to individuals will be reported by the Treasury Department, although sales will be made to non-banking investors during the entire period of the drive. The campaign to sell to individuals will be supplemented starting June 26 with an intensive campaign to sell all other non-banking investors, the quota for which is ten billion dollars.

"All subscriptions for savings bonds and savings notes processed by the Federal Reserve banks or the Treasury between June 1 and July 31 will be credited to the drive," Mr. Thomas said.

Experts Fixed Quota
"The goal and the securities to be offered were determined by the Treasury after consultation with a group of chairmen of the State War Finance committees, officials of the Federal Reserve System, a committee of American Bankers' association and other investment authorities," county chairman said.

The securities to be sold include: Series E, F and G savings bonds; Series C savings notes; two and one-half per cent bonds of 1965-70; two per cent bonds of 1952-54; one and one-quarter per cent notes of 1947 and seven-eighths per cent certificates of indebtedness.

The Treasury Department has requested that there be no trading in the marketable securities and no purchases of such securities other than on direct subscription until after the close of the drive.

The procedure for handling subscriptions of dealers and brokers will be similar to that prescribed in the Fourth Bond drive.

Mr. Thomas said that the same organization of committees and community units which handled the previous bond drives will handle the Fifth War Bond campaign in this county.

PAPERS OF 60 VETERANS ARE RECORDED HERE

At least 60 Adams county men and women who have served in the armed forces during the present World War have received honorable discharges for medical or other reasons, according to the records of the county register and recorder's office.

Only those discharges brought by the soldiers or sailors to the register's office for permanent filing in the Soldiers', Sailors' and Marines' Discharges docket are included in the list. It is not known how many men and women may have already received discharges but it is believed that only a comparative few have taken advantage of the permanent registration of the discharges. The service is given free by the county to the returned service men.

Included among the current list of discharges filed are several of men in the Spanish-American war who finally have gotten around to having a permanent record made of their discharge papers.

Two Women On List
Only two discharges of county women from the armed forces in this war are listed in the docket. The first woman's discharge filed during the present war is that of Second Lieutenant Irene Kathryn Boyer, a member of the Army Nurses' Corps, in which she served from July 1, 1943, to January 31, 1944. The discharge was given at Port Monroe, Virginia.

The second discharge filed for a county woman is that of Ann E. Roth, from the Women's Auxiliary Army Corps given at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia. She enrolled January 19, 1943, at Harrisburg and served five months and 15 days.

Latest discharge recorded in the docket Thursday was that of Burnett J. Myers, who was inducted into the service March 1, 1943 and received a medical discharge March 25 at Lawson General hospital, Atlanta, Georgia.

Another filed this week was that of Joseph L. Kane, Orrtanna, who was given a medical discharge Tuesday at Camp Blanding, Florida, after having served three months in the Army.

BOCHE USING NEW GUN WITH 30-MILE RANGE

By LYNN HEINZERLING
Allied Headquarters, Naples, April 7 (AP)—Heavy bombers of the U. S. 15th Air Force again attacked a Balkan target yesterday, hammering this time at a German airfield in the Croatian capital of Zagreb as ground action on all Italian fronts remained at a virtual standstill.

Zagreb was vigorously defended by some 120 German planes. Sixteen were shot down in battles over northern Yugoslavia, headquarters announced, and three heavy bombers were lost.

Flying Fortresses and Liberators, escorted by Thunderbolts and Lightnings, took part in the attack. Returning crewmen reported that the fight was hot and heavy, but there was nothing here to substantiate German reports last night describing the battle as "one of the greatest strategic defeats suffered so far" by the 15th Air Force.

Use Railroad Gun
On the contrary, the Allied communique listed the raid as small.

An announcement from headquarters said that on the Anzio beachhead a strong German patrol attacked an Allied position a mile and a half south of Carroceto last night but was driven back by grenades and small arms fire. Fifth army artillery and tank destroyers blasted enemy gun positions there during the day.

A dispatch sent from the beachhead last night by Associated Press War Correspondent Kenneth L. Dixon said the Germans had ringed the Allied defenses with several huge guns capable of combing the entire beachhead from the front line to the coast.

"These include some railroad guns with a potential range up to 54,000 yards (more than 30 miles), which means that the Germans could literally sit in Rome and shell shipping in Anzio bay," Dixon wrote. "How many of these guns are operating against the beachhead either has not been ascertained or is not being divulged."

In all air operations yesterday 28 enemy aircraft were reported destroyed and the communique listed three medium bombers and four fighters as missing in addition to the three heavy craft.

Tremendous Invasion Losses Called "Rot" By U. S. General

By JAMES F. KING
With An American Infantry Division Somewhere In England, April 7 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley told American officers preparing for the invasion of Europe today that "this stuff about tremendous losses is tommyrot."

"The success of the whole war depends on this operation and I have no fear of its outcome," the commander of American ground forces in the United Kingdom assured officers who will lead the doughboys into action.

"When the time comes you will be surprised by the Naval gunfire and air power we have."

"Some of you won't come back, but it will be very few."

"In the Tunisian campaign we lost only an average of three or four men to 1,000 and certainly seeing a show like this ought to be worth that chance."

Moscow, April 7 (AP)—Strong German tank and infantry forces are being hurled against Russian troops encircling the besieged city of Tarnopol in southeastern Poland in a last-minute effort to relieve the trapped garrison, a Soviet communique declared today.

The attack was launched from German-held territory southwest of Tarnopol, the Russian bulletin said, and came after Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's First Ukrainian Army had captured more than half of the area within the city. Street fighting has been reported going on since Monday.

Attempts to lift the siege yesterday were repulsed with heavy losses, the communique announced, but added that fierce fighting is continuing.

Germans Hurl New Strength
The Germans, it appeared, were attempting to rescue both the Tarnopol garrison and the remnants of 15 divisions encircled in the Skala sector northeast of Czernowitz and have thrown formidable forces into the drive to crack the Red Army cordons.

Zhukov's troops, however, were reported to have tightened their ring of encirclement near Skala by capturing important defense strongpoints, including the fortified town of Skala itself.

The Russian communique announced the capture of huge stocks of war booty in the Skala fighting.

Three hundred miles southeast of Tarnopol, Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Third Ukrainian Army struck toward Odessa in a 15-mile drive from captured Razdelnaya, which brought it to a point 23 miles northwest of the Black Sea port, posing a new threat to that Nazi-held bastion.

Surprise Nazis At Odessa
Malinovsky's drive, a brilliant flanking movement that apparently caught the enemy by surprise, drew closer the Red Army ring being forged around the beleaguered port, already threatened from the north and northeast.

Inside the rapidly constricting arc, harassed Germans and Rumanian troops were being herded closer to the shores of the Black Sea and their last remaining escape corridor across the Dniester estuary, 20 miles southwest of Odessa.

For the fourth straight day, the Moscow communique made no mention of the progress of Marshal Ivan S. Konev's Second Ukrainian Army, last reported across the Prut river nine miles miles above the Rumanian city of Iasi.

Assault By Gurkhas Forces Japs To Commit "Hara Kiri"

(By The Associated Press)
The Japanese were running into some difficulty in their invasion of India today (Friday) as Hollandia, their one remaining base of consequence in the Bismarck sea area, was silent and smoking, blown smack out of the Pacific war picture by 720 tons of bombs delivered in two installments.

Several isolated Japanese attacks have been repulsed in the Imphal sector of northern India, Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten announced, while 14th Army troops in northern Burma were said to have strengthened their hold on main roads and railways.

However, Japanese troops which had established road blocks between Imphal and Kohima were reported to have driven west of the road where they engaged Allied troops.

Gurkhas of the 17th Indian Division which killed or wounded 1,800 Japanese in their drive into Imphal defeated an enemy tank force some 22 miles from Tiddim with such effect the Japanese took to mass hara kiri.

Despite continued pressure, the Allied supply lines still were operative.

American heavy bombers in a low-level attack caused considerable damage to the new Japanese-built Burma-Siam railway on Wednesday.

Hollandia, a staging base on the north coast of New Guinea, was ripe for the kill after Sunday's mighty 400-ton bombing by 300 planes. On Wednesday, 250 Fifth Army bombers packing 320 tons of explosives came back for the second and knockout blow and found the enemy helpless. Hollandia as an effective base was wiped out.

Not an enemy plane took to the air in interception, and anti-aircraft fire dwindled quickly as the big force completed its destruction without loss in a 50-minute attack.

Hollandia was important to Japan's supply of Wewak and other northeast New Guinea bases and helped guard the broad sweep from the conquered Solomons islands into the Philippines against the relentless Allied surge westward.

Army Liberators hit Truk for the 13th time in a week at the cost of two bombers. Other units struck Ponape. Truk's eastern outpost 440 miles away, and bases in the eastern Marshalls. Here a U. S. destroyer was damaged by shore batteries as it paused to pick up an American flier who had been shot down.

Claggett was released on $2,500 bond posted by his attorney, Richard A. Brown, Esq., to appear for a hearing on the charges before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock following an appearance before the justice this morning to hear the charges against him.

Both the involuntary manslaughter charge and the hit and run charge which lists two counts, were signed by Pvt. Robert A. Deitrich of the local sub-station of the state motor police. The hit and run charge alleges that Claggett failed to stop and render assistance and failed to stop and render medical assistance after his sedan allegedly hit Wetzel while the latter was walking along the Zora-Emmitsburg road about 8 p. m. The material witness charge against Calvin Claggett was dropped this morning with the signing of the two criminal charges against him and a habeas corpus proceeding which was scheduled for a hearing at 10 o'clock this morning was dropped. Attorney Brown had sought the habeas corpus Thursday "in order to find what charges are against Claggett," he said.

Cpl. C. F. Tempke, Pvt. Deitrich, Claggett, District Attorney J. Francis Yake, Jr., and Attorney Brown were present in Justice Basehore's office this morning for the appearance. Claggett was brought from the jail where he had been a prisoner since Monday by Corporal Tempke and then Private Deitrich signed the charges.

Denies Charges

The charges were signed and read to Claggett before Attorney Brown appeared to post the $2,000 bond on the involuntary manslaughter and a $500 bond on the hit and run charge.

Brown asked Claggett, "Did you hear these charges?"

Claggett answered, "Yes sir; they untrue!"

The negro has been an employee at the Willebrandt farm for the last three years, coming here from Montgomery county, Maryland.

BE HELD HERE

"Religion's Contribution To a Just and Durable Peace" is the theme of a conference to be held in St. James Lutheran church, Tuesday, April 18, under the leadership of Dr. Kirby Page, author and lecturer, sponsored by the American Friends Service committee. The Rev. Dr. Dwight

DR. KIRBY PAGE

P. Putman, pastor of Christ Lutheran church, is chairman of the local committee on arrangements.

There will be three sessions, at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon Dr. Page will speak on "Strengthening American Democracy by Preventing Depression."

A supper conference will be held at 6 o'clock and the theme will be "What Can We Do About Race Problems."

The evening session at 8 o'clock will have as its theme "How Can Religion Help in Winning the Peace?"

No Admission

Reservations for the supper at 75 cents per plate must be made not later than April 16 by writing or phoning the Rev. Dr. Putman or Miss Maude Whiteleather.

There is no admission charge to the conference. An offering for the work of the peace section of the American Friends Service Committee will be taken at the evening session.

The local conference is one of a series being held throughout the country.

Dr. Page is the author of nineteen volumes and sixteen pamphlets on international, economic, social and religious questions. His works have been translated into many languages. He has spoken at more than 300 colleges and universities and in 35 countries.

ter 10 hours of instruction was permitted to solo. He was first trained at Northeast Airport, Philadelphia. After 65 hours of flying he received his private pilot's license. In his own ship he did considerable cross-country flying.

Strohmeier claims that he flew backwards from Philadelphia to Trenton at 500 ft. in 35 minutes. He explains that the 80-mile an hour head wind was far greater than his cruising speed which caused him to steadily drift backwards.

With another companion he spent two days and two nights in a non-stop flight trying to set a record for non-stop flying with a light plane.

Strohmeier started his Civilian Pilot Training program at the Boulevard Airport, Philadelphia, where he also instructed. He flew 1,600 hours in that area when the school was moved to Gettysburg. While at the Gettysburg School of Aeronautics he boosted his flying instruction time to 2,350 hours and his total flying time to more than 3,000 hours.

Big "Sign Mystery"
Perplexes Police

The "mystery of the missing sign" was plaguing borough police today. The sign in question, up to some-time Thursday night, informed motorists going around the square that by turning north on Carlisle street they could in due time reach Harrisburg, Carlisle and other points. The sign was attached to the light standard on the east side of the center plot.

This morning the sign had disappeared from the light standard and was lying in a crushed condition in the shrubbery in the center plot. The light standard, undamaged, presented a nude appearance to York street.

Borough officer Paul B. Shearer believes the sign was on the pole when he went off duty at 8 o'clock Thursday evening while Borough Officer Charles W. Culp, Jr., is similarly convinced that the sign was off the standard when he went on duty at 8 o'clock Thursday evening.

5TH BOND DRIVE STRESSES SALES TO INDIVIDUALS

Six billion of the sixteen billion dollar Fifth War Bond drive must be raised from investors other than commercial banks, Edmund W. Thomas, chairman of the Adams County War Finance committee, announced today in releasing details of the forthcoming campaign. The drive will officially open June 12 and will close at midnight, July 8.

Mr. Thomas quoted from a statement released by Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., as follows:

"Since January 1 the direct costs of the war have exceeded $23,000,000,000. With the critical phase of the war still ahead of us, certainly no decline in expenditures is now in prospect. For this reason the $16,000,000,000 is urgently needed."

Sales To Individuals

Throughout the drive emphasis will be placed on the $6,000,000,000 worth of bonds to be sold to individuals. Bond purchases by commercial banks will not be credited to the drive, therefore the entire quota for Adams county, which has not been announced as yet, will have to come from sources other than banks, Mr. Thomas explained.

From the opening of the drive through June 26 only sales to individuals will be reported by the Treasury Department, although sales will be made to non-banking investors during the entire period of the drive. The campaign to sell to individuals will be supplemented starting June 26 with an intensive campaign to sell all other non-banking investors, the quota for which is ten billion dollars.

"All subscriptions for savings bonds and savings notes processed by the Federal Reserve banks or the Treasury between June 1 and July 31 will be credited to the drive," Mr. Thomas said.

Experts Fixed Quota

"The goal and the securities to be offered were determined by the Treasury after consultation with a group of chairmen of the State War Finance committees, officials of the Federal Reserve System, a committee of American Bankers' association and other investment authorities," county chairman said.

The securities to be sold include: Series E, F and G savings bonds; Series C savings notes; two and one-half per cent bonds of 1965-70; two per cent bonds of 1952-54; one and one-quarter per cent notes of 1947 and seven-eighths per cent certificates of indebtedness.

The Treasury Department has requested that there be no trading in the marketable securities and no purchases of such securities other than on direct subscription until after the close of the drive.

The procedure for handling subscriptions of dealers and brokers will be similar to that prescribed in the Fourth Bond drive.

Mr. Thomas said that the same organization of committees and community units which handled the previous bond drives will handle the Fifth War Bond campaign in this county.

PLAYGROUND PLANS

Final plans for this summer's activities at the Gettysburg playground will be made at a meeting of the Gettysburg Recreation Board Monday at 4:30 p. m. at the Metropolitan Edison company office, Paul Kinsey, chairman of the committee announced today.

Miss Helen M. Favorite, Hotel Gettysburg apartments, suffered a fracture of her left hand when she bumped it against a door in her apartment. The accident took place a week ago but it was not known until Thursday that a bone was fractured.

At least 60 Adams county men and women who have served in the armed forces during the present World War have received honorable discharges for medical or other reasons, according to the records of the county register and recorder's office.

Only those discharges brought by the soldiers or sailors to the register's office for permanent filing in the Soldiers', Sailors' and Marines' Discharges docket are included in the list. It is not known how many men and women may have already received discharges but it is believed that only a comparative few have taken advantage of the permanent registration of the discharges. The service is given free by the county to the returned service men.

Included among the current list of discharges filed are several of men in the Spanish-American war who finally have gotten around to having a permanent record made of their discharge papers.

Two Women On List

Only two discharges of county women from the armed forces in this war are listed in the docket. The first woman's discharge filed during the present war is that of Second Lieutenant Irene Kathryn Boyer, a member of the Army Nurses' Corps, in which she served from July 1, 1943, to January 31, 1944. The discharge was given at Fort Monroe, Virginia.

The second discharge filed for a county woman is that of Ann E. Roth, from the Women's Auxiliary Army Corps given at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia. She enrolled January 19, 1943, at Harrisburg and served five months and 15 days.

Latest discharge recorded in the docket Thursday was that of Burnett J. Myers, who was inducted into the service March 1, 1943 and received a medical discharge March 25 at Lawson General hospital, Atlanta, Georgia.

Another filed this week was that of Joseph L. Kane, Ortanna, who was given a medical discharge Tuesday at Camp Blanding, Florida, after having served three months in the Army.

HOWARD KNOUSE

Howard Allen Knouse of near Gettysburg, and Mary Gertrude Frantz, Lebanon, were united in marriage this morning at 10 o'clock at the residence of the Rev. Harry S. Ecker, East Lincoln avenue, pastor of the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian church. The couple was unattended.

The bride is a graduate of the Lebanon high school and the Shippenburg State Teachers' college. She is teaching school at Cornwall, Lebanon county.

Mr. Knouse completed a horticultural course at Pennsylvania State college and attended a business college in Lancaster. He is employed as a bookkeeper at the Gettysburg National bank.

After the ceremony the couple left on a week's wedding trip to Philadelphia and other points in the east.

30-MILE RANGE

By LYNN HEINZERLING

Allied Headquarters, Naples, April 7 (AP)—Heavy bombers of the U.S. 15th Air Force again attacked a Balkan target yesterday, hammering this time at a German airfield in the Croatian capital of Zagreb as ground action on all Italian fronts remained at a virtual standstill.

Zagreb was vigorously defended by some 120 German planes. Sixteen were shot down in battles over northern Yugoslavia, headquarters announced, and three heavy bombers were lost.

Flying Fortresses and Liberators, escorted by Thunderbolts and Lightnings, took part in the attack. Returning crewmen reported that the fight was hot and heavy, but there was nothing here to substantiate German reports last night describing the battle as "one of the greatest strategic defeats suffered so far" by the 15th Air Force.

Use Railroad Gun

On the contrary, the Allied communique listed the raid as small. An announcement from headquarters said that on the Anzio beach-head a strong German patrol attacked an Allied position a mile and a half south of Carroceto last night but was driven back by grenades and small arms fire. Fifth army artillery and tank destroyers blasted enemy gun positions there during the day.

A dispatch sent from the beach-head last night by Associated Press War Correspondent Kenneth L. Dixon said the Germans had ringed the Allied defenses with several huge guns capable of combing the entire beachhead from the front line to the coast.

"These include some railroad guns with a potential range up to 54,000 yards (more than 30 miles), which means that the Germans could literally sit in Rome and shell shipping in Anzio bay," Dixon wrote. "How many of these guns are operating against the beachhead either has not been ascertained or is not being divulged."

In all air operations yesterday 28 enemy aircraft were reported destroyed and the communique listed three medium bombers and four fighters as missing in addition to the three heavy craft.

Tremendous Invasion Losses
Called "Rot" By U. S. General

By JAMES F. KING

With An American Infantry Division Somewhere In England, April 7 (AP)—Lt.-Gen. Omar N. Bradley told American officers preparing for the invasion of Europe today that "this stuff about tremendous losses is tommyrot."

"The success of the whole war depends on this operation and I have no fear of its outcome," the commander of American ground forces in the United Kingdom assured officers who will lead the doughboys into action.

"When the time comes you will be surprised by the Naval gunfire and air power we have."

"Some of you won't come back, but it will be very few."

"In the Tunisian campaign we lost only an average of three or four men to 1,000 and certainly seeing a show like this ought to be worth that chance."

"They say Barnum and Bailey had the greatest show on earth, but that will be only a sideshow compared to the one you will be in. When your men get up to fight you will be scared, but it will be up to you to

Moscow, April 7 (AP)—Strong German tank and infantry forces are being hurled against Russian troops encircling the besieged city of Tarnopol in southeastern Poland in a last-minute effort to relieve the trapped garrison, a Soviet communique declared today.

The attack was launched from German-held territory southwest of Tarnopol, the Russian bulletin said, and came after Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's First Ukrainian Army had captured more than half of the area within the city. Street fighting has been reported going on since Monday.

Attempts to lift the siege yesterday were repulsed with heavy losses, the communique announced, but added that fierce fighting is continuing.

Germans Hurl New Strength

The Germans, it appeared, were attempting to rescue both the Tarnopol garrison and the remnants of 15 divisions encircled in the Skala sector northeast of Cernowitz and have thrown formidable forces into the drive to crack the Red Army cordons.

Zhukov's troops, however, were reported to have tightened their ring of encirclement near Skala by capturing important defense strongpoints, including the fortified town of Skala itself.

The Russian communique announced the capture of huge stocks of war booty in the Skala fighting.

Three hundred miles southeast of Tarnopol, Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Third Ukrainian Army struck toward Odessa in a 15-mile drive from captured Razdelnaya, which brought it to a point 23 miles northwest of the Black Sea port, posing a new threat to that Nazi-held bastion.

Surprise Nazis At Odessa

Malinovsky's drive, a brilliant flanking movement that apparently caught the enemy by surprise, drew closer the Red Army ring being forged around the beleaguered port, already threatened from the north and northeast.

Inside the rapidly constricting area, harassed Germans and Rumanian troops were being herded closer to the shores of the Black Sea and their last remaining escape corridor across the Dniester estuary, 20 miles southwest of Odessa.

For the fourth straight day, the Moscow communique made no mention of the progress of Marshal Ivan S. Konev's Second Ukrainian Army, last reported across the Prut river nine miles miles above the Rumanian city of Iasi.

Assault By Gurkhas Forces
Japs To Commit "Hara Kiri"

(By The Associated Press)

The Japanese were running into some difficulty in their invasion of India today (Friday) as Hollandia, their one remaining base of consequence in the Bismarck sea area, was silent and smoking, blown smack out of the Pacific war picture by 720 tons of bombs delivered in two installments.

Several isolated Japanese attacks have been repulsed in the Imphal sector of northern India, Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten announced, while 14th Army troops in northern Burma were said to have strengthened their hold on main roads and railways.

However, Japanese troops which had established road blocks between Imphal and Kohima were reported to have driven west of the road where they engaged Allied troops.

Gurkhas of the 17th Indian Division which killed or wounded 1,800 Japanese in their drive into Imphal defeated an enemy tank force some 22 miles from Tiddim with such effect the Japanese took to mass hara kiri.

American heavy bombers in a low-level attack caused considerable damage to the new Japanese-built Burma-Siam railway on Wednesday.

Hollandia, a staging base on the north coast of New Guinea, was ripe for the kill after Sunday's mighty 400-ton bombing by 300 planes. On Wednesday, 250 Fifth Army bombers packing 320 tons of explosives came back for the second and knock-out blow and found the enemy helpless. Hollandia as an effective base was wiped out.

Not an enemy plane took to the air in interception, and anti-aircraft fire dwindled quickly as the big force completed its destruction without loss in a 50-minute attack.

Hollandia was important to Japan's supply of Wewak and other northeast New Guinea bases and helped guard the broad sweep from the conquered Solomon Islands into the Philippines against the relentless Allied surge westward.

Army Liberators hit Truk for the 13th time in a week at the cost of two bombers. Other units struck Ponape, Truk's eastern outpost 440 miles away, and bases in the eastern Marshalls. Here a U. S. destroyer was damaged by shore batteries as it paused to pick up an American flier who had been shot down.

MATERIEL MAY TIP SCALES IN INVASION DRIVE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press War Analyst)

They tell us D-day actually has been set for the invasion of western Europe, although the date remains the most carefully guarded secret of the war.

When it arrives we shall see a titanic clash not only of men, but of materiel. Of course we can't appraise the relative value of the soldiery and the equipment, for both are vital. However, once the Allies get their armies solidly ashore in France, the weight of the conflict may be shifted to supplies. Materiel will tip the scales.

If the Allies had possessed the trained men and materiel they could have invaded France months ago. That's why American and British industries have been racing to provide equipment for this great show, and why vast convoys have been speeding across the Atlantic with troops and supplies to England. Arrival of D-day will mean we finally have the materiel we need.

Hitler's Supply Problem

Two items of materiel without which modern war cannot be waged are oil and gasoline. War industries would halt without oil, and so would all battle equipment which has moving parts. Warplanes, tanks and motor vehicles would be stalled without gasoline.

This being so, one of the outstanding factors in our favor as we near D-day is that Hitler not only is short of oil and gasoline but that his slender source of supplies is under dangerous attack by the Allied air fleets. His synthetic oil and gas plants long have been under systematic bombing, and now American bombers are slashing at Rumania's Ploesti oil fields, from which he has got the bulk of his natural petroleum supplies. And the Red Armies are racing towards Ploesti, less than 200 miles away.

All this presents a grim threat to the Fuehrer. To illustrate, six months ago it was estimated that on one typical day of all-out offensive, the European theatre consumed about 336,000 barrels of petroleum.

Critical Oil Supply

It's also estimated that last year Rumania produced 35,000,000 barrels of oil, much of which went to Germany. In other words, Rumania's entire output would last the Allies maybe 100 days if it were high grade oil—which it isn't.

Half a year ago Allied aerial operations over Europe on an active day consumed 2,750,000 gallons of gas. Heaven and the Allied high command alone now know what the vastly increased consumption is.

Rumania has supplied about one-third of Germany's requirements for oil. Virtually all the Reich's remaining oil and gas have been made synthetically from coal. The supplies which Hitler stole from occupied countries have been exhausted. The Nazis have made no secret of their crying need for oil. That was one of the chief objectives of Hitler's attempt to reach the Caucasian petroleum fields. It explains in part why he's trying to hang onto Rumania.

Coincidence In Orient

There's small doubt that one reason the Germans haven't been using their oil fleet more is shortage of gas. Now then they lose Rumanian oil, which they are bound to do either through bombing or by capture, it will be a truly crippling blow. And it will be a mighty lift for the Allies in the forthcoming invasion which will depend so heavily on air power.

It's a curious and vastly important coincidence that a similar situation is developing in the Orient through Japan's loss of her short-haul oil supply when the Russians forced her to give up the Sakhalin oil leases.

SECRECIES MARKS COURT PROBE

Scranton, Pa., April 7 (AP)—Secrecy cloaks a grand jury investigation into "certain matters" in the jurisdiction of the U. S. Court for the Middle District of Pennsylvania.

Reporters and spectators were expelled from the courtroom yesterday as the investigation on opened and Judge William F. Smith, of New Jersey, specially presiding, charged the jury. Veteran court attendants said it was the first time within memory the courtroom had ever been cleared on such an occasion.

An official investigation of the conduct of Judges Albert W. Johnson and Labert L. Watson, who regularly preside in the district, was recently ordered by the House judiciary committee.

Max H. Goldschmidt and Boris Kostelancz, assistants to Attorney General Biddle who remained in the courtroom issued the following statement:

"In order that witnesses may not be deterred or embarrassed in this investigation, we are asking the press to cooperate to the extent of not identifying any witness who appears before the grand jury."

FDR SAYS COST OF LIVING LOWER

Washington, April 7 (AP)—President Roosevelt made public today—with an indirect endorsement—a report from his top economic advisers which declared present wage and price control policies must be continued.

Coming at a time when organized labor is pressing for relaxation of wage controls, the report said the stabilization program has worked so well that "the cost of living as a whole" is actually lower today than it was a year ago and that wages have been stabilized.

"We must not jeopardize these gains by any change of policy or relaxation of effort in the critical months ahead," it said.

Matron's "Gift Eye" Restores Man's Sight

New Orleans, April 7 (AP)—Richard Bienville, practically blind all his life, now can see by means of a gift eye donated to him by a stranger, Mrs. E. Johnson of Marlboro, La.

The attractive matron, hearing that the 33-year-old broommaker might be able to see through the transplanting of a live cornea to his left eye, donated her right eye in which he lost sight at the age of eight by being accidentally struck by a rock.

The surgeon who performed the delicate operation here lifted Bienville's bandage yesterday and found that sight had been restored.

Bienville was overjoyed. And so were his wife and their five-year-old son, Richard, Bienville, Jr. The three journeyed to Marrero and thanked Mrs. Johnson for the gift.

FREE INITIATIVE IS STRESSED BY ERIC JOHNSTON

Henry M. Scharf, Edmund W. Thomas, Dr. J. Walter Coleman, J. I. Burgoon, Milton R. Tipton and Paul L. Roy attended the evening session of the convention as representatives of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce.

Harrisburg, April 7 (AP)—America's economy must be run from Main street in the post-war world, President Eric A. Johnston of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce believes.

"You can't regiment or dictate lives of 135,000,000 people and maintain freedom of initiative which gives jobs to men and enables us to maintain a free enterprise system," he said last night in an address to the Pennsylvania state Chamber of Commerce's 27th annual convention dinner in the Penn-Harris hotel.

"Our program in the future," Johnston continued, "must be to unleash and unshackle the productive capacities of man and give him a wider horizon and greater opportunity than ever before," but added "our tax laws must be revised to stimulate investment of risk capital to provide jobs for men."

"Defeat Ourselves"

Declaring "there is nothing that can defeat the people of America except ourselves," Johnston said the "surest way of defeating ourselves is to say we are washed up and there are no opportunities left in America."

The one-day session of the Chamber ended with the re-election of Warren C. Buette, York, as president, and William E. Earnest, Harrisburg, treasurer. H. W. Prentiss, Jr., Lancaster; Edward Hopkinson, Jr., Philadelphia; Harry C. Graham, Pittsburgh; and Otto G. Hitchcock, Erie, were named vice presidents.

24 DIRECT BOMB HITS SCORED ON NAZI'S TIRPITZ

By LEO S. DISHER
Representing
the Combined American Press
Aboard a British Warship, April 6 (Delayed)—The British force which knocked out the German battleship Tirpitz in Norway's Alten fjord on April 3 came home today, passing into its anchorage in file as British sailors cheered it ship by ship.

The home fleet commander, Admiral Sir Bruce Fraser, stood on the quarterdeck of his flagship, waving his cap with the entire ship's company.

Score 24 Hits

Caught by surprise, the previously crippled 41,000-ton battleship was left blazing and wrecked by Baracuda divebombers, which scored at least 24 bomb hits on her.

(Desmond Tighe, a Reuters correspondent with the British striking force, said that American-built Corsairs had done a "magnificent" job among the fighter force which protected the divebombers.)

The first wave of bombers caught the Tirpitz as the ship apparently was just leaving protected anchorage between 3,000-foot hills in the three-quarter mile Kaa fjord at the extreme end of Alen fjord.

When the second wave struck more than an hour later the ship had turned and its stern, now pushed far to the other side of the fjord, was perhaps aground. There was no photographic indication that the Tirpitz's engines were going when the second wave struck.

Early Dawn Attack

British experts believed that the German ship's engines were disabled and her inner works torn by armor piercing bursts from the first wave.

The first striking force of Baracudas, Corsairs, Hellcats and Wildcats took off at 4:30 a. m. in a chilly Arctic dawn with the weather clear and windless. As the striking force disappeared, fighter planes took off and roared protectively around the force which was flung across nearly five miles of sea.

At 6:20 the first of the returning raiders landed on the carrier as deck crews cheered.

"As I was about to bomb, a great sheet of flame shot up from the Tirpitz," said Sub-Lieut. David Clabaut, 21.

"Billowing clouds of smoke rose to a considerable height. I dropped my own bomb through the smoke and then the whole kite seemed to lift into the air."

"The Germans were caught with their pants down," said Sub-Lieut. Don Sheppard, Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve from Toronto, the pilot of a Corsair in the first wave which hit the Tirpitz.

The homecoming was a glorious day for the carrier force.

BRIDE HOPES FOR PAROLE OF LIFE

Columbus, Ohio, April 7 (AP)—A 24-year-old dark-haired bride today began the long wait for the man she married two hours before he started serving 25 life sentences in Ohio penitentiary.

The girl, Betty Kopp, said yesterday after she married Richard Swain, 31-year-old convicted burglar, that she expected the "weary road" ahead to be eased by monthly visits to see her husband.

"It's a long time to wait, but it'll be worth it," she commented following the ceremony in county jail with a justice of peace officiating.

She plans to get a job and save for the future while waiting for the man who has been her sweetheart for seven years.

Swain, who was given the life sentences when he pleaded guilty to 25 counts of burglarizing inhabited dwellings, said the freedom he hopes will come some day would be meaningless without his wife.

Swain will be eligible for release from prison in a decade under an Ohio law which stipulates that anyone who has served 10 years of a life sentence must be considered for parole.

Swain says he plans to study engineering while in prison.

Navy Will Acquire York Ordnance Plant

York, Pa., April 7 (AP)—The U. S. Navy department intends to acquire the special ordnance plant of York Safe and Lock company and make it a Naval ordnance unit.

Plans to this end are now being worked out, it was authoritatively stated today. Construction of the special ordnance plant was entirely financed by a Navy guaranty.

It was also planned that the Navy department will lease the plant to Blaw-Knox company of Pittsburgh, which will continue the present operations of the plant with the existing organization and personnel. Blaw-Knox company has been manufacturing for several years the same product as that manufactured at the special ordnance plant—the Bofors 40-mm. anti-aircraft gun.

Several months are expected to elapse before the operation of the plant is transferred to Blaw-Knox company, and, in the meantime, the plant will continue to be operated by the Navy department with Capt. D. F. Ducey, U.S.N., in charge.

Would Streamline School Finances

Harrisburg, April 7 (AP)—Chairman George Young of the state commission studying the public school system today predicted the 15-member agency will present a plan to the 1945 Legislature "which will streamline our school financing methods."

The present school subsidy program is "inflexible and cumbersome" and is partially responsible for "poor schools and excessive real estate taxes in some districts," he declared in an interview and added:

"Look at our setup, just because a school district had a population of say 5,010 people in 1940 when the federal census was taken, we are going to reimburse it to the extent of 35 per cent of teachers' salaries up until 1950, regardless of what happens to the population during the decade."

The United States milk production goal in 1944 is 56 billion quarts.

MATERIEL MAY TIP SCALES IN INVASION DRIVE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press War Analyst)

They tell us D-day actually has been set for the invasion of western Europe, although the date remains the most carefully guarded secret of the war.

When it arrives we shall see a titanic clash not only of men, but of materiel. Of course we can't appraise the relative value of the soldier and the equipment, for both are vital. However, once the Allies get their armies solidly ashore in France, the weight of the conflict may be shifted to supplies. Materiel will tip the scales.

If the Allies had possessed the trained men and materiel they could have invaded France months ago. That's why American and British industries have been racing to provide equipment for this great show, and why vast convoys have been speeding across the Atlantic with troops and supplies to England. Arrival of D-day will mean we finally have the materiel we need.

Hitler's Supply Problem
Two items of materiel without which modern war cannot be waged are oil and gasoline. War industries would halt without oil, and so would all battle equipment which has moving parts. Warplanes, tanks and motor vehicles would be stalled without gasoline.

This being so, one of the outstanding factors in our favor as we near D-day is that Hitler not only is short of oil and gasoline but that his slender source of supplies is under dangerous attack by the Allied air fleets. His synthetic oil and gas plants long have been under systematic bombing, and now American bombers are slashing at Rumania's Ploesti oil fields, from which he has got the bulk of his natural petroleum supplies. And the Red Armies are racing towards Ploesti, less than 200 miles away.

All this presents a grim threat to the Fuehrer. To illustrate, six months ago it was estimated that on one typical day of all-out offensive, the European theatre consumed about 336,000 barrels of petroleum.

Critical Oil Supply
It's also estimated that last year Rumania produced 35,000,000 barrels of oil, much of which went to Germany. In other words, Rumania's entire output would last the Allies maybe 100 days if it were high grade oil—which it isn't.

Half a year ago Allied aerial operations over Europe on an active day consumed 2,750,000 gallons of gas. Heaven and the Allied high command alone now know what the vastly increased consumption is. Rumania has supplied about one-third of Germany's requirements for oil. Virtually all the Reich's remaining oil and gas have been made synthetically from coal. The supplies which Hitler stole from occupied countries have been exhausted. The Nazis have made no secret of their crying need for oil. That was one of the chief objectives of Hitler's attempt to reach the Caucasian petroleum fields. It explains in part why he's trying to hang onto Rumania.

Coincidence In Orient
There's small doubt that one reason the Germans haven't been using their air fleet more is shortage of gas. Now then they lose Rumanian oil, which they are bound to do either through bombing or by capture, it will be a truly crippling blow. And it will be a mighty lift for the Allies in the forthcoming invasion which will depend so heavily on air power.

It's a curious and vastly important coincidence that a similar situation is developing in the Orient through Japan's loss of her short-haul oil supply when the Russians forced her to give up the Sakhalin oil leases.

SECRECIES MARKS COURT PROBE

Scranton, Pa., April 7 (AP)—Secrecy cloaks a grand jury investigation into "certain matters" in the jurisdiction of the U. S. Court for the Middle District of Pennsylvania.

Reporters and spectators were expelled from the courtroom yesterday as the investigation opened and Judge William F. Smith, of New Jersey, specially presiding, charged the jury. Veteran court attendants said it was the first time within memory the courtroom had ever been cleared on such an occasion.

An official investigation of the conduct of Judges Albert W. Johnson and Labert L. Watson, who regularly preside in the district, was recently ordered by the House judiciary committee.

Max H. Goldschtein and Boris Kostelanetz, assistants to Attorney General Biddle who remained in the court room, issued the following statement:

"In order that witnesses may not be deterred or embarrassed in this investigation, we are asking the press to cooperate to the extent of not identifying any witness who appears before the grand jury."

Washington, April 7 (AP)—President Roosevelt made public today—with an indirect endorsement—a report from his top economic advisers which declared present wage and price control policies must be continued.

Coming at a time when organized labor is pressing for relaxation of wage controls, the report said the stabilization program has worked so well that "the cost of living as a whole" is actually lower today than it was a year ago and that wages have been stabilized.

"We must not jeopardize these gains by any change of policy or relaxation of effort in the critical months ahead," it said.

Matron's "Gift Eye" Restores Man's Sight

New Orleans, April 7 (AP)—Richard Bienvenu, practically blind all his life, now can see by means of a gift eye donated to him by a stranger, Mrs. E. Johnson of Marrero, La.

The attractive matron, hearing that the 33-year-old broommaker might be able to see through the transplanting of a live cornea to his left eye, donated her right eye in which she lost sight at the age of eight by being accidentally struck by a rock.

The surgeon who performed the delicate operation here lifted Bienvenu's bandage yesterday and found that sight had been restored.

Bienvenu was overjoyed. And so were his wife and their five-year-old son, Richard. Bienvenu, Jr. The three journeyed to Marrero and thanked Mrs. Johnson for the gift.

FREE INITIATIVE IS STRESSED BY ERIC JOHNSTON

Henry M. Scharf, Edmund W. Thomas, Dr. J. Walter Coleman, J. I. Burgoon, Milton R. Tipton and Paul R. Roy attended the evening session of the convention as representatives of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce.

Harrisburg, April 7 (AP)—America's economy must be run from Main street in the post-war world, President Eric A. Johnston of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce believes.

"You can't regiment or dictate lives of 135,000,000 people and maintain freedom of initiative which gives jobs to men and enables us to maintain a free enterprise system," he said last night in an address to the Pennsylvania state Chamber of Commerce's 27th annual convention dinner in the Penn-Harris hotel.

"Our program in the future," Johnston continued, "must be to unleash and unshackle the productive capacities of man and give him a wider horizon and greater opportunity than ever before," but added "our tax laws must be revised to stimulate investment of risk capital to provide jobs for men."

"Defeat Ourselves"
Declaring "there is nothing that can defeat the people of America except ourselves," Johnston said the "surest way of defeating ourselves is to say we are washed up and there are not opportunities left in America."

The one-day session of the Chamber ended with the re-election of Warren C. Bulette, York, as president, and William E. Earnest, Harrisburg, treasurer. H. W. Prentiss, Jr., Lancaster; Edward Hopkinson, Jr., Philadelphia; Harry C. Graham, Pittsburgh; and Otto G. Hitchcock, Erie, were named vice presidents.

24 DIRECT BOMB HITS SCORED ON NAZI'S TIRPITZ

By LEO S. DISHER
Representing
the Combined American Press

Aboard a British Warship, April 6 (Delayed)—The British force which knocked out the German battleship Tirpitz in Norway's Alten fjord on April 3 came home today, passing into its anchorage in file as British sailors cheered it ship by ship.

The home fleet commander, Admiral Sir Bruce Fraser, stood on the quarterdeck of his flagship, waving his cap with the entire ship's company.

Score 24 Hits
Caught by surprise, the previously crippled 41,000-ton battleship was left blazing and wrecked by Baracuda divebombers, which scored at least 24 bomb hits on her.

(Desmond Tighe, a Reuters correspondent with the British striking force, said that American-built Corsairs had done a "magnificent" job among the fighter force which protected the divebombers.)

The first wave of bombers caught the Tirpitz as the ship apparently was just leaving protected anchorage between 3,000-foot hills in the three-quarter mile Kaa fjord at the extreme end of Alten fjord.

When the second wave struck more than an hour later the ship had turned and its stern, now pushed far to the other side of the fjord, was perhaps aground. There was no photographic indication that the Tirpitz's engines were going when the second wave struck.

Early Dawn Attack
British experts believed that the German ship's engines were disabled and her inner works torn by armor piercing bursts from the first wave.

The first striking force of Baracudas, Corsairs, Hellcats and Wildcats took off at 4:30 a. m. in a chilly Arctic dawn with the weather clear and windless. As the striking force disappeared, fighter planes took off and roared protectively around the force which was flung across nearly five miles of sea.

At 6:20 the first of the returning raiders landed on the carrier as deck crews cheered.

"As I was about to bomb a great sheet of flame shot up from the Tirpitz," said Sub-Lieut. David Clarabut, 21.

"Billowing clouds of smoke rose to a considerable height. I dropped my own bomb through the smoke and then the whole kite seemed to lift into the air."

"The Germans were caught with their pants down," said Sub-Lieut. Don Sheppard, Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve from Toronto, the pilot of a Corsair in the first wave which hit the Tirpitz.

The homecoming was a glorious day for the carrier force.

DEMAND ACTION IN ORAL FUED

Washington, April 7 (AP)—Demands for official action came from both principals Thurs. in the verbal duel between Representative Coffee (D., Wash.) and Miss Vivien Kellems, Williamsport, Connecticut, war plant executive who was accused by Coffee of having corresponded with a "Nazi agent" in Argentina and making "seditious" speeches.

Miss Kellems declared in an interview here that her personal mail had been tampered with, that Coffee must know who was responsible, and implied that as a "woman of action" she would press for prosecutions.

Commenting on her statement, during which she accused Coffee of uttering "lies" and called him a "sneaking coward" who "ought to be in prison," the Democratic legislator said:

"I reiterate x x x there should be an inquiry by the appropriate authorities, on the basis of the statement I made to the House."

He referred to a speech in which he said Miss Kellems had publicly urged business men to refuse to pay income taxes, and had carried off a correspondence with Count Frederik von Zedlitz, whom he described as a "Nazi fifth column spy."

Calling on the justice department to "put an end to this incredible conspiracy," Coffee at that time said Miss Kellems had been in "close touch" with Von Zedlitz for over two years, "discussing with him her political thoughts and personal affairs."

WILL KIE HOME AFTER LOST BID

New York, April 7 (AP)—Cheerful but non-committal on his political future, Wendell Willkie came home today from a campaign tour on which he staked and lost his bid for the Republican presidential nomination.

As he stepped from his train at 8:15 a. m. into the rush hour crowd of Grand Central station, Willkie declined to add anything to the statement he made in Omaha in which he said he was withdrawing his candidacy because "it is obvious I cannot be nominated."

To all questions asked by newsmen as to whether he would support the candidate of the Republican national convention and, specifically, whether he would support Governor Thomas E. Dewey should he be the nominee, Willkie merely smiled.

"I made my statement in Omaha," he said. "It was completely comprehensive and I don't want to add to it."

Willkie said his national campaign headquarters here, a dozen rooms on the second floor of the Grand central terminal building which were opened while he toured Wisconsin and which he has never visited, would be closed immediately. Asked if he planned any out-of-state trips, he said he intended to devote his time to his law practice here and added: "This is where I live, you know."

DIMAGGIO ENDS HOLDOUT SIEGE; JOINS PIRATES

New York, April 7 (AP)—Natural-ly it may have been just one of those things, such as a golfer making a hole-in-one his first time on a course, but critics are liable to see some significance in the fact Vince DiMaggio got two hits and behaved himself flawlessly in the field yesterday, the first day he has been with the Pittsburgh Pirates this spring.

The critics may see this as an indictment of northern training, as, haircut and shave, DiMaggio was able to do quite as well as his teammates, who have been enjoying the rigors of northern training for a month, more or less.

DiMaggio came to terms just a few minutes before the Bucs went on the field to drop a 6-to-3 decision to the Cleveland Indians. Came to the club's terms, Club Prexy William Benswanger insisted. He and DiMaggio had been haggling over salary for some time, and the two spent most of Monday night arguing without reaching a decision.

The signing of the veteran outfielder completes the Buc squad, as he was the lone remaining holdout. NAVY MEN AID CHICAGO SQUAD

Chicago, April 7 (AP)—A winning athletic team at the University of Chicago? Could be. And, with thanks to the Navy, the Maroons' 1944 baseball team might bring a change to the dreary sports picture out at the midway.

Chicago hasn't won a Big Ten conference basketball game in four years, has won only two of 19 baseball contests in the last two years, and generally has finished at the bottom of the pile in other sports events.

A few weeks ago the 1944 baseball prospects for the Maroons didn't brighten the outlook. Ten candidates answered Coach Kyle Anderson's call for baseball practice—youngsters in their late teens with a couple of veterans from last year's squad.

Season Opens Today
But as the Maroons opened their conference season today at Iowa City against the University of Iowa Anderson had a squad of 16—the best looking prospects from his squad of 40.

The increase of the original squad of 10 by men stationed in the Navy unit training on the campus not only saved the sport for the Maroons this season but probably gave them a chance to field the best team in several seasons.

Iowa's 1943 conference record was six wins and four losses as compared to seven defeats for the Maroons.

Man Alone Can't Run 4-Minute Mile Gil Dodds Declares

Erie, Pa., April 7 (AP)—The holder of the world indoor mile record, Gil Dodds, maintains "man alone doesn't have what it takes to run the four-minute mile." But the Boston divinity student adds, "with God's aid, nothing becomes impossible."

The cinderpath star spoke before YMCA and church youth groups here last night, asserting: "It will take a power greater than that of man to accomplish the four-minute mile, but if God is willing of course, we'll see it."

Asked if he himself would attempt the four-minute mile—a long-sought goal in trackdom—when he belatedly begins the outdoor season at the end of May, Dodds replied: "We can always try."

His ankle sprain, suffered at Cleveland March 24, is not responding to treatment, he said, and will force him to forego the Penn relays at Philadelphia April 29.

Buffalo Tightens Grip On Hockey Cup

Buffalo, N. Y., April 7 (AP)—The Buffalo Bisons, who strengthened their hold on the American Hockey League Calder Cup last night by overwhelming the Cleveland Barons 12-2 before 10,156 fans, travel today to Cleveland to meet the Barons tomorrow night in the third game of the play-off series.

The Bisons, last year's league champions, hope to score their third straight win, to return for the final game of the four of seven series on their home ice Sunday night.

The Buffalo team last night broke the league playoff scoring record and the Memorial Auditorium record by virtue of their third period scoring spree. Outskating their rivals, Eldy Kobussen, Morey Rimstad, Roger Leger, Fred Thurmer, Larry Thibault, Walter Atanas and Fred Hunt drove past Cleveland goalie Paul Gauthier in quick succession. Atanas, Thibault, Max Kaminsky and Thurmer each were responsible for two goals during the game.

KILLED IN EXPLOSION

Johnstown, Pa., April 7 (AP)—William O. Lehman, 38, was fatally injured when an explosion of chemicals partially wrecked the Plastic Metals Company here yesterday. Deputy Coroner Joseph Govekar reported Lehman, a foreman, had been mixing the chemicals preparatory to their being placed in fuses when the blast occurred. He died at Memorial hospital.

HERSHEY HINTS AT DRAFTING OF MEN AFTER WAR

Washington, April 7 (AP)—Draft Director Lewis B. Hershey declares that only with the backing of military strength will the voice of the United States be heard at the peace table.

Coincident with the announcement that the Army today is at its planned maximum strength of 7,700,000, Gen. Hershey indicated that huge monthly quotas of men will be poured into the draft mill almost indefinitely and that demobilization must be slow.

He said that 150,000 men a month—"a very conservative estimate"—would be required merely to maintain the Army and Navy at full strength in war time and he hinted that many inductions might be required even after the war is won.

Force Is Ultimate Court

If his estimates are right, Hershey said in a speech reviewed and approved by the state department, we must be prepared to produce at least 150,000 men a month "until such time as the international picture indicates that this nation can support its vital national interests with a smaller number."

"To maintain the results for which we have fought," he said, "depends to a very large degree upon the evidences we possess that we are prepared to back with force our recommendations. Many of us, probably most of us, regret that force is the ultimate court of appeal. Certainly America, with possessions unusual in this world, can not afford to shut her eyes to the fact that this world leaves to a na-clinic. His discussion on the T plays will feature the clinic program's final session April 15.

Hollywood, Calif.—Charley Burley, 153½, Pittsburgh, knocked out Jack Chase, 160, Denver (9) (California middleweight title retained).

SPORT SHORTS

Mexico City, April 7 (AP)—With or without "the Rajah" the Vera Cruz baseball team wins. Playing without Rogers Hornsby, who resigned as manager this week and returned to Fort Worth, Tex., the team led by the crack Cuban battery of Ramon Braganza and Chico Hernandez, took a 3-2 decision over Tampico in 11 innings yesterday.

Lafayette, Ind., April 7 (AP) Coaches attending Purdue university's annual football clinic next week-end will get a detailed report on the principles of the T formation from an expert.

Clark Shaughnessy, head grid coach at the University of Pittsburgh and a noted exponent of the T formation, has been added to the staff of instructors for the grid

Bomber Pilot Has Escaped From Nazis

Philadelphia, April 7 (AP)—Lieut. Charles W. Walters, bomber pilot and an end on Temple university's 1937-39 football teams, has escaped to Allied territory after having been shot down over Germany, he said in a letter to Earl R. Yeomans, Temple graduate manager of athletics.

Walters had been reported missing in action January 7.

Just before his bomber exploded, he wrote, he managed to bail out. He landed in a sparsely populated section and, walking by night, made his way to territory held by American forces, crossing a mountain tion only those things for which it is not only willing to fight, but for which it is constantly prepared to fight.

Must Be Backed By Strength
"Our voice in the establishment of peace will be heard only as it is backed by military strength."

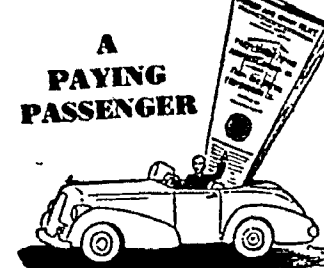

"Then we have a principle to recognize in demobilization—the principle that our reduction in forces will be made as it can be without losing a peace after winning a war."

"Adherence to this principle will mean that we evolve a permanent system for our armed forces that will provide at all times adequate military strength sufficient to insure the maintenance of our national interests."

Will Close Dozen Pa. Liquor Stores

Harrisburg, April 7 (AP)—A number of state liquor stores, principally in metropolitan areas, will be closed permanently in the next few months by the Liquor Control Board due to the scarcity of merchandise and a desire to economize, board member W. Seagrist Stuart disclosed today.

range on the way, the letter said.

Walters formerly taught at Union high school, Union, N. J. His wife is a teacher in Norristown, Pa. high school.

Plans to close a Pittsburgh store before April 30 were announced by the board yesterday and Stuart said present plans call for the closing of "at least a dozen more" in the state as existing leases run out.

A survey of present business at the board's 579 stores has been made by district store supervisors, Stuart explained, and those where business has fallen off due to current shifts in population will be the first to be closed. He said he could not say immediately where these stores were located.

Safety pins were first devised by Walter Hunt in 1849.

DIMAGGIO ENDS HOLDOUT SIEGE; JOINS PIRATES

New York, April 7 (AP)—Natural-ly it may have been just one of those things, such as a golfer making a hole-in-one his first time on a course, but critics are liable to see some significance in the fact Vince DiMaggio got two hits and behaved himself flawlessly in the field yesterday, the first day he has been with the Pittsburgh Pirates this spring.

The critics may see this as an indictment of northern training, as, haircut and shave, DiMaggio was able to do quite as well as his teammates, who have been enjoying the rigors of northern training for a month, more or less.

DiMaggio came to terms just a few minutes before the Bucs went on the field to drop a 6-to-3 decision to the Cleveland Indians. Came to the club's terms, Club Prexy William Benswanger insisted. He and DiMaggio have been haggling over salary for some time, and the two spent most of Monday night arguing without reaching a decision.

Deputy Coroner Joseph Govekar reported Lehman, a foreman, had been mixing the chemicals preparatory to their being placed in fuses when the blast occurred. He died at Memorial hospital.

HERSHEY HINTS AT DRAFTING OF MEN AFTER WAR

Washington, April 7 (AP)—Draft Director Lewis B. Hershey declares that only with the backing of military strength will the voice of the United States be heard at the peace table.

Coincident with the announcement that the Army today is at its planned maximum strength of 7,700,000, Gen. Hershey indicated that huge monthly quotas of men will be poured into the draft mill almost indefinitely and that demobilization must be slow.

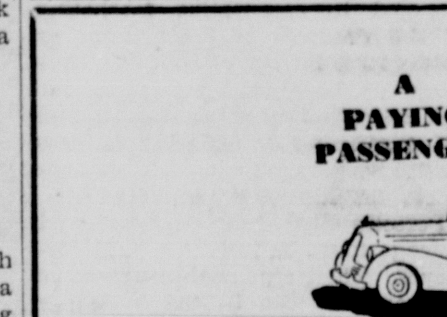

He said that 150,000 men a month—"a very conservative estimate"—would be required merely to maintain the Army and Navy at full strength in war time and he hinted that many inductions might be required even after the war is won.

Force Is Ultimate Court

If his estimates are right, Hershey said in a speech reviewed and approved by the state department, we must be prepared to produce at least 150,000 men a month "until such time as the international picture indicates that this nation can support its vital national interests with a smaller number."

"To maintain the results for which we have fought," he said, "depends to a very large degree upon the evidences we possess that we are prepared to back with force our recommendations. Many of us, probably most of us, regret that force is the ultimate court of appeal. Certainly America, with possessions unusual in this world, can not afford to shut her eyes to the fact that this world leaves to a nation."

His discussion on the T plays will feature the clinic program's final session April 15.

Bomber Pilot Has Escaped From Nazis

Philadelphia, April 7 (AP)—Lieut. Charles W. Walters, bomber pilot and an end on Temple university's 1937-38 football teams, has escaped to Allied territory after having been shot down over Germany, he said in a letter to Earl R. Yeomans, Temple graduate manager of athletics.

Walters had been reported missing in action January 7.

Just before his bomber exploded, he wrote, he managed to bail out. He landed in a sparsely populated section and, walking by night, made his way to territory held by American forces, crossing a mountain

Must Be Backed By Strength

"Our voice in the establishment of peace will be heard only as it is backed by military strength."

"Then we have a principle to recognize in demobilization—the principle that our reduction in forces will be made as it can be without losing a peace after winning a war."

"Adherence to this principle will mean that we evolve a permanent system for our armed forces that will provide at all times adequate military strength sufficient to insure the maintenance of our national interests."

Baltimore St.

Will Close Dozen Pa. Liquor Stores

Harrisburg, April 7 (AP)—A number of state liquor stores, principally in metropolitan areas, will be closed permanently in the next few months by the Liquor Control Board due to the scarcity of merchandise and a desire to economize, board member W. Searight Stuart disclosed today.

range on the way, the letter said.

Walters formerly taught at Union high school, Union, N. J. His wife is a teacher in Norristown, Pa., high school.

Plans to close a Pittsburgh store before April 30 were announced by the board yesterday and Stuart said present plans call for the closing of "at least a dozen more" in the state as existing leases run out.

A survey of present business at the board's 579 stores has been made by district store supervisors, Stuart explained, and those where business has fallen off due to current shifts in population will be the first to be closed. He said he could not say immediately where these stores were located.

Safety pins were first devised by Walter Hunt in 1849.

An Evening Thought
Sometimes words followed by deeds bespeak of the simple grandeur of man.—H. E. Burroughs.

Just Folks
GOOD FRIDAY

For stirring up the people round
To lift their eyes above the ground;
For telling them if but they would
They could establish brotherhood.
They went to Pilate and they cried:
"Condemn Him to be crucified!"

"He stirs the people up!" they vowed,
"Exalts the humble; scorns the proud!
Tells of a kingdom greater far Than Egypt, Rome and Judah are!
Boasts: 'Wreck the temple!' Three days more
He will rebuild it as before."

He stirs the people up! They walk
In crowds for miles to hear Him talk.
He teaches there is juster right
Than Roman law and Roman grim.
Says: Death will lose its terrors grim
For all who'll dare to follow him.

If He should come to earth again
Today it would be much as then.
Some little Pilate, fearing loss,
Again would send Him to the cross,
Saying: as down he sat to sup:
"Because He stirred the people up!"

Today's Talk
SO MANY THINGS

A nation at work is a Nation that thrives, but so long as it attends to its own affairs it gets criticism, and there are those other Nations that envy her—and often seek to destroy her. This is unfortunate, but history proves the correctness of the statement.

It's the same with the individual. The busy, useful man, devoted to his work and enthusiastic over constant discovery of new ideas that evolve as he works, does not worry over trivial things. His very occupation is a closed door to such. He so many things at his elbow, and cooking in his brain, that he exists in life itself!

There are more things to be done in this world than there are people to do them. It has ever been so, and it always will be so—for there are those who seem to delight in tearing things down, in discouraging the acts of the thoughtful, and in finding fault with those who accomplish what they would like to do, but who themselves refuse to do.

The late George Horace Lorimer, who was the great editor of The Saturday Evening Post, devoted years to the collecting of rare glassware, oriental Lowestoft porcelain, and early American glass, as well as many other choice and beautiful things. He was probably one of the busiest editors in the world. I once heard that he read every word in his magazine before it went to press. He had so many things to do—yet he took the time to do many other things!

Life is interesting to one only as he, or she, is interested in life. There is plenty to life—so much more than any of us realize. Fabre devoted a lifetime to the study of insect life—and he only scratched the surface of knowledge to be learned from its world. No matter how long any of use live, at the end we remain quite ignorant. So many things we never learn.

This fact should inspire us, and give to us great incentive to learn, to find out, and to make of our lives happy mediums by which others may be enabled to take up and carry on from where we leave off.

One of man's great sins is his neglect, his utter indifference to beauty, to knowledge, and to the vast world that only awaits his will and desire to go and discover!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Solitary Folks"

DEWEY REFUSES TO COMMENT ON CAMPAIGN PLAN

Albany, N. Y., April 7 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey stuck diligently to his state duties today after indicating strongly that he will not be stamped into a declaration that he wants or will accept the Republican nomination for President.

In his first press conference since Wendell L. Willkie's withdrawal from the Presidential race, Dewey stood adamantly last night upon his previous statements that he is "not a candidate" for the nomination.

The 42-year-old New York governor declined to comment upon Willkie's withdrawal, announced Tuesday night after the Wisconsin primary election in which Dewey won 15 to 18 of 24 delegates elected to the Republican National convention and Willkie got none.

"No Comment"

The results increased Dewey's already long lead over other possible nominees in delegates pledged or claimed and whipped up widespread sentiment for a declaration of his candidacy. Friends of the governor believe he will accept the nomination, if the convention offers it.

But the governor, announcing that he was not going to comment "on any political question," told reporters:

"I am wholly engaged in attempting to dispose, in a 30-day period, of the 900 bills left by the legislature."

Then he listened smilingly as a reporter asked:

"In view of Mr. Willkie's withdrawal from the race and your own long lead for the nomination, will you become an avowed candidate?"

To Speak At Hershey

The governor repeated his "no comment" but amplified it quickly with the assertion that "I have discussed that subject so many times, my position on it is entirely clear."

Dewey has declared repeatedly that he is "not a candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination" but has remained silent on whether he would accept a draft nomination. Some of his backers intimate he may maintain that silence until the national convention in June.

The governor said he has "no plans" to make any speeches outside the state, aside from his scheduled appearance late in May before the Governors' conference at Hershey, Pa. He will speak, April 27, at the meeting of the American Newspaper Publishers association in New York city.

Flashes Of Life

UNLUCKY FIND
New York (AP)—A depositor found $500 on the floor of a bank, returned it to the owner and received a $50 reward.

He figured a celebration was in order.

The festivities were barely over when he found himself in jail—charged with assault, dangerous driving, driving while intoxicated and passing a red light.

And there was nothing left of the $50.

QUICK FIT
Philadelphia (AP)—Eight prospective brides had a fast fitting at a dress shop yesterday.

The girls were trying on their bridal gowns when smoke began pouring into the shop from a fire in the basement.

By the time firemen arrived the young women had changed into street clothes and fled to safety.

TRADITION-BUSTERS
Jamestown, N. Y. (AP)—Jamestown firemen have made a new kind of cat rescue. Instead of the usual ladders against a tree, they piled a booster line down a storm sewer.

The cat, which had fallen in one manhole, was snatched out by a fireman as the water from the hose swept it down to the next one.

FORGOT TO REMEMBER
Los Angeles (AP)—Earlene Bon-ton stepped off a streetcar and found she had left her purse on it.

She signalled a motorist who gave her a lift and overtook the car.

She retrieved her purse, then remembered:

To Remedy Sewage Disposal At Camp
Washington, April 7 (AP)—Army engineers are taking steps to correct a problem created by the disposal of sewage from Camp Ritchie, Md., which has affected the water supply of Rouseville, Franklin county.

George Manning, secretary for Rep. Gross (R-Pa.), today said Maj. Gen. Thomas M. Robins, acting chief of engineers, informed Gross that the engineers office "is initiating action to remedy the situation" but gave no details of the Army's plans.

R. H. Genser, general manager of the Rouseville water company, Waynesboro, had complained to Gross that although the camp's sewage was treated before being emptied into Falls creek, source of the company's water, the company found it difficult to eliminate certain tastes and odors.

Special Gas For Food Supply Workers

Representatives of farm organizations operating to increase the production of food are placed in OPA's "essential" classification and made eligible for preferred mileage under gasoline rationing in an action announced today by the Harrisburg district Office of Price Administration.

This means that after April 11, the travel of these representatives which was previously subject to the "B" ceilings, will be limited only by the mileage they need to carry out the purposes of their organizations. These purposes are listed as: (1) assisting farmers in increasing their production of food; (2) organizing or assisting farmers' cooperatives engaged in cooperative marketing of the products of their farms or cooperative buying of supplies, livestock or equipment necessary for the operation of their farms, and (3) organizing or assisting farmers in the cooperative use of farm livestock, machinery or equipment.

Persons eligible for this preferred mileage must be full-time paid employees. Their organizations must be chartered by the United States or by a state, and must have a membership of at least 100 persons the majority of whom are farmers.

FARMERS STUDY LABOR PROBLEM

Harrisburg, April 7 (AP)—Farmers, representing every specialized field of agriculture in Pennsylvania, gathered here today to aid the state War Board of the U. S. Department of Agriculture work out a new statewide yardstick for determining farm deferments for agricultural workers of draft age.

Clyde A. Zehner, chairman of the board, said the federal agency will seek farmers' views on how to end the present uncertainty among agriculturalists concerning deferments.

National Selective Service headquarters and the War Food Administration recently scrapped the unit system under which 16 units of food production were required by farmers to be eligible for deferment. Local draft boards received the job of deciding who should be detained on farms.

Zehner said "the state War Board is seeking to establish a uniform system of determining farm deferments for use by county War Boards when they are called on for assistance by local draft boards in deciding whether individual farm registrants of military age are essential or not."

Gasoline Goes Up In Smoke

Washington, April 7 (AP)—The War Labor Board has given no consideration to the pending soft coal wage agreement and will not do so until a further report is made by the presidential commission assigned to investigate miners' underground travel time, reported William H. Davis, chairman of the WLB.

Under the direction of Morris Llewellyn Cooke, the commission has made a partial report covering about two-thirds of the bituminous tonnage.

In a statement yesterday Davis said he had been told by Cooke that the commission head expects to send a supplemental report to the President in the near future.

A new all-brass band has taken the traditional circus "umpahum-pah" out of the music. Otherwise the same old ingredients are there that constitute "the greatest show on earth."

GREATEST SHOW OPENS SEASON

New York, April 7 (AP)—The circus's stock in trade—the clown—came into his own Wednesday at Madison Square Garden where the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey show had its 1944 opening.

Emmett Kelly, as a mournful-faced rag bag, is the first clown since the fabulous Dan Rice of nineteenth century fame, to achieve the peak circus stardom. The opening spectacle features him as "Panto."

"Panto's Paradise" is the theme of this year's "greatest show on earth." Panto, asleep in the ring, dreams the $250,000 professional "spec," complete from midguts to elephants, awakens in time to ride out on the last float and be available in the ring for future shenanigans.

Wednesday's performance drew $-3, 000,000 from 14,212 war bond buyers, the exclusive audience. They got an unexpected thrill when two trapeze artists failed to connect in mid-air, but fortunately the act—the only one to do so—used a net

COOPERATION OF ALLIED EFFORT SEEN IN BALKANS

By WES GALLAGHER
London, April 7 (AP)—Military cooperation between the western Allies and Russia, which often has left much to be desired in this war, has taken a sudden turn for the better with American bombers coordinating closely with Red Army ground forces in the conquest of the Balkans.

This week's allied raids on Rumania—Bucharest and Ploesti—may well have been carried out with the knowledge and consent of the soviet arms. (49 words censored here).

The hard necessities of war are bringing about this teamwork where continuous diplomatic and military missions' attempts have failed.

Now as the Russians drive into the Balkans it is imperative that the Allied air effort be coordinated with the Red Army advances to avoid conflict in bombing targets—as well as the possibility of bombing advance units of Soviet troops.

Cooperative Effort

If Russian and the American planes should elect to bomb the same target at the same time without liaison the result would be an air melee with a good chance the two forces would mistake each other for the enemy and engage in battle.

The Russians have had military missions in London and in the Mediterranean for some time.

Close cooperation is becoming increasingly important. While ground forces are not likely to be fighting in the same area for many months, the Red Army blows must be coordinated with the western front effort to obtain the maximum military efficiency.

The operations of the air forces already overlap in Rumania.

Writing last night from Naples, Associated Press war correspondent Daniel De Luce said that as yet there was no information whether Allied bombers might undertake shuttle operations between Italy and Soviet-held territory.

The necessity for any such arrangement, he said, appears doubtful since all Nazi targets in the Balkans already can be hit by bombers based in Italy.

He teaches there is juster right
Than Roman law and Roman grim
Says: Death will lose its terrors grim
For all who'll dare to follow him.

If He should come to earth again
Today it would be much as then.
Some little Pilate, fearing loss,
Again would send Him to the cross,
Saying as down he sat to sup:
"Because He stirred the people up!"

Today's Talk
SO MANY THINGS

A nation at work is a Nation that thrives, but so long as it attends to its own affairs it gets criticism, and there are those other Nations that envy her—and often seek to destroy her. This is unfortunate, but history proves the correctness of the statement.

It's the same with the individual. The busy, useful man, devoted to his work and enthusiastic over constant discovery of new ideas that evolve as he works, does not worry over trivial things. His very occupation is a closed door to such. He so many things at his elbow, and cooking in his brain, that he exults in life itself!

There are more things to be done in this world than there are people to do them. It has ever been so, and it always will be so—for there are those who seem to delight in tearing things down, in discouraging the acts of the thoughtful, and in finding fault with those who accomplish what they would like to do, but who themselves refuse to do.

The late George Horace Lorimer, who was the great editor of The Saturday Evening Post, devoted years to the collecting of rare glassware, oriental Lowestoft porcelain, and early American glass, as well as many other choice and beautiful things. He was probably one of the busiest editors in the world. I once heard that he read every word in his magazine before it went to press. He had so many things to do—yet he took the time to do many other things!

Life is interesting to one only as he, or she, is interested in life. There is plenty to life—so much more than any of us realize. Fabre devoted a lifetime to the study of insect life—and he only scratched the surface of knowledge to be learned from its world. No matter how long any of use live, at the end we remain quite ignorant. So many things we never learn.

This fact should inspire us, and give to us great incentive to learn, to find out, and to make of our lives happy mediums by which others may be enabled to take up and carry on from where we leave off.

One of man's great sins is his neglect, his utter indifference to beauty, to knowledge, and to the vast world that only awaits his will and desire to go adiscovering!
Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Solitary Folks."

DEWEY REFUSES TO COMMENT ON CAMPAIGN PLAN

Albany, N. Y., April 7 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey stuck diligently to his state duties today after indicating strongly that he will not be stampeded into a declaration that he wants or will accept the Republican nomination for President.

In his first press conference since Wendell L. Willkie's withdrawal from the Presidential race, Dewey stood adamantly last night upon his previous statements that he is "not a candidate" for the nomination.

The 42-year-old New York governor declined to comment upon Willkie's withdrawal, announced Tuesday night after the Wisconsin primary election in which Dewey won 15 of 18 of 24 delegates elected to the Republican National convention and Willkie got none.

"No Comment"
The results increased Dewey's already long lead over other possible nominees in delegates pledged or claimed and whipped up widespread sentiment for a declaration of his candidacy. Friends of the governor believe he will accept the nomination, if the convention offers it.

But the governor, announcing that he was not going to comment "on any political question," told reporters: "I am wholly engaged in attempting to dispose, in a 30-day period, of the 900 bills left by the legislature."

Then he listened smilingly as a reporter asked: "In view of Mr. Willkie's withdrawal from the race and your own long lead for the nomination, will you become an avowed candidate?"

To Speak At Hershey
The governor repeated his "no comment" but amplified it quickly with the assertion that "I have discussed that subject so many times, my position on it is entirely clear."

Dewey has declared repeatedly that he is "not a candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination" but has remained silent on whether he would accept a draft nomination. Some of his backers intimate he may maintain that silence until the national convention in June.

The governor said he has "no plans" to make any speeches outside the state, aside from his scheduled appearance late in May before the Governors' conference at Hershey, Pa. He will speak, April 27, at the meeting of the American Newspaper Publishers association in New York city.

Flashes Of Life

UNLUCKY FIND
New York (AP)—A depositor found $500 on the floor of a bank, returned it to the owner and received a $50 reward.

He figured a celebration was in order. The festivities were barely over when he found himself in jail—charged with assault, dangerous driving, driving while intoxicated and passing a red light.

And there was nothing left of the $50.

QUICK FIT
Philadelphia (AP)—Eight prospective brides had a fast fitting at a dress shop yesterday.

The girls were trying on their bridal gowns when smoke began pouring into the shop from a fire in the basement.

By the time firemen arrived the young women had changed into street clothes and fled to safety.

TRADITION-BUSTERS
Jamestown, N. Y. (AP)—Jamestown firemen have made a new kind of cat rescue. Instead of the usual ladders against a tree, they piled a booster line down a storm sewer.

The cat, which had fallen in one manhole, was snatched out by a fireman as the water from the hose swept it down to the next one.

FORGOT TO REMEMBER
Los Angeles (AP)—Earlean Bon-ton stepped off a streetcar and found she had left her purse on it.

She signalled a motorist who gave her a lift and overtook the car.

To Remedy Sewage Disposal At Camp

Washington, April 7 (AP)—Army engineers are taking steps to correct a problem created by the disposal of sewage from Camp Ritchie, Md., which has affected the water supply of Rouseville, Franklin county.

George Manning, secretary for Rep. Gross (R-Pa.), today said Maj. Gen. Thomas M. Robins, acting chief of engineers, informed Gross that the engineers office "is initiating action to remedy the situation" but gave no details of the Army's plans.

R. H. Geiser, general manager of the Rouseville water company, Waynesboro, had complained to Gross that although the camp's sewage was treated before being emptied into Falls creek, source of the company's water, the company found it difficult to eliminate certain tastes and odors.

Gasoline Goes Up In Smoke

Here are some of the 14 tank cars loaded with gasoline and oil which exploded and burned following derailment of a Big Four railroad train near Springfield, Ohio, in which 29 of the train's 75 cars left the rails. (AP Wirephoto.)

Special Gas For Food Supply Workers

Representatives of farm organizations operating to increase the production of food are placed in OPA's "essential" classification and made eligible for preferred mileage under gasoline rationing in an action announced today by the Harrisburg district Office of Price Administration.

This means that after April 11, the travel of these representatives which was previously subject to the "B" ceilings, will be limited only by the mileage they need to carry out the purposes of their organizations. These purposes are listed as: (1) assisting farmers in increasing their production of food; (2) organizing or assisting farmers' cooperatives engaged in cooperative marketing of the products of their farms or cooperative buying of supplies, livestock or equipment necessary for the operation of their farms, and (3) organizing or assisting farmers in the cooperative use of farm livestock, machinery or equipment.

Persons eligible for this preferred mileage must be full-time paid employees. Their organizations must be chartered by the United States or by a state, and must have a membership of at least 100 persons the majority of whom are farmers.

GREATEST SHOW OPENS SEASON

New York, April 7 (AP)—The circus's stock in trade—the clown—came into his own Wednesday at Madison Square Garden where the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey show had its 1944 opening.

Emmett Kelly, as a mournful-faced rag bag, is the first clown since the fabulous Dan Rice of nineteenth century fame, to achieve the peak circus stardom. The opening spectacle features him as "Panto."

"Panto's Paradise" is the theme of this year's "greatest show on earth." Panto, asleep in the ring, dreams the $250,000 professional "spec," complete from midgits to elephants, awakens in time to ride out on the last float and be available in the ring for future shenanigans.

Wednesday's performance drew $-3, 000,000 from 14,212 war bond buyers, the exclusive audience. They got an unexpected thrill when two trapeze artists failed to connect in mid-air, but fortunately the act—the only one to do so—used a net

Await Report Of FDR's Commission

Washington, April 7 (AP)—The War Labor Board has given no consideration to the pending soft coal wage agreement and will not do so until a further report is made by the presidential commission assigned to investigate miners' underground travel time, reported William H. Davis, chairman of the WLB.

Under the direction of Morris Llewellyn Cooke, the commission has made a partial report covering about two-thirds of the bituminous tonnage.

In a statement yesterday Davis said he had been told by Cooke that the commission head expects to send a supplemental report to the President in the near future.

A shortage in manpower was evident as women far outnumbered male performers and the bulk of manpower appeared in the husky pro-changing crews.

A new all-brass band has taken the traditional circus "umpahum-pah" out of the music. Otherwise the same old ingredients are there that constitute "the greatest show on earth."

COOPERATION OF ALLIED EFFORT SEEN IN BALKANS

By WES GALLAGHER
London, April 7 (AP)—Military cooperation between the western Allies and Russia, which often has left much to be desired in this war, has taken a sudden turn for the better with American bombers coordinating closely with Red Army ground forces in the conquest of the Balkans.

This week's allied raids on Rumania—Bucharest and Ploesti—may well have been carried out with the knowledge and consent of the Soviet arms. (49 words censored here).

The hard necessities of war are bringing about this teamwork where continuous diplomatic and military missions' attempts have failed.

Now as the Russians drive into the Balkans it is imperative that the Allied air effort be coordinated with the Red Army advances to avoid conflict in bombing targets—as well as the possibility of bombing advance units of Soviet troops.

Cooperative Effort
If Russian and the American planes should elect to bomb the same target at the same time without liaison the result would be an air melee with a good chance the two forces would mistake each other for the enemy and engage in battle.

The Russians have had military missions in London and in the Mediterranean for some time.

Close cooperation is becoming increasingly important. While ground forces are not likely to be fighting in the same area for many months, the Red Army blows must be coordinated with the western front effort to obtain the maximum military efficiency.

The operations of the air forces already overlap in Rumania. Writing last night from Naples, Associated Press war correspondent Daniel De Luce said that as yet there was no information whether Allied bombers might undertake shuttle operations between Italy and Soviet-held territory.

The necessity for any such arrangement, he said, appears doubtful since all Nazi targets in the Balkans already can be hit by bombers based in Italy.

NEW PAY RATE
Philadelphia, April 7 (AP)—

Guards at the Paragon Manufacturing company's plant at Derry (Westmoreland county) have been awarded a new starting rate of 70 cents an hour by the regional War Labor Board.

The dahlia was discovered in Mexico by Cervantes in 1784.

SEE BIG SWING TOWARD DEWEY

Washington, April 7 (AP)—The difficult road that lies ahead for any darkhorse hopefuls was impressed on Republicans today as a result of Wendell L. Willkie's retirement from the race for the party's presidential nomination.

With Willkie out of the running, a swing appeared underway for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York. Definite indications developed that Dewey would collect a major share of the support which Willkie renounced after his defeat in Tuesday's Wisconsin primary.

Among these was the prediction of Senator Danaher (R-Conn) that most of Connecticut's 16 uninstructed delegates, to be selected next week, would favor Dewey. Willkie's greatest preconception strength was in New England and it is there that other candidates would have to make inroads if they hoped to transfer his support to themselves.

There were some Republicans who had envisioned the possibility that Dewey and Willkie would present almost equal strength on the first ballot. Any such result, they said, might lead to one of those conventional deadlocks from which darkhorses spring galloping.

This was the frankly expressed hope of Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), who has been saying that the Republicans ought to nominate Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

SAYS STRIKES IN WAR TIME UNJUSTIFIED

London, April 7 (AP)—Fuel Minister Gwilym Lloyd George told the House of Commons Thursday that "strike action in time of war cannot be justified" and simultaneous government moves indicated Britain was fashioning "a big stick" to end widespread stoppages in the mining and ship-building industries.

As the U. S. Army lent a hand to speed mining operations in the Northumberland coal fields, Lloyd George declared that the coal crisis is the worst since 1926 and declared the "government cannot stand aside and allow collective bargaining or the machinery of conciliation and arbitration in this vital industry to be weakened or destroyed."

He did not disclose by what means this was to be prevented, but Labor Minister Ernest Bevin has been authorized by the cabinet to deal with outlaw strike inciters under the wartime defense of the Realm act and the government announced it was considering what special powers were necessary to stamp out outlaw walkouts.

American Army authorities sent two huge mechanical excavators to one Northumberland pit and they were put to work at once strip-mining with approval of the Fuel Ministry.

Lloyd George announced that 60 per cent of the Yorkshire pits now were operating, but said that the strike already has cost 1,000,000 tons of coal, has resulted in heavy inroads into dwindling reserves, and has stopped coal export to neutral countries.

Announcement
from W. Earl Gulden, Aspers

I have sold my property and business as of April 10th to Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Kime, a native of Adams county and wish to express my sincere appreciation to the many friends and patrons for their patronage and friendship during the past two years.

I will be inducted in the Armed Forces in the near future and will appreciate the same consideration toward my successor who will conduct the same lines of goods, paints, hardware and notions that I have served the people of this community.

I am planning to move my family in the near future to Cumberland County and both Mrs. Gulden and myself again thank each and every one.

W. EARL GULDEN,
Gulden's Self Service Store,
Aspers, Pa.

For the purpose of completing inventory, store will be closed on Monday, April 10th.

Will Aid Truckers In Draft Deferments

Special representatives have been appointed in the 48 state capitals to assist state directors of Selective Service in handling any deferment of essential transportation workers under 26 years of age that may be authorized in Washington, Brig. Gen. C. D. Young, acting director of the Office of Defense Transportation, announced today.

The special representatives appointed in this region include: Elwood J. Gardner, Blackstone building, Harrisburg.

In announcing the appointment of the special representatives, General Young made it clear that no decision yet has been made as to the number or kinds of transportation workers under 26 who will be kept in their present jobs in order to avoid any possible loss of war transportation service.

Red Skelton Will
Wed Screen Actors

Los Angeles, April 7 (AP)— Comedian Richard Red Skelton, has his quip for almost every occasion, but when he walked into the marriage license bureau with Muriel Chase, blond film actress, the gag was on him.

He didn't have the required health certificates.

But Skelton and Miss Chase, daughter of the late Charles E.
Bredenhorn, Evansville, Ind., casket manufacturer, filled out their applications yesterday, each giving the age as 30. They were told to return with the certificates before the license would be issued.

"Why, I'm in A-1 condition, or at least I-A," was the immediate Skelton reaction. He explained that he recently passed his Army physical examination.

The comedian told newsmen that he and Miss Chase would obtain the health certificates, required by California law, today and would be married in a day or two.

Sleep researchers claim that only 16 per cent of the world's people know how to relax completely.

The number of work days lost through strikes has increased sharply and steadily since 1940. Last year was the second worst year for strikes in Britain's history. With more than 1,000,000 work days lost, walkouts during March, 1944, alone
cost more production than the whole year of 1941.

The 200 strikes of September, 1943 —up to then the worst month of the war—involved only 90,000 men.
More than that were idle in a single strike this March and in another this month.

The walkouts have had this in common: (1) most of them have been unauthorized and have in fact been opposed by the union leadership; and (2) the coal fields—chief trouble spot of the past two decades —have been the scene of at least half the strikes.

Thus there has developed under the wartime essential works order the seemingly contradictory situation that workers, frozen to their jobs, cannot quit, be fired, or change employment and cannot be late or absent without being liable to fines, but can walk out on strike.

Appeals To FDR For Leave For Hero Son

Pittsburgh, April 7 (AP)—"Commando" Kelly's mother, deaf and her sight fast failing, has appealed to President Roosevelt to allow her hero son to come home to visit her for a few days.

Tech. Sgt. Charles E. Kelly, recently awarded the congressional medal of honor in Italy, is but one of seven sons the widowed Mrs.
Irene Kelly has in service. Her other two sons, 16 and 11, are home.

Last night, by the flickering light of an oil lamp, she dictated a letter to President Roosevelt saying she was "going to offer up another prayer that you will make a lonely mother's heart light, and happy by letting her see Charles soon."

Her 16-year-old son, Howard, did the writing in boyish scrawl with a pencil. Mrs. Kelly cannot write because of her failing sight.

Letters she recently received from William D. Hassett, a White House secretary, and Secretary of War
Henry L. Stimson, commending her for giving her sons to the nation's service, prompted the appeal to the President, she said.

Strikes Mount
In Great Britain

London, April 7 (AP)—The whole volcanic labor situation which Britain held in check through the urgency of national need and the machinery of arbitration is erupting in this fifth year of the war with every indication that 1944 will be the worst strike year since the paralyzing 1926 general walkout.

The number of work days lost
through strikes has increased sharply and steadily since 1940. Last year was the second worst year for strikes in Britain's history. With more than 1,000,000 work days lost, walkouts during March, 1944, alone
cost more production than the whole year of 1941.

DEMONSTRATE HOW TO HANDLE TAX ESTIMATE

(Editor's Note: This is the second of two columns about the declaration of estimated 1944 federal income tax.)

By JAMES MARLOW and GEORGE ZIELKE

Washington, April 7 (AP) — The declaration of estimated 1944 federal income tax is due April 15, along with a quarterly payment, from each of about 15,000,000 taxpayers whose obligations aren't substantially paid through withholding from wages or salaries.

For a quick trip through the declaration blanks, let's take the case of our old friend Aloysius Marblehead, of Poor, Me.

The Amphibious Widgets company is paying him $95 a week. He's married, with two children.

Uses Tax Table

His $95 a week will come to $4,940 for the year, so he's eligible to use the short-term sheet—for incomes up to $10,000—on page 2 of the "instructions and work sheets" mailed him by the Collector or Internal Revenue.

The first thing it calls for is estimated income for 1944: $4,940, which goes on the first line.

Under the short-term method, Aloysius gets an exemption of $1,320 as a married man, plus $385 for each child—$2,090 in all.

Subtracted from $4,940, that leaves $2,850 subject to income tax. He looks for that amount on the table of figures on the work sheet, finds his estimated tax is $512.

Now, he must figure his Victory tax. For this, his exemption is $624. Subtracted from $4,940, this leaves $4,316 subject to Victory tax of 3 per cent. That comes to $129.48.

Adding the taxes, he finds a total of $641.48 due.

Then he must subtract the amount of tax withheld from his pay throughout 1944. Every week $11.80 is taken out of his check. For 52 weeks, that'll come to $613.60.

Keep Work Sheets

That leaves an unpaid balance of $27.88.

Aloysius may pay this all at once or in quarterly installments of $6.97 each, due April 15, June, September 15 and December 15.

He copies the figures from page 1 onto the declaration itself, a small slip of paper which he must send with this payment. He keeps the work sheets for future reference.

If he gets a raise later in the year, he may want to file an amend-

Ask Housewives To Take Care Of All Ration Books

Housewives were advised today by the OPA to take good care of War Ration Book Four, and to keep War Ration Book Three in a safe place.

For the first time since rationing began a year ago, all buying of rationed foods is now done from one ration book—Book Four—and that book will be in use about three times as long as earlier food books.

Applications are received frequently by local War Price and Rationing boards from persons who ed declaration and pay accordingly, so the additional tax won't pile up to be paid next March 15—when the other half of the "unforgiven" portion of his 1942 tax will come due.

AMERICA'S EASTER FAITH

The nations that have died under Nazi and Japanese domination shall live again. Proud Lidice's head shall lift from the dust. Rotterdam's resurrection day draws near. For millions of the oppressed in Europe and Asia, the dawn light grows steadily in power and intensity.

Now we are about to meet the supreme test. The people of America will go to church on Easter Sunday to draw once more upon those deep sources of our national strength which always have brought us victory—faith in God, belief in Christianity, determination to build a safe future for our children.

want their ration books replaced for various reasons. Some have been lost, others damaged by fire or water, while some have fallen into children's hands with disastrous results.

Since no more ration books are to be printed soon, the replacement of damaged or lost books may become increasingly difficult.

The longer life of War Ration Book Four is made possible by the use of 10-point stamps and tokens under the program which began February 27.

125 COUNTIANS ARE R. C. BLOOD DONORS FRIDAY

Because 78, or more than one-third, of the Adams countians who were given "appointments to save a life" at the Red Cross Blood Donor station Friday failed to appear, the number of donations was kept to 125, the smallest number received there in any month this year but yet above the average number received on each visit in 1943.

Friday's donors brought the grand total received through the Gettysburg center in the College Lutheran church basement to 1,670. Last year's total was 1,242 while 167 gave blood there in January and 136 in February.

Thirty-five persons gave blood for the first time here Friday and 34 made their second contribution of blood to be used to help meet the increasing need for plasma.

Silver Medals for 22
Twenty-two qualified for their silver medals as third-time donors and 34 others moved nearer "Gallon Club" membership by making their fourth, fifth and seventh visits. All donors received a small "Red Cross Donor" emblem similar to the War Fund contributors' "sticker" for display in windows. Donors giving blood for the first time received a bronze button. Only 17 persons were rejected Friday, an unusually low number.

Mrs. Madelyn King, McKnightstown, who gave blood five times in California before coming to Adams county, was one of two persons making their seventh donations. The other was Hugh C. McIlhenny, Harrisburg road. There were no six-time donors Friday.

Those giving their fifth pint included: Mrs. Charles Rosensteel, Gettysburg; Paul Arnsberger, Gardners; Mrs. A. Dillman, Gettysburg R. 3; Mrs. John W. Dear-dorff, Sr., Biglerville; John W. Dear-dorff, Jr., Biglerville; Clyde A. Williams, Arendtsville; Councilman Fred Hummelbaugh, Gettysburg, and Miss Hilda Gleim, Gettysburg. The others who gave blood Friday follow:

ROAD PATCHING IN GETTYSBURG TO START SOON

The holes dug by the Gettysburg Gas Corporation to repair leaks in gas lines and for other improve-ments, and other holes in streets of Gettysburg, depressed during the winter months, will be repaired this spring and summer, Leroy H. Wine-brenner, borough engineer and su-perintendent of streets and sewers, announced Saturday.

The new street patching machine which borough council purchased some time ago is expected to arrive within a week. The apparatus was shipped out of Cleveland on March 24. It is fully equipped and will be used to patch holes in Gettysburg's streets to make them "as good as new."

The borough roller and trucks have been overhauled and are in good repair for the spring and summer program.

Mr. Winebrenner said that he is in need of a laborer who can also drive a truck to join the borough street crew.

It was explained that the large holes dug by the Gas company will be cleaned out and filled with eight inches of concrete and surfaced with two inches of amesite. The patching material will be applied hot the same as the original street was laid.

Work will start on patching and filling some of the holes dug last fall within a week or so. It is nec-essary to permit traffic over the presently filled holes for about three months before the final patching is done, so as to prevent further de-pressions after the amesite has been applied. Crushed rock has been placed in the holes. Some "sinks" of two inches and more have de-veloped in some of the holes, Mr. Winebrenner said.

Will Rush Work
It was also explained that weather conditions have considerable to do with successful patching.

Under borough ordinances those responsible for the digging of holes in the streets must keep them in repair and useable for traffic over the temporary fills until the borough takes over for the permanent patch-ing. The usual time in such cases is three months.

Mr. Winebrenner said that he ap-preciates the position of motorists who complain about the poor con-dition of the temporary fills in the holes and that everything is being done to make borough traffic safe and as convenient as possible.

Tribute Is Paid To County Officer

Major Earl W. Worley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Worley, Littlestown R. D. 2, is director of train-ing for the Army Air Forces at Wil-liams Field, Chandler, Ariz. A trib-ute to the young officer is con-tained in a recent issue of Airfax, tabloid publication published at Wil-liams Field.

An article on the Adams county man, which accompanies the pho-tographs, reveals that he led plane formations in the motion picture, "A Guy Named Joe."

REPUBLICANS SHOW GAIN IN REGISTRATIONS

Smith, chief clerk of the county registration commission, disclosed.

The tabulation of registrants just completed shows 4,828 Republican men, 3,777 Republican women, 3,967 Democratic men, 2,861 Democratic women, 170 non-partisans, 12 Inde-pendents, three Socialists and one member of the Royal Oak party.

No details were contained in the telegram as to the nature of the injury. The telegram stated that the action in which the Aspers youth was hurt was in the Bougainville area on March 11.

He has received the Purple Heart award as a result of the wound, the telegram stated.

MISS H. COPE PASSES AWAY SUNDAY NIGHT

Miss Helen L. Cope, 81, who served the Gettysburg public schools for 31 years as teacher, high school principal and supervising principal before her retirement nearly 18 years ago, died Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at her home at 64 West Middle street.

Death followed an illness of seven weeks and was due to a complication of diseases. She had been in failing health for the last three years. Her last illness began February 13 and she was a patient in the Warner hospital for several weeks, later re-turning to her home where her con-dition remained serious. She was only semi-conscious for the last several days and on Sunday lapsed into unconsciousness.

Supervising Principal
Coming to Gettysburg after 10 years of teaching in the public schools of Devon and other suburban Philadelphia towns in Chester county, Miss Cope took a teaching posi-tion in the Gettysburg high school, then located in the present Meade school building, during the princi-palship of J. D. Hunter. Later she became principal and following the death of the late W. A. Burgoon in 1916, she became supervising princi-pal of the public schools of the town.

Miss Cope retired in June, 1926, the last year the Lincoln school was used as the high school building. She continued to maintain an active interest in school affairs and was always guest of honor at high school alumni banquets. At the banquet in the year of her retirement she was presented with a diamond ring by the alumni and was made an honorary member and president emeritus of the association.

Born in West Chester
The deceased was born in West Chester, Chester county, and was a daughter of the late Col. Emmor Bradley Cope and Isabella L. (Spackman) Cope. She graduated from the West Chester high school and studied at the University of Pennsylvania and Pennsylvania State college. Her family came to (Continued on Page 2)

Staff Sergeant Kenneth A. Stoner, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Stoner, Gettysburg R. 2, was awarded the Air Medal on February 25 by Lt. Gen. Millard F. Harmon, com-manding the United States Army Forces in the South Pacific area. Sergeant Stoner, who serves with the 13th AAF, went overseas last August, exactly a year after he en-tered the service.

SGT. STONER IS AWARDED MEDAL IN S. PACIFIC

The honor was conferred upon Stoner for his performance as "an aerial radio operator-gunner from November 23, 1943."

Year of Training
Sergeant Stoner attended the Hamiltonban township consolidated school and was graduated from the Fairfield high school in the class of 1940. Before he entered service on August 17, 1942, he was employed by the Landis Tool company at Waynesboro.

Upon his induction he was as-signed to the Army Air Force Tech-nical Training Command. He re-ceived aerial gunnery training in Florida and instruction in radio work at Madison, Wisconsin, and Columbia, South Carolina.

His parents heard from him with fair regularity and recently learned that he had been to New Zealand on a rest trip after months of action in the battle zone.

RETURNS HOME
Morris W. Stansbury, Gettysburg, returned to his home here Sunday after being confined to the Harrisburg hospital for two months. He submitted to a major operation there. Mr. Stansbury is employed by the state at Harrisburg.

Admit Buying Tires Taken Here

Two West Shore men, arrested Tuesday for allegedly buying 15 stolen tires, among them tires stolen from Dale's Tire Shop, have admitted the charges, Justice William Dosh, Carlisle, said Friday. The justice said both indicated plans to enter pleas of guilty at the weekly sessions of Cumberland county court on Tuesday.

They are: Lewis A. Johnson, 26, of Camp Hill, who is in the County prison at Carlisle in default of $500 bail, and William R. Shank, 28, of New Cumberland. According to in-formation lodged by state police from Harrisburg, Johnson accepted five new tires and one used tire, and Shank seven new tires and two used tires.

The tires, police said, were stolen by Frank Keleman, Harrisburg, from Dale Lawer, Harrisburg road, and Wilmont Keller, Marysville. Kele-man is being prosecuted in Adams county.

RAY HOFFMAN WILL SUCCEED D. McPHERSON

The appointment of Ray M. Hoff-man, member of the Gettysburg borough council and vice president and assistant treasurer of the Vic-tor Products Corporation of Penn-sylvania, as the new chairman of the local War Price and Rationing Board and as county coordinator was announced Monday.

Mr. Hoffman was named by the Harrisburg district office of the OPA upon recommendation of the county Council of Defense to suc-ceed Donald P. McPherson, Jr., Esq., who has resigned because of his im-pending induction into the U. S. Army.

Although Mr. Hoffman now is officially the chairman of Local Ration Board 261.1 the official designation of Gettysburg unit, he will not assume his full duties until May 1 shortly after his return from a trip to California which he will begin in about 10 days. Until that time Mr. McPherson, unofficially, will serve in his stead.

Mr. McPherson, who until re-cently also was chairman of the now disbanded county ration board, began his services in December, 1941, when the first rationing of tires and tubes was started soon after Pearl Harbor. He has served continuously since that time as one essential commodity after another was added to the ration list and more complicated ration and price control regulations were placed in force.

Plan No Changes
Mr. Hoffman said Monday he ex-pects to follow the policies and pro-cedures set up under Mr. McPher-son's administration.

In his letter of resignation to the district OPA at Harrisburg, Mr. McPherson set March 27 as the effective date and wrote:

"Whatever success the rationing program in Adams county has at-tained, is due to the support it has received from the citizens of this community. It is their program as well as it is everyone's war."

"In leaving I want to pay tribute to the volunteers who stood by to help in the rush and confusion of the first hectic year; without this assistance, the program would have failed."

"I appreciate the association with, and the cooperation of, you and the others of the district office, the local boards and the employees of the office. All have given generously of their talents and energy, and each has worked faithfully until each task was finished."

Accepting "with sincere regret," Mr. McPherson's resignation, Frank J. Loftus, district director, wrote in part: "Your faithful service for more than two years as county chairman and later as local chair-man have been greatly appreciated."

"You have willingly given your time and we have been attracted by your efficient management and su-pervision of the War Price and Rationing work in your county."

"On account of your most excel-lent services, it is with regret that this letter is to be considered an acceptance of your resignation. Your leadership and sympathetic understanding will be greatly missed."

FILE COUNTER CLAIM
An affidavit of defense and a counter claim for $100 was filed by Swope, Brown and Swope, Esqs., Friday at the office of the prothono-tary, in the action in assumpsit of Albert O. and Maria Beck, Chicago, versus Elmer L. and Freda Lucille Stanley, Reading township. In the affidavit Mr. Stanley asserted not only did he not owe the Becks the sums they say are due them, but that they in turn owe him $100 for sums he overpaid on an alleged debt.

Red Cross War Fund Drive Is "Over The Top"

A $50 donation last Friday evening by th Ladies Auxiliary of the Bendersville fire company put the Adams county Red Cross "over the top" in its $26,500 War Relief campaign which ended Friday midnight.

Additional contributions this morning were increasing the total. Officials of the Red Cross estimate that the final figures will be over $27,000 when some sums still known to be outstanding are turned in.

The Bendersville women's group's donation, along with some smaller sums were reported Friday night to the heads of the Upper Adams county district which had already turned in $5,153.96 to lead all of the districts of the county by at least $1,500. The second largest sum turned in by any one district is the business district of Gettysburg which up to 4 o'clock Friday afternoon had donated $3,536.85. Littlestown is third with $3,322.08.

Receive $26,513.40
Up to 10 o'clock Saturday morning $26,513.40 had been turned in by solicitors, but the amount was credited to Fri-day, with all of it having been collected on that day. Approximately $75 was turned in Friday night at the Hotel Gettysburg, where arrangements were made to receive dona-tions throughout the night. Largest amount turned in there was $50 from the local Moose lodge.

The Fairfield-Orrtanna district turned in $100.60 late Friday afternoon and $346.05 was received from the New Oxford district at the same time.

Guise, Zhea Quit Police For Service 17 VETS OF THIS WAR INITIATED BY LEGION POST

Chief of Police Glenn Guise and Special Officer C. William Zhea, formally turned in their badges last Friday morning to Burgess Fred G. Pfeffer to begin leave of absence to extend for the duration of their service with the U. S. armed forces.

Both Chief Guise and Officer Zhea will report Monday to Harrisburg for induction into the service. Guise has been scheduled for duty with the U. S. Marines while Zhea will be placed in the Marines if there is an opening, or in the U. S. Navy if there is not.

Borough Officer Clark Staley, who officially began his duties as re-placement for Guise Friday morning at the same time made his first arrest, when he charged David W. Woods, Jr., Gettysburg R. 2, with driving through a stop sign at the intersection of Baltimore and Mid-dle streets at 6:10 o'clock Friday morning. The charge was laid before Justice of the Peace John H. Base-hore. Officer Staley had started his work officially at 4 o'clock Friday morning, but had been on duty for several days previously while being instructed in his duties by Guise.

COUNTY MEN IN INVASION PLANS

Eight Gettysburg and Adams county men are serving in a typical United States Army field ordnance unit on duty in England and are busy with invasion preparations. It was disclosed today in a special re-lease from Headquarters, European Theater of Operations.

The county men in the unit are: Corp. Samuel T. Kessel, Corp. Ver-non L. Miller, and Staff Sergeant Norman L. Plank, all of Gettysburg R. 4; Mark A. Walter, Gettysburg R. 3; Emory J. Clapsaddle, Gettysburg R. 2; James Ross Shet-ter, Gettysburg, and Burnell P. Buohi, Gettysburg.

TIRE INSPECTION IS DISCONTINUED

Washington, D. C., April 5—OPA Administrator Chester Bowles an-nounced Tuesday that periodic in-spections of tires on passenger au-tomobiles will be discontinued after April 20.

"This does not mean that the tire picture has become any brighter," Bowles said. "It simply means that the inspection program has served its primary objective—to make mo-torists conscious of the extreme need for tire conservation and care."

Inspection certificates still will be a requisite in obtaining replacement tires. OPA said, and today's action does not affect the truck tire in-spection program, which continues as before.

The agency cautioned motorists that their inspection records should not be discarded, since they will still be used in the gasoline rationing program.

Mrs. Charles Haines, Gettysburg R. 2, Emmitsburg road, is confined to her home by illness. She became ill last Friday at noon.

Because 78, or more than one-third, of the Adams countians who were given "appointments to save a life" at the Red Cross Blood Donor station Friday failed to appear, the number of donations was kept to 125, the smallest number received there in any month this year but yet above the average number received on each visit in 1943.

ROAD PATCHING IN GETTYSBURG TO START SOON

The holes dug by the Gettysburg Gas Corporation to repair leaks in gas lines and for other improvements, and other holes in streets of Gettysburg, depressed during the winter months, will be repaired this spring and summer. Leroy H. Winebrenner, borough engineer and superintendent of streets and sewers, announced Saturday.

The new street patching machine which borough council purchased some time ago is expected to arrive within a week. The apparatus was shipped out of Cleveland on March 24. It is fully equipped and will be used to patch holes in Gettysburg's streets to make them "as good as new."

The borough roller and trucks have been overhauled and are in good repair for the spring and summer program.

Mr. Winebrenner said that he is in need of a laborer who can also drive a truck to join the borough street crew.

It was explained that the large holes dug by the Gas company will be cleaned out and filled with eight inches of concrete and surfaced with two inches of amesite. The patching material will be applied hot the same as the original street was laid.

Work will start on patching and filling some of the holes dug last fall within a week or so. It is necessary to permit traffic over the presently filled holes for about three months before the final patching is done, so as to prevent further depressions after the amesite has been applied. Crushed rock has been placed in the holes. Some "sinks" of two inches and more have developed in some of the holes, Mr. Winebrenner said.

Will Rush Work

It was also explained that weather conditions have considerable to do with successful patching.

Under borough ordinances those responsible for the digging of holes in the streets must keep them in repair and useable for traffic over the temporary fills until the borough takes over for the permanent patching. The usual time in such cases is three months.

Mr. Winebrenner said that he appreciates the position of motorists who complain about the poor condition of the temporary fills in the holes and that everything is being done to make borough traffic safe and as convenient as possible.

Tribute Is Paid To County Officer

Major Earl W. Worley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Worley, Littlestown R. D. 2, is director of training for the Army Air Forces at Williams Field, Chandler, Ariz. A tribute to the young officer is contained in a recent issue of Airfax, tabloid publication published at Williams Field.

An article on the Adams county man, which accompanies the photographs, reveals that he led plane formations in the motion picture, "A Guy Named Joe."

REPUBLICANS SHOW GAIN IN REGISTRATIONS

Although there was a net decrease of approximately 1,000 in total registrations since last fall, the Republicans in Adams county increased their margin over the Democrats from 1,619 to 1,781, figures released today by Clarence C. Smith, chief clerk of the county registration commission, disclosed.

A total of 8,609 Republicans will have the right to vote at the spring primaries to be held April 25 while 6,828 Democrats are registered and qualified. Last fall the figures were 9,015 Republicans and 7,396 Democrats. Total registration has dropped from 16,609 to 15,623 since last November.

The tabulation of registrants just completed shows 4,828 Republican men, 3,777 Republican women, 3,967 Democratic men, 2,861 Democratic women, 170 non-partisans, 12 Independents, three Socialists and one member of the Royal Oak party.

MISS H. COPE PASSES AWAY SUNDAY NIGHT

Miss Helen L. Cope, 81, who served the Gettysburg public schools for 31 years as teacher, high school principal and supervising principal before her retirement nearly 18 years ago, died Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at her home at 64 West Middle street.

Death followed an illness of seven weeks and was due to a complication of diseases. She had been in failing health for the last three years. Her last illness began February 13 and she was a patient in the Warner hospital for several weeks, later returning to her home where her condition remained serious. She was only semi-conscious for the last several days and on Sunday lapsed into unconsciousness.

Supervising Principal

Coming to Gettysburg after 10 years of teaching in the public schools of Devon and other suburban Philadelphia towns in Chester county, Miss Cope took a teaching position in the Gettysburg high school, then located in the present Meade school building, during the principalship of J. D. Hunter. Later she became principal and following the death of the late W. A. Burgoon in 1916, she became supervising principal of the public schools of the town.

Miss Cope retired in June, 1926, the last year the Lincoln school was used as the high school building. She continued to maintain an active interest in school affairs and was always guest of honor at high school alumni banquets. At the banquet in the year of her retirement she was presented with a diamond ring by the alumni and was made an honorary member and president emerita of the association.

SGT. STONER IS AWARDED MEDAL IN S. PACIFIC

Staff Sergeant Kenneth A. Stoner, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Stoner, Gettysburg R. 2, was awarded the Air Medal on February 25 by Lt. Gen. Millard F. Harmon, commanding the United States Army Forces in the South Pacific area.

Sergeant Stoner, who serves with the 13th AAF, went overseas last August, exactly a year after he entered the service.

Year of Training

Sergeant Stoner attended the Hamiltonian township consolidated school and was graduated from the Fairfield high school in the class of 1940. Before he entered service on August 17, 1942, he was employed by the Landis Tool company at Waynesboro.

Upon his induction he was assigned to the Army Air Force Technical Training Command. He received aerial gunnery training in Florida and instruction in radio work at Madison, Wisconsin, and Columbia, South Carolina.

His parents hear from him with fair regularity and recently learned that he had been to New Zealand on a rest trip after months of action in the battle zone.

Admit Buying Tires Taken Here

Two West Shore men, arrested Tuesday for allegedly buying 15 stolen tires, among them tires stolen from Dale's Tire Shop, have admitted the charges, Justice William Dosh, Carlisle, said Friday. The justice said both indicated plans to enter pleas of guilty at the weekly sessions of Cumberland county court on Tuesday.

They are: Lewis A. Johnson, 26, of Camp Hill, who is in the County prison at Carlisle in default of $500 bail, and William R. Shank, 28, of New Cumberland. According to information lodged by state police from Harrisburg, Johnson accepted five new tires and one used tire, and Shank seven new tires and two used tires.

The tires, police said, were stolen by Frank Keleman, Harrisburg, from Dale Lawver, Harrisburg Road, and Wilmont Keller, Marysville. Keleman is being prosecuted in Adams county.

RAY HOFFMAN WILL SUCCEED D. M'PHERSON

The appointment of Ray M. Hoffman, member of the Gettysburg borough council and vice president and assistant treasurer of the Victor Products Corporation of Pennsylvania, as the new chairman of the local War Price and Rationing Board and as county coordinator was announced Monday.

Mr. Hoffman was named by the Harrisburg district office of the OPA upon recommendation of the county Council of Defense to succeed Donald P. McPherson, Jr., Esq., who has resigned because of his impending induction into the U. S. Army.

Although Mr. Hoffman now is officially the chairman of Local Ration Board 261.1 the official designation of Gettysburg unit, he will not assume his full duties until May 1 shortly after his return from a trip to California which he will begin in about 10 days. Until that time Mr. McPherson, unofficially, will serve in his stead.

Mr. McPherson, who until recently also was chairman of the now disbanded county ration board, began his services in December, 1941, when the first rationing of tires and tubes was started soon after Pearl Harbor. He has served continuously since that time as one essential commodity after another was added to the ration list and more complicated ration and price control regulations were placed in force.

Plan No Changes

Mr. Hoffman said Monday he expects to follow the policies and procedures set up under Mr. McPherson's administration.

In his letter of resignation to the district OPA at Harrisburg, Mr. McPherson set March 27 as the effective date and wrote:

"Whatever success the rationing program in Adams county has attained, is due to the support it has received from the citizens of this community. It is their program as well as it is everyone's war."

"In leaving I want to pay tribute to the volunteers who stood by to help in the rush and confusion of the first hectic year; without this assistance, the program would have failed."

"I appreciate the association with, and the cooperation of, you and the others of the district office, the local boards and the employees of the office. All have given generously of their talents and energy, and each has worked faithfully until each task was finished."

Accepting "with sincere regret," Mr. McPherson's resignation, Frank J. Loftus, district director, wrote in part: "Your faithful service for more than two years as county chairman and later as local chairman have been greatly appreciated. You have willingly given your time and we have been attracted by your efficient management and supervision of the War Price and Rationing work in your county."

"On account of your most excellent services, it is with regret that this letter is to be considered an acceptance of your resignation. Your leadership and sympathetic understanding will be greatly missed."

FILE COUNTER CLAIM

An affidavit of defense and a counter claim for $100 was filed by Swope, Brown and Swope, Esqs., Friday at the office of the prothonotary, in the action in assumpt of Albert O. and Maria Beck, Chicago, versus Elmer L. and Freda Lucille Stanley, Reading township. In the affidavit Mr. Stanley asserted not only did he not owe the Becks the sums they say are due them, but that they in turn owe him $100 for sums he overpaid on an alleged debt.

Red Cross War Fund Drive Is "Over The Top"

A $50 donation last Friday evening by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Bendersville fire company put the Adams county Red Cross "over the top" in its $26,500 War Relief campaign which ended Friday midnight.

Additional contributions this morning were increasing the total. Officials of the Red Cross estimate that the final figures will be over $27,000 when some sums still known to be outstanding are turned in.

The Bendersville women's group's donation, along with some smaller sums were reported Friday night to the heads of the Upper Adams county district which had already turned in $5,153.96 to lead all of the districts of the county by at least $1,500. The second largest sum turned in by any one district is the business district of Gettysburg which up to 4 o'clock Friday afternoon had donated $3,536.85. Littlestown is third with $3,322.08.

Receive $26,513.40

Up to 10 o'clock Saturday morning $26,513.40 had been turned in by solicitors, but the amount was credited to Friday, with all of it having been collected on that day. Approximately $75 was turned in Friday night at the Hotel Gettysburg, where arrangements were made to receive donations throughout the night. Largest amount turned in there was $50 from the local Moose lodge.

The Fairfield-Orrtanna district turned in $100.60 late Friday afternoon and $346.05 was received from the New Oxford district at the same time.

Guise, Zhea Quit Police For Service 17 VETS OF THIS WAR INITIATED BY LEGION POST

Chief of Police Glenn Guise and Special Officer C. William Zhea, formally turned in their badges last Friday morning to Burgess Fred G. Pfeffer to begin a leave of absence to extend for the duration of their service with the U. S. armed forces.

Both Chief Guise and Officer Zhea will report Monday to Harrisburg for induction into the service. Guise has been scheduled for duty with the U. S. Marines while Zhea will be placed in the Marines if there is an opening, or in the U. S. Navy if there is not.

Borough Officer Clark Staley, who officially began his duties as replacement for Guise Friday morning at the same time made his first arrest, when he charged David W. Woods, Jr., Gettysburg R. 2, with driving through a stop sign at the intersection of Baltimore and Middle streets at 6:10 o'clock Friday morning. The charge was laid before Justice of the Peace John H. Base-hore. Officer Staley had started his work officially at 6:10 o'clock Friday morning, but had been on duty for several days previously while being instructed in his duties by Guise.

COUNTY MEN IN INVASION PLANS

Eight Gettysburg and Adams county men are serving in a typical United States Army field ordnance unit on duty in England and are busy with invasion preparations. It was disclosed today in a special release from Headquarters, European Theater of Operations.

The county men in the unit are: Corp. Samuel T. Kessel, Corp. Vernon L. Miller, and Staff Sergeant Norman L. Plank, all of Gettysburg R. 3; Tech. Sgt. Richard M. Kuhn, Cashtown; Staff Sergeant Ralph E. Cooley, Biglerville R. 1; Staff Sergeant John M. Singley, Biglerville R. 2; Corporal Glenn A. Bream, Biglerville R. 1, and Staff Sergeant Charles D. Bowser, Abbotstown.

The outfit is commanded by Major Glenn E. Nida of South Columbus, Ohio, and is described as "working around the clock" to keep vast quantities of weapons and vehicles in good repair. The unit checked and delivered the equipment to the units which are to use them.

The story from headquarters states: "Delivery of equipment was only the beginning of the outfit's job. Now a steady stream of equipment, new and old, is flowing in and out of the unit's shops. Automotive mechanics service vehicles of every type. Armament men repair weapons from the carbine up to artillery pieces."

"The unit exchanges men with British ordnance outfits so that each may understand methods and procedure of the other. These men are familiar with all weapons—even enemy weapons."

Inspection certificates still will be a requisite in obtaining replacement tires, OPA said, and today's action does not affect the truck tire inspection program, which continues as before.

The agency cautioned motorists that their inspection records should not be discarded, since they will still be used in the gasoline rationing program.

Mrs. Charles Haines, Gettysburg R. 2, Emmitsburg road, is confined to her home by illness. She became ill last Friday at noon.

WORK OF JUNIOR HISTORIANS IS SOCIETY'S TOPIC

The work of the Gettysburg high school historical society and of the student historical society in the York Springs area under the leadership of Grant Hooper was praised Tuesday evening by Miss Avis Mary Custis Cauley, assistant state historian of the Pennsylvania Historical Commission, in a talk before the Adams County Historical Society.

Urging the members of the historical society to do everything to assist the junior historians, Miss Cauley outlined the work of the local junior societies and of similar societies throughout the state and the efforts the state is making through the Federation of Junior Historians to promote the study of local and state history in the schools.

The Gettysburg high school group is completing a paper to be read at a regional meeting of the state Federation of Junior Historians at Harrisburg April 14 and is also completing an article on transportation in this section to be included in "The Junior Historian," publication of the Pennsylvania Federation of Junior Historians, which plans to present a complete issue on Pennsylvania transportation from 1638 to 1944 this year with all articles written by students and based on findings made by themselves.

History of York in May While the war has prevented a meeting of the entire state organization due to transportation difficulties, five regional meetings are being held this year, and after the war the entire state group will meet at one central place. Gettysburg, said Miss Cauley, may be the site for that state conference.

Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh, president of the county historical society, presided at the meeting held in the court room. It was announced that Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Cannon, treasurer and archivist, respectively, for the York County Historical Society will give an illustrated lecture on "The History of Early York" at the May meeting of the local group. Plans for a program commemorating the 300th anniversary of William Penn in October were discussed.

Gifts to Society A number of gifts to the association were announced. Among them were a photograph of Abraham Lincoln taken at Washington, November 8, 1863, showing him as he was when he came to Gettysburg 11 days later and reprints of a number of articles published in The Gettysburg Times and two copies of The Gettysburg Times during the 75th anniversary celebration here, presented by W. C. Storrick.

C. Arthur Brame presented a program of an exhibition held in March, 1865, by the students of the Classical Institute of Hunterstown, which contains a list of the students. A series of programs of May 30th celebrations were presented by William L. Meals, Esq. A photographic copy of the painting of Thaddeus Stevens, hanging in Stevens hall at Gettysburg college, was presented by Dr. Frederick Tilberg. Dr. Frank Clutz presented a state publication on a survey of the Mason-Dixon line.

The court will hold a hearing on the petition at 10 a. m. on April 21. Judge W. C. Sheely handed down an opinion in court here Saturday in the divorce action by Bernetta C. TRUCKERS MUST CALL IN PERSON FOR 'T' RATIOS

Operators of commercial motor vehicles must apply in person to local OPA, War Price and Rationing boards for second quarter "T" motor fuel ratios, under a new procedure announced today by the OPA, and the Office of Defense Transportation.

The new arrangement, OPA and ODT officials explained is designed to provide a closer check on the issuance of "T" ratios.

Heretofore, the agencies said, many local War Price and Rationing boards have mailed "T" ration coupons to non-fleet operators while fleet operators have applied in person.

Includes Cabs, Buses Second quarter "T" ratios will be issued in accordance with latest ODT certifications. Occasionally OPA and ODT officials said, a local board received information in advance of the ODT District Office that the status of a commercial motor vehicle operation has changed, resulting in a reduction of gasoline requirements. In such cases, however, the board will continue to issue ratios in accordance with ODT certifications and then notify the ODT District Office which will make the appropriate adjustments in the ration certification.

Operators of trucks, buses, taxicabs and rental cars are included in the new procedure.

MISS H. COPE

(Continued from Page 1) Gettysburg in 1893 when her father was sent here as chief of engineers to lay the national military park. The Copes lived first on Chambersburg street and then moved to Baltimore street where Miss Cope resided until about a year ago when she moved to West Middle street.

Efficient Educator Miss Cope's teaching career in Gettysburg saw the local education system develop from a small organization to a modern educational system with fully accredited courses and alumni who were qualified to enter first grade colleges. It was during Miss Cope's years of service that the local high school became a four-year system. Many courses were added during her regime.

Her greatest interest was in the training of young people for leadership in their chosen walks of life and educators, students and the public alike recognized her as a "progressive and efficient educator," in the words today of one local resident who has been close to the town's school system for many years. Policies and procedures she initiated here now have become traditional.

Even during the years she served as principal and supervising principal, then the highest education post in the town, she continued teaching in the high school. She also was director of high school dramas.

Since her retirement in 1926 much of her time has been devoted to church and Christian education work and to the activities of the Gettysburg chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Miss Cope was a member of the Gettysburg Presbyterian church and the Missionary society of the church. For 5 years, as long as her health permitted, she was superintendent of the Week-Day Bible school of that church and for many years taught the Women's Bible class in the Sunday school.

An active member of the local DAR chapter, Miss Cope for a number of years had headed the committee which conducted the annual senior essay contests. One of her last acts before being taken ill in February was to select judges and complete arrangements to this year's contests.

Funeral Wednesday Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Robert E. Wible, Baltimore street, and Mrs. Harry B. Martin, with whom she lived. There are a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Bender funeral home, Carlisle street, with the Rev. Robert M. Hunt, pastor of the Rev. Robert M. Hunt, pastor of Christ Lutheran church, officiating.

COUNTY UNIT OF PSEA BANQUETS; MOWREY SPEAKS

"There has been much dissatisfaction among some people who ask why the public schools cannot teach four grades in 18 months, as the Army does," Raymond Mowrey, superintendent of the Franklin county schools, told the members of the Adams county branch of the Pennsylvania State Educators' association at their first annual spring dinner meeting Wednesday evening at the Hotel Gettysburg.

"The answer is that if our teachers had the money the army has to purchase teaching aids and were dealing with adults, then the teachers would be able to do just as good a job. But our teachers are asked to do a good job with little, very little equipment. The army can use visual aids, can secure any type of teaching aid it needs, while the teachers in the public schools must struggle along for the most part with a single textbook.

"And I fear that after the war the condition will grow worse. That the nation is going to spend so much on the wrecking crew that there will be no money for the reconstruction gang. There will be a concerted movement to reduce taxes after the war and the first unit where economies will be made so taxes can be lowered will be the schools.

"Must Restore Our Profession"

"We as educators must understand that a great part of our teaching is done outside the classrooms by our own actions, our habits and everything we do. If we are to make a better world we must restore the teaching profession to its former spirit in which men and women took pride in being teachers. We must make more contacts, broaden our outlook and teach more people of the great need for education. If we want education to advance, we teachers must get out and promote it and meet the arguments of those who belittle teaching and teachers."

Dr. C. O. Williams, of State College, urged most of the teachers to study special education in order to use it in their classrooms. Those who are able to take sufficient advanced education and have from five to fifteen years experience in the special education field as supervisors and as teachers in test classes, he said.

Many Abnormal Pupils

But there is also a great need for every teacher to know a little about special education in order to assist handicapped students in their classrooms, he asserted. Out of every hundred students, he said, one has eye trouble, two have bad hearing defects, two have speech defects, one is crippled, two have grave illness problems such as heart trouble or tuberculosis, three are mentally retarded, three are so mentally superior that they are retarded by being held to the level of the remainder of the class, ten are considered dull normal, not able to keep the pace set by the remainder of the class. "Thus at least 25 out of every hundred present problems in teaching that can be met only by having some knowledge of special education," he said.

Motion pictures showing the use of special education programs in the Erie schools were shown.

Other speakers at the dinner session included J. Floyd Slaybaugh, county superintendent of schools, who urged the teachers to make known their needs for sick leave benefits to their respective school boards. Most of the boards have a constructive attitude toward sick leave but if the teachers do not point out the needs and help in forming a sick leave policy the boards will have little incentive to work out the problem, he said.

Adopt Constitution

Dr. Robert A. Bream, assistant county superintendent of schools, and Miss Dorothy Warner also spoke briefly. J. Warren Martin, Fairfield, delegate of the county chapter to the recent PSEA convention, reported on the activities of the convention. Leslie V. Stock, supervising principal of the Biglerville schools, who heads the legislative committee of the county group, told of the progress of the Federal aid to schools bill before the house. Clyde A. McCauslin, principal of the Franklin township consolidated school, reported for the sick leave study committee of which he is chairman and said that recommendations by the committee had been adopted after presentation to the county school board.

H. Dean Stover, Littlestown, chairman of the constitution committee, presented a proposed constitution for the county branch of the PSEA which was adopted at the meeting.

Statement of Purposes

The purposes of the organization as listed in the constitution are: "to cooperate with the Pennsylvania State Education Association in carrying out its objectives; namely, to promote the general educational welfare of the state, to protect and advance the interests of its members, to foster professional zeal, to advance educational standards and to establish and maintain helpful, friendly relationships and as a local branch to foster equalization of educational opportunities for the pupils and teachers of the state and to attain greater efficiency in dealing with local problems of education." The constitution provides for the

COLLEGE GRAD BROADCASTING FROM CHUNGKING

Glen L. Akins, former projectionist in a Gettysburg motion picture theater and a graduate of Gettysburg college, is now a news commentator in Chungking, China, and broadcasts over the Columbia broadcasting system each Tuesday at 8 a. m. when short wave conditions between San Francisco and China permit.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Akins, Dallastown, he is employed by the Office of War Information and makes daily broadcasts through out the Orient over station XGOY, Chungking.

Mr. Akins, in charge of a staff of technicians established the first radiophoto circuit between Chungking and San Francisco, the first such circuit to span the Pacific between China and America. This circuit carries the radiophotos appearing in the newspapers from China. Mr. Akins, in addition to his broadcasts is O. W. I.'s radio technical representative in Chungking.

College Graduate

Recently the O. W. I. released pictures of Mr. Akins addressing the Chinese National Radio convention which were published in Q. S. T., official organ of the American Radio Relay league. Mr. Akins is in constant contact with K. T. Chui, technical adviser on communications matters to the Chinese Resources commission.

Mr. Akins was formerly employed as a projectionist in York theaters before joining the O. W. I. He started his radio career early, having obtained an amateur radio license at the age of 15. Later, to complete his schooling, he transferred to a local theater which enabled him to attend Gettysburg college, which he majored in mathematics and physics. Completing his schooling, he obtained a position in New York city with a radio and television company where he carried out some successful developments, some of a military nature.

The O. W. I. has a contract with Mr. Akins for a four-year period. One and one-half years have already been spent in China and Mr. Akins expects to spend the remainder of his contract period in the Orient, mostly in China and India.

Start Mailing Military Ballots

The Adams county registration board Saturday began sending military ballots to the 39 men in the service who have so far asked for the ballots. The letters to the men overseas were sent by airmail in order that they would reach the soldiers in time.

The service men have until April 10 to ask for the ballots. So far 10 Democrats and 22 Republicans have sought the military ballots.

SEEK NEW PLAN TO DETERMINE FARMER DRAFT

Establishment of a new "yardstick" for use in determining deferments for Pennsylvania farmers of military age was urged Monday night at a conference of more than 200 representatives of draft boards and war boards from 21 southeastern counties, including Adams, according to The Associated Press. The conference was held at Harrisburg.

The meeting was called by State Selective Service headquarters to discuss a revised system affecting agriculture. Final decisions were delayed pending receipt by state headquarters of the new regulations.

Up to Local Boards

Selective Service last week gave local boards complete authority over farm deferments, discontinuing requirements that farmers must have produced 16 units of foodstuffs in 1943 to be eligible for deferment.

Capt. William I. Markil, of State Draft headquarters, who presided over the meeting, said the consensus was that some kind of yardstick be provided and that selective service is willing "provided it doesn't conflict with new regulations when they are received," according to the AP. Clyde Zehner, chairman of the Federal Department of Agriculture's State War board, announced that county war boards would continue co-operating with local boards under the new farm system and called for a uniform system of determining deferments to avoid confusion.

Counties at Meeting

Members of both Adams county draft boards and the county War board who attended the session included: M. E. Knouse, chairman; Dr. R. D. Wickerham and John Bream, of the Gettysburg selective service board. The New Oxford selective service board's representatives included William Yingling, chairman; J. Francis Yake, Jr., Esq., attorney, and Mrs. Laura Freed and Amy Moore, clerks.

Representing the War board at the meeting were its chairman, Harrison P. Snyder, D. E. Hess, Roy Weaver, M. T. Hartman, Richard C. Lighter and C. A. Cluck and secretary Mrs. Lloyd McLaughlin. Jennings Collins represented the Adams county Emergency Farm Labor committee.

No Local Quotas

Frank J. Loftus, director of the Harrisburg district of the OPA, told the group that because of the critical tire situation, it has been decided that quotas could be more equitably distributed by assigning quotas on a district rather than a board basis.

Local boards will no longer receive quotas for truck, farm tractor and implement tires and will not accept any applications for certifications. Under the new procedure an applicant will have his present tires inspected by primary OPA inspection station authorized to examine truck tires. If it is found that one or more of the tires must be replaced, the primary inspector will take the tires to the nearest central truck tire inspection station. If the latter station finds that the tire should be replaced, approval is noted and the application then sent to the central truck tire board in the District OPA Office, which will either approve and issue the certificate or reject the application.

To complete the triple checkup, OPA inspectors will examine the tires for which replacements were authorized and if found to be beyond the recapping stage will see to it that they cannot be re-used except for junk. Six central truck tire inspection stations began functioning Saturday.

TRIO TREATED FOR FRACTURES

Mrs. Samuel Stambaugh, 37, Emmitsburg, is a patient in the Warner hospital as the result of injuries received last Friday evening at 9 o'clock when she was struck by a car driven by Ralph Putnam, Taneytown R. D., while crossing Main street in Emmitsburg.

She received cerebral concussion, multiple brush burns and a compound fracture of her right leg below the knee. Her condition was described at the hospital today as being satisfactory.

Willard Woerner, 63, Gettysburg R. 3, was treated Friday for a fractured right arm received Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock when he stumbled and fell while loading cattle on a truck. After receiving treatment he was discharged.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Mrs. Jesse Marshall, Thurmont; Mrs. Clifford Settle, Biglerville, in the ambulance; Mrs. Maurice Michael, Thurmont; Mrs. George J. Miller, Gettysburg R. 4; Mrs. John Helser, Gettysburg R. 2, and Mrs. Zell Thomas, Biglerville, have been admitted as patients to the Warner hospital. Those discharged were Mrs. James Neely and infant son, Harry James, Fairfield; Mrs. Kenneth McClell, Gettysburg R. 1; Henry Wilson, Aspers R. 1, and Mrs. Henry Willcutt, Littlestown.

Probation Order For Tire Dealers

William R. Shank, New Cumberland, and Lewis A. Johnson, Camp Hill, both operators of service stations, who pleaded guilty to charges that they had purchased stolen auto tires among which were tires taken from Dale's Tire shop, along the Harrisburg road, were placed on probation for six months Monday by Judge Fred S. Reese when they appeared before the Cumberland county court at Carlisle for sentence.

State police said Shank accepted nine tires and Johnson six tires from Frank Keleman, Harrisburg, who, police said, had stolen the tires at Gettysburg and Marysville. Keleman, arrested last week in Dauphin county for a series of seven burglaries there, told Shank and Johnson that the tires were "boot-leg" tires.

Judge Reese agreed to suspend sentence on the pair because of their previous good record and the prompt assistance they gave to police in investigating the case. Police said the cooperation of the two men helped in rounding up much loot stolen by Keleman.

"AG" STUDENTS FIND PROFIT IN FARM PROJECTS

The 158 Adams county agricultural education students who completed outside projects during the last year made $10,448.55 from the gardens, farming or cattle keeping that they chose as their projects, according to a report completed by Richard C. Lighter, county agricultural education supervisor.

The youngsters had an income of $32,125.66 from the sale of the products raised by themselves and paid themselves $1,789.58 for their labor, leaving a net profit of $8,658.98 after paying all expenses, including rent for the land occupied by their projects.

The two agriculture students who engaged in fruit growing as their project made the largest profit off their investment, securing a profit of $847.38 for work which they estimated as worth $23.20 in labor costs. They spent $426.97 for rent of the 7.25 acres of trees in the projects and for sprays and other costs and sold the 800 bushel and nine crates of fruits for $1,251.15.

Financed By Students

Five completed beef cattle projects and produced a profit of $160.54 with costs of $1,071.40 and income being $1,190.39. The lone beekeeper made $15.70 from his project consisting of five colonies of bees. The 17 corn growing projects used 40 acres of land and produced 2,160 bushels of corn on the ear; 41.25 tons of stover and 10 tons of silage. The youngsters made $1,133.95 on their activities selling the corn and other products for $2,181.50 and expending $1,153.03. The pupils estimated their labor costs at $105.48. Seventeen heifers and nine calves were the scope of 12 dairy projects completed. The students made $626.69 on their projects.

All of the projects are financed entirely by the youngsters, with the boys renting ground from their fathers' or other farms and then purchasing stock or seed for their projects. All costs of spraying, fertilizing or other needs are paid by the youngsters who keep accurate records of their income and expenditures.

All Made Profit

The youths must pay themselves for their own time according to the current scale of pay and then find whether or not they have made a profit from the project. While in 1942 a few projects failed to show a profit, every one of those completed in 1943 was profitable, according to the records.

Twenty-four students who completed garden and truck patch projects made a profit of $1,081.68 from the 16.28 acres of land they used for the patches. From their truck gardens they produced among other things, 38.12 bushels of snap beans, 16 bushels of dry beans, 491 pounds of cabbage, two bushels of cantaloupes, 6.35 bushels of carrots, a bushel of celery, 6.53 bushels of cucumbers, 10.7 bushels of lettuce, 110 bushels of green onions and 19 bushels of dry onions; 115 quarts of shelled peas and 6.25 bushels of peas in pods, 34.75 bushels of potatoes, 52 pumpkins, 3.03 bushels of radishes, 65 squash, 3.08 bushels of spinach, 663 dozen ears of sweet corn, 8.3 tons of corn for cannery use and 759.8 bushels of tomatoes.

Judge W. C. Sheely will preside during the evening.

Snow And Cold Interrupt Spring

Unhappy robins and early spring flowers made the best Wednesday of an unwanted April snow that sent thermometer six degrees below freezing Tuesday night and kept it in the thirties today with the help of a chilly breeze from the northwest. By afternoon most of the light snow had disappeared but the mercury had climbed only to 38 degrees in spite of occasional sunshine.

The weather man forecast continued cold tonight with slowly rising temperatures Thursday.

Sgt. Mark Becker, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Becker, South Washington street, is now stationed in England.

HARTMAN DOES NOT ANTICIPATE LOCUST ATTACK

County Agent M. T. Hartman said today that he does not expect "swarms of locusts" in Adams county this year and that the prediction of State Secretary of Agriculture Miles Horst may not apply to any extensive area of this county.

Mr. Hartman said that the regular 17-year cycle is not due this year, that the most serious recent outbreak was six or seven years ago when some young orchards in the county were ruined.

The County Agent said the "swarms" this year may be of a minor nature and that he does not anticipate any serious pestilence.

Orchardists of the Southern Pennsylvania fruit belt were told that according to predictions, Brood I of the "seventeen-year locust" is due to invade Franklin, Adams and Cumberland counties in late May.

The warning came from Miles Horst, Pennsylvania Secretary of Agriculture, Thursday night just before he addressed members of the Waynesboro Rotary club and their farmer guests.

Expect Damage

The coming of the 17-year pests may cause serious damage to fruit and other trees and plants, but nothing compared with that which may come next year when Brood II of the periodical cicade will make its appearance over a much larger area along the Atlantic Seaboard from Connecticut to North Carolina.

Last appearance of Brood I in Pennsylvania was, in 1927 and Brood II was in 1929. After their summer of life in the open in those years, Secretary Horst explained to newsmen the offspring burrowed into the ground about a foot deep, or more. For 16 years the Brood I insects have lived on juices from roots of plants and trees. They are now ready to bore through the surface with the coming of warm weather to live in the open for about six weeks. Great swarms of the locusts will be seen at the height of their emergence in mid-June.

Tree damage by the pests usually is confined to the outer, tender twigs where the female locusts cut a series of long slits in the bark, in which to lay their eggs. These cuts eventually weaken the twigs so that wind and weather cause them to break, hang down and wither.

Affects Growth

"Damage to orchards can be great in some areas," Secretary Horst said. "Growing fruit helps break the twigs at the weak points and both foliage and fruit wither and spoil. This injury usually affects the growth of fruit for the next year."

"This is another economic risk that our fruit growers run, and its coming in wartime may prove to be serious, particularly in 1945. Along with the corn borer, our farmers of southeastern Pennsylvania are due to have their hands full this summer, for there are no known methods for effective control of the 17-year locust."

TO HOLD SECOND PRE-INDUCTION MEETING HERE

The second of Adams county's pre-induction educational meetings will be held Friday evening, April 14, at 8 o'clock, at the court house it was announced Tuesday.

Sponsored by the Adams County Council of Defense, the meetings are being held for the purpose of acquainting inductees and their families of facilities offered both.

It is planned to have representatives present from the Army, Navy, Red Cross, USO, American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars. All will explain and answer questions on the functions and facilities offered by their organizations.

Lt. Col. Willis F. Daniels, of the judge advocate's office at Olmstead Field, Pa., will represent the Army while L. D. Strader, Red Cross field director, will again represent that body. It is hoped that a representative of the Navy can be secured in the near future.

Judge W. C. Sheely will preside during the evening.

Prospective inductees and their families and the general public are invited to attend.

RED CROSS FUND GROWING LARGER

The Adams County War Relief campaign reached $26,984.41 Tuesday with an additional $1,200 scheduled to be turned over to the county office this afternoon.

The $1,200 is the amount collected in the theaters of the county during the last week and is more than twice the amount collected by similar collections held last year.

On Friday the county topped its quota of $26,500 and contributions have been coming in fairly regularly ever since. With only $1,800 to go to reach $30,000 after the theater amounts are in, heads of the drive believe final donations may reach that figure.

WORK OF JUNIOR HISTORIANS IS SOCIETY'S TOPIC

The work of the Gettysburg high school historical society and of the student historical society in the York Springs area under the leadership of Grantas Hoopert was praised Tuesday evening by Miss Avis Mary Custis Cauley, assistant state historian of the Pennsylvania Historical Commission, in a talk before the Adams County Historical Society.

Urging the members of the historical society to do everything to assist the junior historians, Miss Cauley outlined the work of the local junior societies and of similar societies throughout the state and the efforts the state is making through the Federation of Junior Historians to promote the study of local and state history in the schools.

The Gettysburg high school group completing a paper to be read at a regional meeting of the state Federation of Junior Historians at Harrisburg April 14 and is also completing an article on transportation in this section to be included in "The Junior Historian," publication of the Pennsylvania Federation of Junior Historians, which plans to present a complete issue on Pennsylvania transportation from 1638 to 1944 this year with all articles written by students and based on findings made by themselves.

History of York in May While the war has prevented a meeting of the entire state organization due to transportation difficulties, five regional meetings are being held this year, and after the war the entire state group will meet at one central place. Gettysburg, said Miss Cauley, may be the site for that conference.

Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh, president of the county historical society, presided at the meeting held in the court room. It was announced that Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Cannon, treasurer and archivist, respectively, for the York County Historical Society will give an illustrated lecture on "The History of Early York" at the May meeting of the local group. Plans for a program commemorating the 300th anniversary of William Penn in October were discussed.

Gifts to Society A number of gifts to the association were announced. Among them were a photograph of Abraham Lincoln taken at Washington, November 8, 1863, showing him as he was when he came to Gettysburg 11 days later and reprints of a number of articles published in The Gettysburg Times and two copies of The Gettysburg Times during the 75th anniversary celebration here, presented by W. C. Storrick.

C. Arthur Brame presented a program of an exhibition held in March, 1855, by the students of the Classical Institute of Hunterstown, which contains a list of the students. A series of programs of May 30th celebrations were presented by William L. Meals, Esq., a photographic copy of the painting of Thaddeus Stevens, hanging in Stevens hall at Gettysburg college, was presented by Dr. Frederick Tiberg. Dr. Frank Clutz presented a state publication on a resurvey of the Mason-Dixon line.

TRUCKERS MUST CALL IN PERSON FOR 'T' RATIOS

Operators of commercial motor vehicles must apply in person to local OPA, War Price and Rationing boards for second quarter "T" motor fuel ratios, under a new procedure announced today by the OPA and the Office of Defense Transportation.

The new arrangement, OPA and ODT officials explained is designed to provide a closer check on the issuance of "T" ratios.

Heretofore, the agencies said, many local War Price and rationing boards have mailed "T" ration coupons to non-fleet operators while fleet operators have applied in person.

Includes Cabs, Buses Second quarter "T" ratios will be issued in accordance with latest ODT certifications. Occasionally OPA and ODT officials said, a local board received information in advance of the ODT District Office that the status of a commercial motor vehicle operation has changed, resulting in a reduction of gasoline requirements. In such cases, however, the board will continue to issue ratios in accordance with ODT certifications and then notify the ODT District Office which will make the appropriate adjustments in the ration certification.

Operators of trucks, buses, taxicabs and rental cars are included in the new procedure.

MISS H. COPE

(Continued from Page 1) Gettysburg in 1893 when her father was sent here as chief of engineers to lay the national military park. The Copes lived first on Chambersburg street and then moved to Baltimore street where Miss Cope resided until about a year ago when she moved to West Middle street.

Efficient Educator Miss Cope's teaching career in Gettysburg saw the local education system develop from a small organization to a modern educational system with fully accredited courses and alumni who were qualified to enter first grade colleges. It was during Miss Cope's years of service that the local high school became a four-year system. Many courses were added during her regime.

Her greatest interest was in the training of young people for leadership in their chosen walks of life and educators, students and the public alike recognized her as a "progressive and efficient educator" in the words today of one local resident who has been close to the town's school system for many years. Policies and procedures she initiated here now have become traditional.

Even during the years she served as principal and supervising principal, then the highest education post in the town, she continued teaching in the high school. She also was director of high school dramatics. Since her retirement in 1926 much of her time has been devoted to church and Christian education work and to the activities of the Gettysburg chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Miss Cope was a member of the Gettysburg Presbyterian church and the Missionary society of the church. For 5 years, as long as her health permitted, she was superintendent of the Week-Day Bible school of that church and for many years taught the Women's Bible class in the Sunday school.

An active member of the local DAR chapter, Miss Cope for a number of years had headed the committee which conducted the annual senior essay contests. One of her last acts before being taken ill in February was to select judges and complete arrangements for this year's contests.

COUNTY UNIT OF PSEA BANQUETS; MOWREY SPEAKS

"There has been much dissatisfaction among some people who ask why the public schools cannot teach four grades in 18 months, as the Army does," Raymond Mowrey, superintendent of the Franklin county schools, told the members of the Adams county branch of the Pennsylvania State Educators' association at their first annual spring dinner meeting Wednesday evening at the Hotel Gettysburg.

"The answer is that if our teachers had the money the army has to purchase teaching aids and were dealing with adults, then the teachers would be able to do just as good a job. But our teachers are asked to do a good job with little, very little equipment. The army can use visual aids, can secure any type of teaching aid it needs, while the teachers in the public schools must struggle along for the most part with a single textbook.

"And I fear that after the war the condition will grow worse. That the nation is going to spend so much on the wrecking crew that there will be no money for the reconstruction gang. There will be a concerted movement to reduce taxes after the war and the first unit where economies will be made so taxes can be lowered will be the schools.

"Must Restore Our Profession"

"We as educators must understand that a great part of our teaching is done outside the classrooms by our own actions, our habits and everything we do. If we are to make a better world we must restore the teaching profession to its former spirit in which men and women took pride in being teachers. We must make more contacts, broaden our outlook and teach more people of the great need for education. If we want education to advance, we teachers must get out and promote it and meet the arguments of those who belittle teaching and teachers."

Dr. C. O. Williams, of State College, urged most of the teachers to study special education in order to use it in their classrooms. Those who are able to take sufficient advanced education and have from five to fifteen years experience in the classroom are greatly needed in the special education field as supervisors and as teachers in test classes, he said.

Many Abnormal Pupils

But there is also a great need for every teacher to know a little about special education in order to assist handicapped students in their classrooms, he asserted. Out of every hundred students, he said, one has eye trouble, two have hearing defects, two have speech defects, one is crippled, two have grave illness problems such as heart trouble or tuberculosis, three are mentally retarded, three are mentally superior that they are retarded by being held to the level of the remainder of the class, ten are considered dull normal, not able to keep the pace set by the remainder of the class. "Thus at least 25 out of every hundred present problems in teaching that can be met only by having some knowledge of special education," he said.

Motion pictures showing the use of special education programs in the Erie schools were shown.

Other speakers at the dinner session included J. Floyd Slaybaugh, county superintendent of schools, who urged the teachers to make known their needs for sick leave benefits to their respective school boards. Most of the boards have a constructive attitude toward sick leave but if the teachers do not point out the needs and help in forming a sick leave policy the boards will have little incentive to work out the problem, he said.

Adopt Constitution

Dr. Robert A. Bream, assistant county superintendent of schools, and Miss Dorothy Warner also spoke briefly. J. Warren Martin, Fairfield, delegate of the county chapter to the recent PSEA convention, reported on the activities of the convention. Leslie V. Stock, supervising principal of the Biglerville schools, who heads the legislative committee of the county group, told of the progress of the Federal aid to schools bill before the house. Clyde A. McCauslin, principal of the Franklin township consolidated school, reported for the sick leave study committee of which he is chairman and said that recommendations by the committee had been adopted after presentation to the county school board.

H. Dean Stover, Littlestown, chairman of the constitution committee, presented a proposed constitution for the county branch of the PSEA which was adopted at the meeting.

Statement of Purposes

The purposes of the organization as listed in the constitution are: "to cooperate with the Pennsylvania State Education Association in carrying out its objectives; namely, to promote the general educational welfare of the state, to protect and advance the interests of its members, to foster professional zeal, to advance educational standards and to establish and maintain helpful, friendly relationships and as a local branch to foster equalization of educational opportunities for the pupils and teachers of the state and to attain greater efficiency in dealing with local problems of education." The constitution provides for the Four committees are provided by the constitution, with the nominating committee consisting of one member from each of the subdivisions, a social committee comprising three members appointed by the president; a legislative committee of three elected by the organization and an executive council consisting of seven members appointed by the president.

The organization voted to join the National Educational Association.

Miss Dorothy Warner, supervisor of special education in the county, was chairman of the dinner committee. Mrs. Elmira Deardorff headed the entertainment committee. Ninety persons attended.

Start Mailing Military Ballots

The Adams county registration board Saturday began sending military ballots to the 39 men in the service who have so far asked for the ballots. The letters to the men overseas were sent by airmail in order that they would reach the soldiers in time.

The service men have until April 10 to ask for the ballots. So far 17 Democrats and 22 Republicans have sought the military ballots.

SEEK NEW PLAN TO DETERMINE FARMER DRAFT

Establishment of a new "yardstick" for use in determining deferments for Pennsylvania farmers of military age was urged Monday night at a conference of more than 200 representatives of draft boards and war boards from 21 southeastern counties, including Adams, according to The Associated Press. The conference was held at Harrisburg.

The meeting was called by State Selective Service headquarters to discuss a revised system affecting agriculture. Final decisions were delayed pending receipt by state headquarters of the new regulations.

Up to Local Boards

Selective Service last week gave local boards complete authority over farm deferments, discontinuing requirements that farmers must have produced 16 units of foodstuffs in 1943 to be eligible for deferment.

Capt. William I. Markl, of State Draft headquarters, who presided over the meeting, said the consensus was that some kind of yardstick be provided and that selective service is willing "provided it doesn't conflict with new regulations when they are received," according to the AP.

Clyde Zehner, chairman of the Federal Department of Agriculture's State War board, announced that county war boards would continue co-operating with local boards under the new farm system and called for a uniform system of determining deferments to avoid confusion.

Countians at Meeting

Members of both Adams county draft boards and the county War Board who attended the session included: M. E. Knouse, chairman; Dr. R. D. Wickerham and John Bream, of the Gettysburg selective service board. The New Oxford selective service board's representatives included William Yingling, chairman; J. Francis Yake, Jr., Esq., attorney, and Mrs. Laura Freed and Amy Moore, clerks.

Representing the War board at the meeting were its chairman, Harrison P. Snyder, D. E. Hess, Roy Weaver, M. T. Hartman, Richard C. Lighter and C. A. Cluck and secretary Mrs. Lloyd McGlaughlin. Jennings Collins represented the Adams county Emergency Farm Labor committee.

GUERNSEY IN JESTER HERD LEADS DHIA

A Guernsey in the herd of W. Clayton Jester, Biglerville, gave the largest amount of butterfat of the 310 cows on test in Adams county during March, according to the monthly report of Miss Teresa Murren, tester of the county Dairy Herd Improvement Association.

The cow gave 1,704 pounds of milk and 76.7 pounds of fat, or 4.5 per cent fat. Of the 310 cows that were on test, 47 produced over 40 pounds of fat, and 30 gave more than 50 pounds of fat. Thirty-seven cows produced more than 1,000 pounds of milk and 49 more than 1,200 pounds of milk. The 10 highest producing cows in butterfat for the month included:

LEVI DIEHL CRITICAL

The condition of Levi Diehl, Hanover street, was reported today to be critical. He is suffering from a complication of diseases.

Probation Order For Tire Dealers

William R. Shank, New Cumberland, and Lewis A. Johnson, Camp Hill, both operators of service stations who pleaded guilty to charges that they had purchased stolen auto tires among which were tires taken from Dale's Tire shop, along the Harrisburg road, were placed on probation for six months Monday by Judge Fred S. Reese when they appeared before the Cumberland county court at Carlisle for sentence.

State police said Shank accepted nine tires and Johnson six tires from Frank Keleman, Harrisburg, who, police said, had stolen the tires at Gettysburg and Marysville, Keleman, arrested last week in Dauphin county for a series of seven burglaries there, told Shank and Johnson that the tires were "boot-leg" tires.

Judge Reese agreed to suspend sentence on the pair because of their previous good record and the prompt assistance they gave to police in investigating the case. Police said the cooperation of the two men helped in rounding up much loot stolen by Keleman.

"AG" STUDENTS FIND PROFIT IN FARM PROJECTS

The 158 Adams county agricultural education students who completed outside projects during the last year made $10,448.56 from the gardens, farming or cattle keeping that they chose as their projects, according to a report completed by Richard C. Lighter, county agricultural education supervisor.

The youngsters had an income of $32,125.66 from the sale of the products raised by themselves and paid themselves $1,789.58 for their labor, leaving a net profit of $30,336.08 after paying all expenses, including rent for the land occupied by their projects.

The two agriculture students who engaged in fruit growing as their project made the largest profit off their investment, securing a profit of $847.38 for work which they estimated as worth $23.20 in labor costs. They spent $426.97 for rent of the 7.25 acres of trees in the projects and for sprays and other costs and sold the 800 bushel and nine crates of fruits for $1,251.15.

Financed By Students

Five completed beef cattle projects and produced a profit of $160.54 with costs of $1,071.40 and income being $1,190.39. The lone beekeeper made $15.70 from his project consisting of five colonies of bees. The 17 corn growing projects used 40 acres of land and produced 2,160 bushels of corn on the ear; 41.25 tons of stover and 10 tons of silage. The youngsters made $1,133.95 on their activities selling the corn and other products for $2,181.50 and expending $1,153.03. The pupils estimated their labor costs at $105.48. Seventeen heifers and nine calves were the scope of 12 dairy projects completed. The students made $626.69 on their projects.

All of the projects are financed entirely by the youngsters, with the boys renting ground from their fathers' or other farms and then purchasing stock or seed for their projects. All costs of spraying, fertilizing or other needs are paid by the youngsters who keep accurate records of their income and expenditures.

All Made Profit

The youths must pay themselves for their own time according to the current scale of pay and then find whether or not they have made a profit from the project. While in 1942 a few projects failed to show a profit, every one of those completed in 1943 was profitable, according to the records.

Twenty-four students who completed garden and truck patch projects made a profit of $1,081.68 from the 16.28 acres of land they used for the patches. From their truck gardens they produced among other things, 38.12 bushels of snap beans, 16 bushels of dry beans, 491 pounds of cabbage, two bushels of cantaloupes, 6.35 bushels of carrots, a bushel of celery, 6.53 bushels of cucumbers, 10.7 bushels of lettuce, 110 bunches of green onions and 19 bushels of dry onions; 115 quarts of shelled peas and 6.25 bushel of peas in pods, 34.75 bushels of potatoes, 52 pumpkins, 3.03 bushels of radishes, 65 squash, 3.08 bushels of spinach, 663 dozen ears of sweet corn, 8.3 tons of corn for cannerly use and 759.8 bushels of tomatoes.

Snow And Cold Interrupt Spring

Unhappy robins and early spring flowers made the best Wednesday of an unwanted April snow that sent thermometer six degrees below freezing Tuesday night and kept it in the thirties today with the help of a chilly breeze from the northwest. By afternoon most of the light snow had disappeared but the mercury had climbed only to 38 degrees in spite of occasional sunshine.

The weather man forecast continued cold tonight with slowly rising temperatures Thursday.

Sgt. Mark Becker, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Becker, South Washington street, is now stationed in England.

HARTMAN DOES NOT ANTICIPATE LOCUST ATTACK

County Agent M. T. Hartman said today that he does not expect "swarms of locusts" in Adams county this year and that the prediction of State Secretary of Agriculture Miles Horst may not apply to any extensive area of this county.

Mr. Hartman said that the regular 17-year cycle is not due this year, that the most serious recent outbreak was six or seven years ago when some young orchards in the county were ruined.

"The County Agent said the 'swarms' this year may be of a minor nature and that he does not anticipate any serious pestilence.

Orchardists of the Southern Pennsylvania fruit belt were told that according to predictions, Brood 1 of the "seventeen-year locust" is due to invade Franklin, Adams and Cumberland counties in late May.

The warning came from Miles Horst, Pennsylvania Secretary of Agriculture, Thursday night just before he addressed members of the Waynesboro Rotary club and their farmer guests.

Expect Damage

The coming of the 17-year pests may cause serious damage to fruit and other trees and plants, but nothing compared with that which may come next year when Brood II of the periodical cicada will make its appearance over a much larger area along the Atlantic Seaboard from Connecticut to North Carolina.

Last appearance of Brood I in Pennsylvania was in 1927 and Brood II was in 1929. After their summer of life in the open in those years, Secretary Horst explained to newspapermen the offspring burrowed into the ground about a foot deep, or more. For 16 years the Brood I insects have lived on juices from roots of plants and trees. They are now ready to bore through the surface with the coming of warm weather to live in the open for about six weeks. Great swarms of the locusts will be seen at the height of their emergence in mid-June.

Tree damage by the pests usually is confined to the outer, tender twigs where the female locusts cut a series of long slits in the bark, in which to lay their eggs. These cuts eventually weaken the twigs so that wind and weather cause them to break, hang down and wither.

Affects Growth

"Damage to orchards can be great in some areas," Secretary Horst said. "Growing fruit helps break the twigs at the weak points and both foliage and fruit wither and spoil. This injury usually affects the growth of fruit for the next year.

"This is another economic risk that our fruit growers run, and its coming in wartime may prove to be serious, particularly in 1945. Along with the corn borer, our farmers of southeastern Pennsylvania are due to have their hands full this summer, for there are no known methods for effective control of the 17-year locust."

TO HOLD SECOND PRE-INDUCTION MEETING HERE

The second of Adams county's pre-induction educational meetings will be held Friday evening, April 14, at 8 o'clock, at the court house it was announced Tuesday.

Sponsored by the Adams County Council of Defense, the meetings are being held for the purpose of acquainting inductees and their families of facilities offered both.

It is planned to have representatives present from the Army, Navy, Red Cross, USO, American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars. All will explain and answer questions on the functions and facilities offered by their organizations.

Lt. Col. Willis F. Daniels, of the judge advocate's office at Olmstead Field, Pa., will represent the Army while L. D. Strader, Red Cross field director, will again represent that body. It is hoped that a representative of the Navy can be secured in the near future.

Judge W. C. Sheely will preside during the evening.

Prospective inductees and their families and the general public are invited to attend.

RED CROSS FUND GROWING LARGER

The Adams County War Relief campaign reached $26,984.41 Tuesday with an additional $1,200 scheduled to be turned over to the county office this afternoon.

The $1,200 is the amount collected in the theaters of the county during the last week and is more than twice the amount collected by similar collections held last year.

On Friday the county topped its quota of $26,500 and contributions have been coming in fairly regularly ever since. With only $1,800 to go to reach $30,000 after the theater amounts are in, heads of the drive believe final donations may reach that figure.

ANGOTT BEATS AARON PERRY IN 10 HEATS

By PAT O'BRIEN
Washington (AP)—Mr. Samuel Angott, one of the leading citizens of Washington, Pa., told all within listening distance today that he's ready to rejoin the executive circle of fistic champions.

That is, unless Uncle Sam calls him up for military service before he gets another chance to show his wares in a title contest.

Angott, who lost his National Boxing association lightweight crown to Juan Zurita of Mexico last month, showed Tuesday that he still has the championship urge. He pounded out a decisive 10-round verdict over Aaron Perry, 18-year-old Washington negro billed as a sensational fistic prospect. The decision broke Perry's streak of 16 consecutive wins.

Sammy used the first round to "feel out" Perry, then tied the youngster up with a body attack until the last two heats, when Anvil Aaron uncorked a right-hand attack in a desperate knockout try.

Split Decision
Referee Charles Reynolds and one of the judges, O. U. Singer, voted for Angott. Another judge, Dr. Robert Eller, thought Perry had the edge because of general aggressiveness and some half dozen solid smashes.

Before the fight, Angott, who fought as a welterweight, said he was through with trying to make the lightweight 135-pound standard. Afterwards he wasn't so sure and indicated he'd like another crack at Zurita.

If Angott tries to climb back into the lightweight title chase, the already dizzy situation in that division will be further complicated. Zurita holds NBA's recognition. Bob Montgomery of Philadelphia is champion in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. Beau Jack, former Georgia shoe shine boy, has held the New York version of the title twice, and is hot on the trail of it again, after beating Zurita in an overweight match last week.

A record capital indoor crowd of 7,510 fans paid a gross of $30,501 to see Angott dispose of the local pride. Angott weighed 141½, half a pound less than Perry.

LIGHTWEIGHT CIRCUIT SLOWS

New York, N. Y., (AP)—It looks as if the lightweight championship merry-go-round has broken down, for a couple of months at least, with its principal running gears scattered widely.

But the 135-pound carousel currently is the best-paying amusement on midtown's midway, and the chances are that with a few replacements and some tinkering it will be off soon on another dizzy whirl.

Leaders in the lightweight labyrinth, from which someone, somewhere, sometime, may emerge with a clear-cut crown, are Juan Zurita, Bob Montgomery and Beau Jack.

Zurita, Mexico's pride and joy who holds NBA sanction, is heading home for a rest after dropping an overweight 10-rounder last Friday to Beau Jack in Madison Square Garden. Montgomery, holder of the title recognized by New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania is on a vacation. Beau Jack, who has held the New York version twice, and lost it twice, also is set for a layoff in his native Georgia.

And Madison Square Garden, where the boys have been winning and losing in a manner baffling to the betting fraternity, will be filled with an honest-to-goodness circus the next six weeks.

New Powder May Stop Wet Grounds

St. Louis, Missouri (AP)—"Game postponed, wet grounds," may disappear from baseball language if a chemically-treated resin combination developed by a powder company performs as well on the baseball diamond as it has for the armed forces.

It makes soil waterproof. Roads treated with the substance remain dusty even though covered with several inches of water, and Theodore Marvin, of the Hercules Powder company, thinks it will do the same thing for basepaths, pitchers' mounds, and batters' boxes.

"Of course we can't tell for certain x x x because we've been busy developing it for the army, but we'll soon know," Marvin said in an interview.

"The Wilmington, Del. park of the Inter-State league is being treated this week. Judging from the rain the Phillies encountered in spring training there, our product should get a rigid test."

Only parts of the infield not covered by grass can be treated.

Washington To Aid Williamsport Nine

Williamsport, Pa., (AP)—Thomas Richardson, president of the Eastern Baseball league, announced Wednesday a working agreement for the operation of the revived Williamsport Grays baseball team has been signed by Clark Griffith, of the Washington Senators, and John Cambria, proposed operator of the new team.

The recently organized Williamsport Community Baseball association obtained the Eastern league franchise formerly held by Springfield, Massachusetts. Cambria, who came here from Washington, arranged a conference Wednesday with Joseph H. Mosser, chairman of the association, on plans for the team's operations.

Neither Richardson nor Cambria made public details of the working agreement which also has to be ratified by the community association.

NINE-GAME CARD ANNOUNCED FOR PITT GRIDDERS

Pittsburgh, April 6 (AP)—A nine-game schedule, much better balanced than the back-breaking card which launched "T" master Clark Shaughnessy on his University of Pittsburgh coaching task last year, comprises the football diet for Pitt fans next fall.

Seven 1943 opponents are retained and Army and Indiana universities are the newcomers on the program announced last night by Athletic Director Jimmy Hagan. Only 1943 rival dropped is Great Lakes Naval Training Station.

West Virginia, beaten 20-0 last fall, opens the 1944 card, followed by Notre Dame. Bethany is next, permitting a breather between the Notre Dame and Army contests.

Illinois comes here for the first time. If Carnegie Tech falls to defeat a team, some other foe will be substituted. After an open date, the jungle cats then move into Columbus for a meeting with Ohio State.

Close With Lions
The Indiana U. game will be played at Bloomington, a home-and-home series contract providing for a 1945 meeting here. The two teams last met in 1942 when Indiana won, 19-7.

The Panthers close their season with a traditional date with their Penn State rivals.

With Indiana joining Ohio State and Illinois on the Pitt card, Shaughnessy will have three chances to strangle a Western conference jinx which has defied the Panthers since the Jock Sutherland era. Not since Pitt whipped Wisconsin 26-6 in 1938 has a Panther team defeated a rival from the Big Nine.

The schedule:

September: 23, West Virginia; 30, Notre Dame.

October: 7, Bethany; 14, at Army; 21, Illinois; 28, Carnegie Tech.

Hornsby Resigns Vera Cruz Reins

Mexico City (AP)—Rogers Hornsby, former major league great who came to Mexico in February amid reams of publicity, resigned Tuesday as manager of the Vera Cruz baseball club, which he led to second place in the Mexico league.

"The Rajah" said he would return to Fort Worth, Tex., whose Texas league club he piloted in 1942 before the loop suspended.

"I'm perfectly willing to keep my own agreements if the other fellow keeps his," Hornsby said in explaining his action. "But in this case it's hopeless."

Maroons Held First Track Drill Outside

Gettysburg high school's track squad held its first outdoor workout Monday afternoon in preparation for its five-meet schedule which gets underway April 21 when Waynesboro high will be met here in a dual meet.

George Gorman slipped while high jumping and received a torn ligament in his right knee which will probably keep him on the sidelines for the season.

The Maroon squad has been working out indoors for some time and indications point to a fairly strong squad.

Bullet Athlete Joins Athletics

Among a group of rookies to report Monday at the training camp of the Philadelphia Athletics at Frederick was John Andrews, aged 19, a Gettysburg college student.

Andrews was a member of the Gettysburg college basketball squad during the past season. He holds a medical discharge from the Coast Guard. He will try out for short-stop.

ARMSTRONG OKAY

Los Angeles, April 6 (AP)—Henry Armstrong, who has held three world's championships during his boxing career, has passed his physical examination and is due to enter the Army in 21 days.

YANKS' LYONS MAY REPLACE JOHN LINDELL

Atlantic City, April 6 (AP)—If Marse Joe McCarthy of the New York Yankees is real hard up for a replacement for Johnny Lindell, he may find that gentleman where he found his Navy-bound centerfielder—right on his own pitching staff.

In Al Lyons, a rookie right-hander who won 4 and lost 6 for Kansas City last year, he has a husky candidate who can do a better than fair job in the outer gardens where it is conceivable he might follow in Lindell's footsteps.

When Lyons broke into baseball in Los Angeles, he was a pitcher but due to an arm injury he turned to outfielding when he joined the Yankee chain at Joplin, Missouri. In 1941 he hit .304 in the class C western association, drove in 83 runs, hit 32 doubles, 10 triples and 10 homers.

A year in Binghamton, New York, where he led the eastern league in assists with 24 as a right fielder but slumped off to a 249 right fielder last year's adventures in Kansas City. He started as a fielder but went back to pitching for Manager Johnny Neun, after showing one of the best throwing arms in baseball and power-hitting ability, but too much of a tendency toward serious slumps at the plate.

Lindell, of course, came to the Yanks as a pitcher but was made over into a fielder when McCarthy was impressed by his size and hitting ability, and unimpressed by his hurling.

Turns Pitcher
Appearing in 122 games last year, Lindell batted out a fair 244 average but showed power that might have changed him from an ordinary player into a star this season. It was Lindy who bumped Whitey Kurowski at third base in the most-disputed play of the 1943 world series.

Lindell took his draft physical yesterday and passed a preliminary test. The doctors are giving him another once-over and will pass him for the Navy if X-ray tests prove that he will not be troubled by an old head injury.

TROUT SEASON OPENS APRIL 15

Harrisburg (AP)—All Pennsylvania anglers need for a good opening of trout season on April 15 is a break in the weather. Fish Commissioner Charles A. French said Wednesday as he estimated 1,000,000 legal size fish will be stocked by that time.

He said the Fish commission "accomplished a miracle" in its program of stocking streams this year, explaining that only 26 trucks were available to haul the trout while last year there were 42.

"We had to substitute some species, and fishermen, used to finding brown trout in their favorite stream, might come up with rainbows—and vice-versa."

The commissioner believes 1944 will be a good year for trout fishermen. In addition to the 1,000,000 legal size fish of from seven to 18 inches which were stocked this spring, thousands of other trout were released last fall in streams plus "the enormous reserve left in water last year" after a rather poor season.

Fans Boo Decision For Jake LaMotta

Chicago, April 1 (AP)—Jake LaMotta, rugged New York boxer recognized by the National Boxing association as the nation's No. 1 civilian middleweight, put in an extremely busy evening last night at Chicago stadium in taking a split 10 round decision from Army Sgt. Lou Woods of Detroit.

Many in the crowd of 6,402 which paid $18,704 booted the split verdict. Woods weighed 155½, LaMotta 162.

Ousted Recruit Gets Another Try

French Lick, Indiana (AP)—It's strange to find a fellow like Johnny Dickshot—who last year hit .356, drove in 96 runs, slammed 13 homers and now holds a 4-F draft card—working out for the Chicago White Sox this spring on a "look" basis, subject to be shipped back to a minor league club.

It is understood the White Sox paid Hollywood $1500 to have a look at the 192-pound outfielder on a conditional contract basis, and by May 5, will either buy him or will turn him back.

The cause of this maneuvering, it seems, is that in 1937 Pie Traynor, then manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, labelled the 32-year-old fly-chaser a non-hustler. After playing 32 games for the Bucs, Dickshot spent the rest of the season as well as the 1938 campaign as a pinch-hitter.

"I always did my best in a game," says Dickshot. "But I made one fatal mistake. I talked back to Traynor x x x."

"I'm determined to stay with the White Sox this year. At my age, this is my last chance."

DUKES DEFEAT HAZLETON HI TO TAKE TITLE

Philadelphia, (AP)—Pennsylvania may choose two high school basketball championship teams next year.

Soon after the Little Dukes of Duquesne won the 1944 title with a 43-35 victory over Hazleton in Convention hall, the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association announced it would study the possibility of sponsoring tournaments for both Class A and Class B schools.

The association, at its spring meeting, named a committee to study the plan and report at a later session. A similar study was considered two years ago but the proposal did not materialize.

A swift and sure passing attack won Duquesne the 1944 crown and moved the championship back to the western steel district for the first time since 1939, when Homestead defeated Lower Merion 29-24 in Penn's Palestra.

Hazleton was crippled by the loss of Carl (Red) Meinhold, high scoring center, who was injured in a semi-final game against Lower Merion. Meinhold watched the Saturday night game from the bench.

Johnny Kashlak, Duke forward, got his team off to a running start by scoring four points in the opening seconds. He and Bob Tedesky then pooled their talents to form a scoring combination that kept the Mountaineers baffled.

BEAU JACK IS WINNER OVER JUAN ZURITA

By FRITZ HOWELL
New York, April 1 (AP)—This is Beau Jack's 23rd birthday, and sometime before dusk he'll step into Uncle Mike Jacobs' 20th Century Sporting club office and pick up a $25,000 birthday present.

And that is no "April Fool" gag. The $25,000—or thereabouts—will be the ex-boatblack's bit of last night's $87,802 gate receipts at Madison Square Garden, where he pounded out a 10-round decision over Juan Zurita of Mexico City, the NBA's new lightweight champion who was making his first eastern appearance.

The clever and straight-punching Zurita made Beau Jack miss plenty of punches, but the gorgeous Georgian whittled out the verdict by having much the better of the infighting and by forcing the action all the way in the overweight, non-title scrap. Jack weighed 136, Zurita 134½.

Rest In Mexico
George Parnassus, pilot of the Mexican scrapper, said he thought his boy won the fight. He also said he wasn't booking any more eastern appearances right now, but was leaving early next week for a rest in Mexico.

Beau Jack, with the Garden turned over to the circus starting Monday, must look for new gold fields to mine. It looks as if he'll tag along with Cleo Shans in Boston before long, and he also has a tentative date in Philadelphia for May, against an undetermined opponent, possibly Ike Williams.

Beau Jack came out of the Zurita fight with two injured hands, and a strained back. He hurt his hands hitting the Mexican, and hurt his back missing him, Beau said. Zurita's only marks of battle were some rosy red spots around his mid-section.

Griffith Looking South For Talent

Washington, (A P)—Bageball, says Clark Griffith, should go south, way south, to look for talent in the war-time manpower emergency.

The 74-year-old owner of the Washington Senators, who thinks he has a 1944 pennant winner, has about a dozen Cubans, several Puerto Ricans, three Venezuelans and a couple of Mexicans on a squad that many experts have picked as tops in the American league.

"For fielding, players don't come any better anywhere than from Cuba and South America," he says. "If we can show them a few pointers about hitting, they'll be tough to beat."

Utah Captures Cage Title In New York

New York, N. Y., (AP)—Three weeks ago Utah's basketball kids were eliminated in the first round of the National Invitation tourney, but today they're kings of the country's cagers.

Last Thursday night in Madison Square Garden, before 18,125 fans who paid $35,000 which was turned over to the Red Cross, the blitz kids stormed to a 43-36 victory over St. John's of Brooklyn, which won the invitation tourney after the Utes stumbled over Kentucky in the opening game.

Utah got into the national collegiate meet when Arkansas dropped out, and battled its way to the title.

The Utes were underdogs last night as the winners of the two big tourneys tangled, but forward Arnold Ferrin scored 17 points to lead them to victory.

AIRBORNE PRO GRID LEAGUE DEVELOPING

Pittsburgh, (AP)—An airborne transcontinental professional football league drew another step closer to materialization when representatives from eight cities met here yesterday and elected temporary officers to administer affairs until a permanent organization is effected.

The loop, as yet unnamed, plans a December meeting when further discussions for postwar operation would be held among representatives from New York, Seattle, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Baltimore and Washington.

All received certificates of participation, although Baltimore and Washington spokesmen did not attend the session. They confirmed by telephone their desire to be included in the setup.

Major League Ball

Roland D. Payne, of Pittsburgh, was elected temporary chairman of the new league. "The class of football will be major league," Payne said, in announcing that play will not begin until manpower conditions permit organization of teams after the war.

Representatives at the meeting included Charles A. Burns, Akron, Ohio; Andrew W. Vismansky, Pittsburgh, representing Carl D. Smith, Pittsburgh; John J. Ahlin, Philadelphia; Frank M. Strock, New York City, representing William D. Cox, former president of the Phillies baseball club and New York and Seattle lumberman who plans to organize teams in both cities; John P. Ludgate, Cincinnati, representing Han Pennington, Cincinnati, and Edward L. Gaertner, St. Louis, representing J. W. E. Yates, St. Louis.

Payne said the two representatives who joined the league by telephone were Lt. Harry L. Harris, Washington, now in the U. S. Coast Guard, and Jacob W. Slagle, Baltimore.

40 CINDERMEN SEEK POSTS ON MAROON SQUAD

Despite the lack of a single letterman from last year's Gettysburg high school track squad, Coach Mel Dry and his assistant, Fred Haehnlen, are anticipating a fair team this year.

Eighteen of the candidates were squad members last season and from that group the Maroon coaches hope to build a satisfactory team.

It was announced today that a sixth meet has been scheduled, that being a dual affair with Mercersburg academy at Mercersburg on May 20.

Complete Schedule

The complete schedule follows: April 21, Waynesboro, home; April 28, Carlisle, away; May 5, South Penn conference meeting at Waynesboro under the lights; May 12, Hanover, home; May 18, Harrisburg Catholic, home, and May 20, Mercersburg academy, away.

From an original turnout of 54 candidates there are now 40 kids seeking regular starting posts. Inclement weather has hindered drills and it is doubtful if the squad will be in top condition for its opening meet.

On Tuesday the Maroons lost a promising performer, George Gorman, who tore a ligament in his right knee while jumping. He will be out for the season.

GOLF STARS END SEASON CIRCUIT

Knoxville, Tenn., (AP)—Harold (Jug) McSpaden and Byron Nelson, who battled side by side in golf's winter swing, headed for their home courses Monday with $23,900 in war bonds for their efforts.

McSpaden, the Philadelphia who won the San Francisco Open, the Phoenix, the Hope-Crosby tournament and the Gulf Mississippi Open, led with $13,500 in war bonds, while Nelson, the 31-year-old iron master from Toledo, Ohio, pocketed $10,400 in bonds.

Clipping seven strokes off par figures in the final 36 holes, Nelson nosed out his rival, McSpaden, by a stroke and won Knoxville's First Open tournament yesterday with a 72-hole 270.

Bob Hamilton of Evansville, Indiana, finished in a third place 274 tie with Tony Penna of Dayton, Ohio. Each got $668.

Craig Wood of Mamaroneck, New York, Duration National Open champion, won $500 fifth place money with a 275, while Johnny Bulla, of Atlanta, with 278 was a stroke ahead of Jimmy Hines, Amsterdam, New York, and Johnny Revolta of Evanston, Illinois.

ANGOTT BEATS AARON PERRY IN 10 HEATS

By PAT O'BRIEN
Washington (AP)—Mr. Samuel Angott, one of the leading citizens of Washington, Pa., told all within listening distance today that he's ready to rejoin the executive circle of fistic champions.

That is, unless Uncle Sam calls him up for military service before he gets another chance to show his wares in a title contest.

Angott, who lost his National Boxing association lightweight crown to Juan Zurita of Mexico last month, showed Tuesday that he still has the championship urge. He pounded out a decisive 10-round verdict over Aaron Perry, 18-year-old Washington negro billed as a sensational fistic prospect. The decision broke Perry's streak of 16 consecutive wins.

Sammy used the first round to "feel out" Perry, then tied the youngster up with a body attack until the last two heats, when Anvil Aaron uncorked a right-hand attack in a desperate knockout try.

Split Decision
Referee Charles Reynolds and one of the judges, O. U. Singer, voted for Angott. Another judge, Dr. Robert Eiler, thought Perry had the edge because of general aggressiveness and some half dozen solid smashes.

Before the fight, Angott, who fought as a welterweight, said he was through with trying to make the lightweight 135-pound standard. Afterwards he wasn't so sure and indicated he'd like another crack at Zurita.

If Angott tries to climb back into the lightweight title chase, the already dizzy situation in that division will be further complicated. Zurita holds NBA's recognition. Bob Montgomery of Philadelphia is champion in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. Beau Jack, former Georgia shoe shine boy, has held the New York version of the title twice, and is hot on the trail of it again, after beating Zurita in an overweight match last week.

A record capital indoor crowd of 7,510 fans paid a gross of $30,501 to see Angott dispose of the local pride. Angott weighed 141½, half a pound less than Perry.

LIGHTWEIGHT CIRCUIT SLOWS

New York, N. Y. (AP)—It looks as if the lightweight championship merry-go-round has broken down, for a couple of months at least, with its principal running gears scattered widely.

But the 135-pound carousel currently is the best-paying amusement on midtown's midway, and the chances are that with a few replacements and some tinkering it will be off soon on another dizzy whirl.

Leaders in the lightweight labyrinth, from which someone, somewhere, sometime, may emerge with a clear-cut crown, are Juan Zurita, Bob Montgomery and Beau Jack.

Zurita, Mexico's pride and joy who holds NBA sanction, is heading home for a rest after dropping an overweight 10-round last Friday to Beau Jack in Madison Square Garden. Montgomery, holder of the title recognized by New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania is on a vacation. Beau Jack, who has held the New York version twice, and lost it twice, also is set for a layoff in his native Georgia.

And Madison Square Garden, where the boys have been winning and losing in a manner baffling to the betting fraternity, will be filled with an honest-to-goodness circus the next six weeks.

New Powder May Stop Wet Rounds

St. Louis, Missouri (AP)—"Game postponed, wet grounds," may disappear from baseball language if a chemically-treated resin combination developed by a powder company performs as well on the baseball diamond as it has for the armed forces.

It makes soil waterproof. Roads treated with the substance remain dusty even though covered with several inches of water, and Theodore Marvin, of the Hercules Powder company, thinks it will do the same thing for basepaths, pitchers' mounds, and batters' boxes.

"Of course we can't tell for certain x x x because we've been busy developing it for the army, but we'll soon know," Marvin said in an interview.

"The Wilmington, Del. park of the Inter-State league is being treated this week. Judging from the rain the Phillies encountered in spring training there, our product should get a rigid test."

Only parts of the infield not covered by grass can be treated.

Washington To Aid Williamsport Nine

Williamsport, Pa., (AP)—Thomas Richardson, president of the Eastern Baseball league, announced Wednesday a working agreement for the operation of the revived Williamsport Grays baseball team has been signed by Clark Griffith, of the Washington Senators, and John Cambria, proposed operator of the new team.

The recently organized Williamsport Community Baseball association obtained the Eastern league franchise formerly held by Springfield, Massachusetts. Cambria, who came here from Washington, arranged a conference Wednesday with Joseph H. Mosser, chairman of the association, on plans for the team's operations.

Neither Richardson nor Cambria made public details of the working agreement which also has to be ratified by the community association.

NINE-GAME CARD ANNOUNCED FOR PITT GRIDDERS

Pittsburgh, April 6 (AP)—A nine-game schedule, much better balanced than the back-breaking card which launched "T" master Clark Shaughnessy on his University of Pittsburgh coaching task last year, comprises the football diet for Pitt fans next fall.

Seven 1943 opponents are retained and Army and Indiana universities are the newcomers on the program announced last night by Athletic Director Jimmy Hagan. Only 1943 rival dropped is Great Lakes Naval Training Station.

West Virginia, beaten 20-0 last fall, opens the 1944 card, followed by Notre Dame. Bethany is next, permitting a breather between the Notre Dame and Army contests. Illinois comes here for the first time, as Carnegie Tech falls to field a team, some other foe will be substituted. After an open date, the jungle cats then move into Columbus for a meeting with Ohio State.

Close With Lions
The Indiana U. game will be played at Bloomington, a home-and-home series contract providing for a 1945 meeting here. The two teams last met in 1942 when Indiana won, 19-7.

The Panthers close their season with a traditional date with their Penn State rivals.

With Indiana joining Ohio State and Illinois on the Pitt card, Shaughnessy will have three chances to strangle a Western conference jinx which has defied the Panthers since the Jock Sutherland era. Not since Pitt whipped Wisconsin 26-6 in 1938 has a Panther team defeated a rival from the Big Nine.

The schedule:
September: 23, West Virginia; 30, Notre Dame.

October: 7, Bethany; 14, at Army; 21, Illinois; 28, Carnegie Tech.

Hornsby Resigns Vera Cruz Resins

Mexico City (AP)—Rogers Hornsby, former major league great who came to Mexico in February amid reams of publicity, resigned Tuesday as manager of the Vera Cruz baseball club, which he led to second place in the Mexico league.

"The Rajah" said he would return to Fort Worth, Tex., whose Texas league club he piloted in 1942 before the loop suspended.

"I'm perfectly willing to keep my own agreements if the other fellow keeps his," Hornsby said in explaining his action. "But in this case it's hopeless."

Maroons Held First Track Drill Outside

Gettysburg high school's track squad held its first outdoor workout Monday afternoon in preparation for its five-meet schedule which gets underway April 21 when Waynesboro high will be met here in a dual meet.

George Gorman slipped while high jumping and received a torn ligament in his right knee which will probably keep him on the sidelines for the season.

The Maroon squad has been working out indoors for some time and indications point to a fairly strong squad.

Bullet Athlete Joins Athletics

Among a group of rookies to report Monday at the training camp of the Philadelphia Athletics at Frederick was John Andrews, aged 19, a Gettysburg college student.

Andrews was a member of the Gettysburg college basketball squad during the past season. He holds a medical discharge from the Coast Guard. He will try out for shortstop.

ARMSTRONG OKAY

Los Angeles, April 6 (AP)—Henry Armstrong, who has held three world's championships during his boxing career, has passed his physical examination and is due to enter the Army in 21 days.

YANKS' LYONS MAY REPLACE JOHN LINDELL

Atlantic City, April 6 (AP)—If Marse Joe McCarthy of the New York Yankees is real hard up for a replacement for Johnny Lindell, he may find that gentleman where he found his Navy-bound centerfielder—right on his own pitching staff.

In Al Lyons, a rookie righthander who won 4 and lost 6 for Kansas City last year, he has a husky candidate who can do a better than fair job in the outer gardens where it is conceivable he might follow in Lindell's footsteps.

When Lyons broke into baseball in Los Angeles, he was a pitcher but due to an arm injury he turned to outfielding when he joined the Yankee chain at Joplin, Missouri. In 1941 he hit .304 in the class C western association, drove in 83 runs, hit 32 doubles, 10 triples and 10 homers.

A year in Binghamton, New York, where he led the eastern league in assists with 24 as a right fielder but slumped off to a .249 hitter preceded last year's adventures in Kansas City. He started as a fielder but went back to pitching for Manager Johnny Neun, after showing one of the best throwing arms in baseball and power-hitting ability, but too much of a tendency toward serious slumps at the plate.

Lindell, of course, came to the Yanks as a pitcher but was made over into a fielder when McCarthy was impressed by his size and hitting ability, and unimpressed by his hurling.

Turns Pitcher

Appearing in 122 games last year, Lindell batted out a fair 244 average but showed power that might have changed him from an ordinary player into a star this season. It was Lindy who bumped Whitey Kurowski at third base in the most-disputed play of the 1943 world series.

Lindell took his draft physical yesterday and passed a preliminary test. The doctors are giving him another once-over and will pass him for the Navy if X-ray tests prove that he will not be troubled by an old head injury.

TROUT SEASON OPENS APRIL 15

Harrisburg (AP)—All Pennsylvania anglers need for a good opening of trout season on April 15 is a break in the weather. Fish Commissioner Charles A. French said Wednesday as he estimated 1,000,000 legal size fish will be stocked by that time.

He said the Fish commission "accomplished a miracle" in its program of stocking streams this year, explaining that only 26 trucks were available to haul the trout while last year there were 42.

"We had to substitute some species, and fishermen, used to finding brown trout in their favorite stream, might come up with rainbows—and vice-versa."

The commissioner believes 1944 will be a good year for trout fishermen. In addition to the 1,000,000 legal size fish of from seven to 18 inches which were stocked this spring, thousands of other trout were released last fall in streams plus "the enormous reserve left in water last year" after a rather poor season.

Fans Boo Decision For Jake LaMotta

Chicago, April 1 (AP)—Jake LaMotta, rugged New York boxer recognized by the National Boxing association as the nation's No. 1 civilian middleweight, put in an extremely busy evening last night at Chicago stadium in taking a split 10 round decision from Army Sgt. Lou Woods of Detroit.

Many in the crowd of 6,402 which paid $18,704 booed the split verdict. Woods weighed 155½, LaMotta 162.

Ousted Recruit Gets Another Try

French Lick, Indiana (AP)—It's strange to find a fellow like Johnny Dickshot—who last year hit .356, drove in 96 runs, slammed 13 homers and now holds a 4-F draft card—working out for the Chicago White Sox this spring on a "look" basis, subject to be shipped back to a minor league club.

It is understood the White Sox paid Hollywood $1,500 to have a look at the 192-pound outfielder on a conditional contract basis, and by May 5, will either buy him or will turn him back.

The cause of this maneuvering, it seems, is that in 1937 Pie Traynor, then manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, labelled the 32-year-old fly-chaser a non-hurster. After playing 32 games for the Bucs, Dickshot spent the rest of the season as well as the 1938 campaign as a pinch-hitter.

"I always did my best in a game," says Dickshot. "But I made one fatal mistake. I talked back to Traynor x x x."

"I'm determined to stay with the White Sox this year. At my age, this is my last chance." Dickshot went to the Pirates in 1936 after notching a .347 for Buffalo of the International league.

DUKES DEFEAT HAZLETON HI TO TAKE TITLE

Philadelphia, (AP)—Pennsylvania may choose two high school basketball championship teams next year.

Soon after the Little Dukes of Duquesne won the 1944 title with a 43-35 victory over Hazleton in Convention hall, the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association announced it would study the possibility of sponsoring tournaments for both Class A and Class B schools.

The association, at its spring meeting, named a committee to study the plan and report at a later session. A similar study was considered two years ago but the proposal did not materialize.

A swift and sure passing attack won Duquesne the 1944 crown and moved the championship back to the western title district for the first time since 1939, when Homestead defeated Lower Merion 29-24 in Penn's Palestra.

Hazleton was crippled by the loss of Carl (Red) Meinhold, high scoring center, who was injured in a semi-final game against Lower Merion. Meinhold watched the Saturday night game from the bench.

Johnny Kashlak, Duke forward, got his team off to a running start by scoring four points in the opening periods. He and Bob Tedesky then pooled their talents to form a scoring combination that kept the Mountaineers baffled.

BEAU JACK IS WINNER OVER JUAN ZURITA

By FRITZ HOWELL
New York, April 1 (AP)—This is Beau Jack's 23rd birthday, and sometime before dusk he'll step into Uncle Mike Jacobs' 20th Century Sporting club office and pick up a $25,000 birthday present.

And that is no "April Fool" gag. The $25,000—or thereabouts—will be the ex-bootblack's bit of last night's $87,802 race receipts at Madison Square Garden, where he pounded out a 10-round decision over Juan Zurita of Mexico City, the NBA's new lightweight champion who was making his first eastern appearance.

The clever and straight-punching Zurita made Beau Jack miss plenty of punches, but the gorgeous Georgian whittled out the verdict by having much the better of the infighting and by forcing the action all the way in the overweight, non-title scrap. Jack weighed 136, Zurita 133½.

Rest In Mexico
George Parnassus, pilot of the Mexican scrapper, said he thought his boy won the fight. He also said he wasn't booking any more eastern appearances right now, but was leaving early next week for a rest in Mexico.

Beau Jack, with the Garden turned over to the circus starting Monday, must look for new gold fields to mine. It looks as if he'll tangle with Cleo Shans in Boston before long, and he also has a tentative date in Philadelphia for May, against an undetermined opponent, possibly Ike Williams.

Beau Jack came out of the Zurita fight with two injured hands, and a strained back. He hurt his hands hitting the Mexican, and hurt his back missing him. Beau said. Zurita's only marks of battle were some rosy red spots around his mid-section.

Griffith Looking South For Talent

Washington, (A P)—Baseball, says Clark Griffith, should go south, way south, to look for talent in the war-time manpower emergency.

The 74-year-old owner of the Washington Senators, who thinks he has a 1944 pennant winner, has about a dozen Cubans, several Puerto Ricans, three Venezuelans and a couple of Mexicans on a squad that many experts have picked as tops in the American league.

"For fielding, players don't come any better anywhere than from Cuba and South America," he says. "If we can show them a few pointers about hitting, they'll be tough to beat."

Utah Captures Cage Title In New York

New York, N. Y. (AP)—Three weeks ago Utah's basketball kids were eliminated in the first round of the National Invitation tournament, but today they're kings of the country's cagers.

Last Thursday night in Madison Square Garden, before 18,125 fans who paid $35,000 which was turned over to the Red Cross, the blitz kids stormed to a 43-36 victory over St. John's of Brooklyn, which won the invitation tourney after the Utes stumbled over Kentucky in the opening game.

Utah got into the national collegiate meet when Arkansas dropped out, and battled its way to the title.

The Utes were underdogs last night as the winners of the two big tournaments tangled, but forward Arnold Ferrin scored 17 points to lead them to victory.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

"APRIL FOOL"
Time was upon this curious day
(I wonder when it first began?)
I found my robes in disarray;
On foolish errands off I ran.
I telephoned to Mr. Fox,
To find him quartered at the zoo;
Kicked derby hats that covered rocks,
As still the unsuspecting do.

Time was, before our youngsters grew, (How soon to better sense they came!)
I tried a cotton cake to chew,
And next a stick of wooden gum.
I stooped for purses on the street,
To have them snatched away from me,
And thought it very right and meet
A willing "April Fool" to be.

This day I'll bite a cotton roll.
(Time carries on these customs old.)
Find salt within the sugar bowl,
And very hot what should be cold.
And watched by two wide sets of eyes
That wait my deep chagrin to see
When I am taken by surprise,
A grandpa "April Fool" I'll be.

So give me salt instead of sweet
And turn my garments inside out.
I'll chuckle as I hear them shout.
A fool of me that pair can make
So long as life in me remains.
The bargain's fair! I'll gladly take
Their love and laughter for my pains!

MAN'S POSSIBILITY
As the doctor on his rounds,
You may say: "He's seven pounds
And although now very small
May some day be six feet tall."
But when measurements are made,
To the ounce when he is weighed,
Noted shade of hair and eyes,
Still a mystery he lies.
For there's none allowed to see
What his influence will be.

In that cradle there may slay
One to change the world some
One to change the world some day:
One to come, as one before,
From a humble cottage door,
To stand firm for what seems best:
Be the friend of all oppressed;
To be gentle as a child;
To be scoffed at and reviled,
But, the last shard being hurled,
Unto freedom lead the world.

This is mankind's only need:
One with faith enough to lead;
One, however lowly born,
Brave enough to stand to scorn:
One to say, when cynics smirk:
"I must do my father's work!"
One to stand from right unswayed
However friends persuade,
And there's none so wise on earth
Who can tell a baby's worth.

IT'S A SHIP
The navy boys are pleasant; they are friendly as can be.
No matter where you meet them
they are jolly company.
Their eyes are quick to twinkle
and their faces quick to grin.
They are fond of mirth and music and they all have yams to spin.
But their peacefulness will vanish and they'll want to slit your throat
If you haven't learned their language
and you call their ship a "boat."

You may not know aft from forward,
or the starboard from the port
Or that discipline is rigid when the vessel's known as "aunt."
You may say "downstairs," land-lubber, when you ought to say
"below."
And a sailor may forgive you and
no sign of temper show,
But a flash of indignation on his face you'll promptly note
If you make this foolish blunder
and you call his ship a "boat."

Now a boat is something simple
which by oars can be propelled.
It's a craft for lakes and rivers and by far it's never shelled.
It is swung on ships in davits, and at times in storms at sea
Should the nobler vessel founder,
very useful it can be,
But from cabin boy to skipper you'll get every sailor's goat
And he'll never quite forgive you if you call his ship a "boat."

PASTORS PAY TRIBUTE TO H. C. HARTLEY

Mourning friends and business associates of Howard C. Hartley, who conducted a dry goods business on center square as partner and later as sole owner for more than half a century, heard the memory of the departed lauded as "an honored citizen, a true father and a devoted churchman" at final rites conducted Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Bender funeral home.

The Rev. Ralph R. Gresh, pastor of St. James Lutheran church which Mr. Hartley had served for many years as an officer and faithful member, and a former pastor, the Rev. Dr. Joseph B. Baker, of York, stood before the flower-banked bier to praise Mr. Hartley's exemplary life and to offer comfort to those who lament his passing.

Service To Church
The Rev. Mr. Gresh opened the funeral service by reading passages of Scripture that included the 23rd Psalm, a passage from I Thessalonians the fourth chapter, John 14 and the Beatitudes. Then the Rev. Dr. Baker offered a prayer in which he referred to Mr. Hartley as "one of the princes of the Kingdom of God whose days and years of quiet, sweet comradeship were devoted to extending the borders of the Christian kingdom."

The Rev. Mr. Gresh delivered a brief sermon in which he spoke first of death and its meaning. "Death does not mean extinction," he said. "It does not stand for the end of things but rather for the opening of a door to a fuller, richer life for the children of God."

"The real gain in life comes to those who have learned to understand life as a gift of God with infinite meaning. Our departed brother had this outlook on life. He was a man successful in the affairs of business, respected and admired by all of the good citizens of his community."

"A True Father"
"He was a true father and long to be remembered by his children. He was a devoted churchman who gave many years to the work and program of his church. He was a regular attendant upon the worship services of the church and upon the last Sunday of his life he was in his accustomed place in the house of God. Now he is gone but the memory of his life always will be with us."

Limiting his remarks to a few minutes, Doctor Baker spoke of "the memory of many years of sacred fellowship (with Mr. Hartley) in the sweetest work mortals ever engaged in."

He quoted a Biblical reference to Abel of whom it was said "He being dead yet speaketh" and then suggested messages Mr. Hartley's life speaks to those who mourn his passing. "These quotations come to my mind as those Mr. Hartley's life might be saying to us: 'In quietness and confidence shall be thy strength.' For the words 'quietness and confidence' express his life. He had the quietness of the pillar and a sure confidence in the things of God."

"Forsoke not the assembling of yourselves together," he is saying for he was always in church to meet his God, no matter who the preacher was. His life was a Bible and not a word was blurred, not a page marred."

Prayer closed the service at the funeral home. Many joined the funeral cortege to the Evergreen cemetery where committal rites were conducted.

HERE AND THERE

MISS HELEN L. COPE
The book of Time has closed for Adams county's foremost and most highly esteemed woman educator. Miss Helen L. Cope. Tomorrow afternoon men and women and children in all walks of life will pay their final tribute to her memory. . . . a memory that will linger long after the present generation has answered its final summons.

Some mortals accomplish widely heralded worldly things and to their memory are erected shafts of bronze or marble as lasting tributes.

Miss Cope is not included in this group. It is not likely that her name will be widely acclaimed, outside the realm of a small area. But her words and deeds, her loving affection for young America and her tireless devotion to education will have a lasting effect upon hundreds and hundreds of men and women who were privileged to have had her as their instructor.

Not for pecuniary gain or profit; not for worldly acclaim or the plaudits of the assembly did Miss Cope devote more than forty years to the profession of teaching. She was of the old school and her theories and practices were beyond criticism. She taught school because she loved it. She was a strict disciplinarian but her pupils loved her. She tolerated no brashness or trifling interest and her pupils respected her for it.

She was held in high esteem by all who knew her. The fruits of her harvest were reflected in the success achieved by those she taught.

Although she retired from active practice she never retired her interest, love and affection for the students of Gettysburg. Their pleasures reechoed her enjoyment. Their sorrows were her bereavement. Their success was her goal.

Now that she has gone before, her influence will be felt by all of us who are left behind, even by those who were not privileged to be listed among her close acquaintances. Her shaft of tribute will be measured by the success of those she taught and with whom she associated. Miss Cope would want it that way.

Two letters in our morning's mail are published herewith. No comment that we might make would add to their significance and meaning. They are self-explanatory. Here they are:

From Corporal Richard T. Morrison, Care of the Postmaster at New Orleans:

"It gave me a big thrill to read your issue of February 4 which reported that Adams County leads the Nation in obtaining the highest percentage of its Fourth War Bond Campaign quota, and it made me proud to show the article to all my buddies here. They all think the people in my county the doing a real swell job in backing up the boys in the service with such a fine response in bond purchase investments."

"News like that about Adams county is a big factor in keeping up the morale of the men who are far away from home doing this necessary job, and it is nice to know that the people back home are behind us. I know that if people throughout the country come through in the same way as those in Adams County, the time we have to be away from home will be proportionately shorter, and we will be able to come back to our loved ones that much sooner."

"I know that the people of Adams County, by backing the attack as they are with their money, want an early victory so that they can return to the building of the future for us and for our descendants. I know that they are looking forward to the higher things that mean so much in the American way of life—spiritual, educational, cultural and democratic."

"Let this letter be an expression of my own appreciation and that of my fellow-soldiers for the patriotism and devotion of my fellow-citizens of Adams County in supporting our country's war effort."

From Pfc. J. H. Palmer, care of the Postmaster, San Francisco:

"Just a few lines to let you know how proud I am of The Gettysburg Times and all the people of Adams County. It was with great pleasure that I read in the paper that the county was the first one to go over the top in the Bond Drive. It is with great pride that I can say that I am a citizen of our prosperous county."

"I receive The Times at regular intervals. It takes it a long time to get here but it sure is welcome."

HOWARD C. HARTLEY
Howard C. Hartley, merchant, churchman, husband, father and solid citizen has passed to his eternal reward. He lived four score years in plain and simple fashion. Without fanfare he devoted his life to his family, his business and his church.

Death, as it does to all men, came to him early Friday morning. He suffered a heart attack from which he never recovered. His passing was as simple and quiet as his very life had been.

Howard Hartley was a good man, an active churchman, a methodical business man and a good provider. He will be remembered for these noble qualities. He was modest and temperate in all things. He shied from public spotlight. His church work, his business and his own fireside were his worldly pleasures.

For more than a half century he maintained a business and operated it on a simple and even keel. The trend to modernism had no appeal for him. He even frowned on cash registers, preferring the old-style counter-cash drawers. He was an honest, upright gentleman of the old school and he treated his fellow man with tolerance and respect. His reputation for honesty and fairness was widespread.

He walked to and from his work four times a day. One could almost set his clock by his passing, so punctual was he in this and all other things. His life was as sound and as conservative as the merchandise he sold. Dependable to the ninth degree Howard Hartley enjoyed the respect and admiration of the entire community.

His passing came as a shock. His absence will be long felt. There is but one consolation. . . . Howard Hartley, a good man, has gone to his justly earned eternal reward.

"I have just received my Thursday's edition of The Gettysburg Times. The first thing my eyes fell upon was the article 'Have a Heart.' Although I am in the service I felt it was my duty to add my bit to the (Red Cross) fund. It will be a little late but I'm sure it will help just as much. So I am enclosing $3 with this short letter and hope that it will help some fellow-soldier who is not lucky enough to still be in good old America. Very Sincerely, Pvt. Harold L. Ecker, Fort Belvoir, Va."

The above communication thrilled the hearts of the Red Cross headquarters staff when it was received this morning. It is typical of many similar letters from our men and women in service who appreciate the efforts of the Red Cross.

Adams county is lagging in its salvage of waste paper and Uncle Sam is making more and stronger appeals to all of us to help him out. He needs waste paper . . . and every piece he can get. Paper is used for a hundred and one purposes in the war effort and it is wasteful not to save waste paper. Don't throw even the smallest piece away. Don't burn any of it. Save every bit!

Three hundred trained merchandising experts from the sales staffs of the National Biscuit company and the Quaker Oats company in Pennsylvania have been loaned to the state salvage committee to work on paper salvage under the direction of salvage chairmen in each county and each community. They'll probably have some new ideas . . . but the most important thing to do is save every piece of waste paper. Dig around your house and salvage every ounce of paper you can. Tie it in bundles or put it in containers and the firemen will collect it at regular intervals.

And while you are at it be sure to save your household fats. That's another important "win-the-war" contribution. Remember you get ration points for food for every pound of household fats you save.

Efficient Work Wins Pay Increase

Miss Thelma P. Kroushour, Gettysburg R. 1, was one of 29 employees of the old-age and survivors' insurance bureau of the Social Security Board at Baltimore who were awarded annual wage increases ranging from $60 to $200 for "outstanding performance and valuable suggestions," was announced Tuesday by John J. Corson, national director of the bureau which keeps social security accounts for nearly 75,000,000 persons.

Miss Kroushour, an employee of the "report processing section" of the bureau was selected for unusual honor by Mr. Corson who stated that she "has been able to turn out 492 cards an hour, or 4,108 daily, the highest consistent average ever maintained in the verifying work."

TO TRAIN TESTERS
A short course for the training of dairy herd improvement association testers will be given by the Pennsylvania State college May 3 to 17. About 50 new testers will be needed this year. Women as well as men are invited to attend the short course.

Confirm Class Of 12 At East Berlin

The Rev. Snyder Allen, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, East Berlin, confirmed a class of twelve boys and girls on Palm Sunday at the church. They were: Horace Baker, Donald Mickey, Donald R. Moul, Stewart Wrights, Nadine Baker, Evelyn Eisenhart, Emma Jean Leib, Nancy J. Morris, Peggy Ann Moul, Louise Jacobs, Elaine Joyce Hoover and Helena Young.

Easter Dawn service will take place at the church Sunday morning at 8:30, and will be open to the public. Mrs. Verne V. Brandt, Mrs. Floyd Hoffman, Mrs. Robert S. Lau and Miss Mae Bender Wolf are in charge of arrangements.

HOLD LAST RITES FOR MISS COPE; TRIBUTE BY DAR

Several hundred friends, relatives and former associates, the great majority of them former pupils of Miss Helen L. Cope, attended funeral services for the retired head of the Gettysburg public school system Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Bender funeral home.

The service was conducted by the Gettysburg Presbyterian church of which Miss Cope was an active member for many years, and the Rev. Dr. Dwight F. Putman, pastor of Christ Lutheran church. Interment was made in Evergreen cemetery.

Two nephews and four elders of the Presbyterian church served as the pallbearers. They were Robert B. Martin and Joseph B. Wible, nephews, and E. Donald Scott, superintendent of the Presbyterian Sunday school where Miss Cope had served as a teacher; Herbert G. Hamme, John K. Lott and Hugh C. McIlhenny, members of the church session.

DAR Resolutions
A committee of regents of the Gettysburg chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution of which Miss Cope was an active member on Wednesday adopted the following resolutions on the death of Miss Cope:

"Whereas: In the death of Miss Helen Cope, a member of the Gettysburg chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the chapter has lost one of its most loyal and devoted daughters; we, a committee of Regents of the Gettysburg chapter, hereby record our admiration for the fine example of Christian citizenship which Miss Cope set before us.

"As chairman of the committee on National Defense through Patriotic Education, Miss Cope planned the essay contests for the high school and the annual program at which the prizes were awarded. The planning of the details of this year's contest and program was her last public duty.

"Miss Cope was deeply interested in the history of our country and believed the education of its youth in patriotism to be of prime importance in responsible citizenship.

"In her personal contacts, Miss Cope was always warmly human, remembering with joy the friendships of all her former students.

"The Daughters of the American Revolution cherish the memory of her life within our chapter.

"Therefore, be it resolved that: This very inadequate expression of our regard for Miss Helen Cope be recorded in the minutes of our chapter and that a copy be sent to her two sisters, Mrs. Harry B. Martin and Mrs. Robert E. Wible, and that it be printed in The Gettysburg Times."

Signed: Mrs. R. S. Saby, regent; Mrs. C. E. Bilheimer, Mrs. R. F. Topper, Mrs. H. W. A. Hanson, Mrs. J. E. Musselman and Mrs. H. D. Sheppard.

Dumping Of Oil On Street Is Banned

A warning that deliberate and habitual violators of the borough ordinance prohibiting the dumping of oil on town streets and alleys will be prosecuted came from borough council Monday evening after one such violation, already under investigation by the police department, was discussed around the council table.

LeRoy H. Winebrenner, borough engineer, said that serious damage can be caused to a stone and tar surfaced street by contact with crankcase oil or other similar materials. Instead of ordering prosecution in the current case, council directed that the public be warned about the costly practice.

Just Folks
By Edgar A. Guest

"APRIL FOOL"
Time was upon this curious day
(I wonder when it first began?)
I found my robes in disarray;
On foolish errands off I ran.
I telephoned to Mr. Fox,
To find him quartered at the zoo;
Kicked derby hats that covered rocks,
As still the unsuspecting do.
Time was, before our youngsters grew,
(How soon to better sense they come!)
I tried a cotton cake to chew,
And next a stick of wooden gum.
I stooped for purses on the street,
To have them snatched away from me.
And thought it very right and meet
A willing "April Fool" to be.
This day I'll bite a cotton roll,
(Time carries on these customs old.)
Find salt within the sugar bowl,
And very hot what should be cold.
And watched by two wide sets of eyes
That wait my deep chagrin to see
When I am taken by surprise,
A grandpa "April Fool" I'll be.
So give me salt instead of sweet
And turn my zardems inside out.
Set traps for my unwary feet,
I'll chuckle as I hear them shout.
A fool of me that pair can make
So long as life in me remains.
The bargain's fair; I'll gladly take
Their love and laughter for my pains!

MAN'S POSSIBILITY
As the doctor on his rounds,
You may say: "He's seven pounds
And although now very small
May some day be six feet tall,"
But when measurements are made,
To the ounce when he is weighed,
Noted shade of hair and eyes,
Still a mystery he lies,
For there's none allowed to see
What his influence will be.
In that cradle there may stay
One to change the world some day
One to change the world some day
One to come, as one before,
From a humble cottage door,
To stand firm for what seems best:
Be the friend of all oppressed;
To be gentle as a child;
To be scoffed at and reviled,
But the last shard being hurled,
Unto freedom led the world,
This is mankind's only need;
One with faith enough to lead;
One, however lowly born,
Brave enough to stand to scorn;
One to say, when cynics smirk:
"I must do my father's work!"
One to stand from right unswayed
However friends persuade,
And there's none so wise on earth
Who can tell a baby's worth.

IT'S A SHIP
The navy boys are pleasant; they
Are friendly as can be.
No matter where you meet them
They are jolly company.
Their eyes are quick to twinkle
And their faces quick to grin.
They are fond of mirth and music
And they all have yarns to spin.
But their peacefulness will vanish
And they'll want to slit your throat
If you haven't learned their language
And you call their ship a "boat."
You may not know aft from forward,
Or the starboard from the port
Or that discipline is rigid when
The vessel's known as "taut."
You may say "downstairs," land-lubber,
When you ought to say "below."
And a sailor may forgive you and
No sign of temper show,
But a flash of indignation on his face
You'll promptly note
If you make this foolish blunder
And you call his ship a "boat."
Now a boat is something simple
Which by oars can be propelled
It's a craft for lakes and rivers
And by far the most shelled.
It is swung on ships in davits
And at times in storms at sea
Should the nobler vessel founder,
Very useful it can be,
But from cabin boy to skipper you'll

PASTORS PAY TRIBUTE TO H. C. HARTLEY

Mourning friends and business associates of Howard C. Hartley, who conducted a dry goods business on center square as partner and later as sole owner for more than half a century, heard the memory of the departed lauded as "an honored citizen, a true father and a devoted churchman" at final rites conducted Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Bender funeral home.

The Rev. Ralph R. Gresh, pastor of St. James Lutheran church which Mr. Hartley had served for many years as an officer and faithful member, and a former pastor, the Rev. Dr. Joseph B. Baker, of York, stood before the flower-banked bier to praise Mr. Hartley's exemplary life and to offer comfort to those who lament his passing.

Service To Church

The Rev. Mr. Gresh opened the funeral service by reading passages of Scripture that included the 23rd Psalm, a passage from I Thessalonians the fourth chapter, John 14 and the Beatitudes. Then the Rev. Dr. Baker offered a prayer in which he referred to Mr. Hartley as "one of the princes of the Kingdom of God whose days and years of quiet, sweet comradeship were devoted to extending the borders of the Christian kingdom."

The Rev. Mr. Gresh delivered a brief sermon in which he spoke first of death and its meaning. "Death does not mean extinction," he said. "It does not stand for the end of things but rather for the opening of a door to a fuller, richer life for the children of God."

"The real gain in life comes to those who have learned to understand life as a gift of God with infinite meaning. Our departed brother had this outlook on life. He was a man successful in the affairs of business, respected and admired by all of the good citizens of his community."

A True Father

"He was a true father and long to be remembered by his children. He was a devoted churchman who gave many years to the work and program of his church. He was a regular attendant upon the worship services of the church and upon the last Sunday of his life he was in his accustomed place in the house of God. Now he is gone but the memory of his life always will be with us."

Limiting his remarks to a few minutes, Doctor Baker spoke of "the memory of many years of sacred fellowship (with Mr. Hartley) in the sweetest work mortals ever engaged in."

He quoted a Biblical reference to Abel of whom it was said "He being dead yet speaketh" and then suggested messages Mr. Hartley's life speaks to those who mourn his passing. "These quotations come to my mind as those Mr. Hartley's life might be saying to us: 'In quietness and confidence shall be thy strength' for the words 'quietness and confidence' express his life. He had the quietness of a pillar and a sure confidence in the things of God."

"Forsake not the assembling of yourselves together," he is saying for he was always in church to meet his God, no matter who the preacher was. His life was a Bible and not a word was blurred, not a page marred."

Prayer closed the service at the funeral home. Many joined the funeral cortege to the Evergreen cemetery where committal rites were conducted.

HERE AND THERE

MISS HELEN L. COPE
The book of Time has closed for Adams county's foremost and most highly esteemed woman educator. Miss Helen L. Cope. Tomorrow afternoon men and women and children in all walks of life will pay their final tribute to her memory. . . . a memory that will linger long after the present generation has answered its final summons.

Some mortals accomplish widely heralded worldly things and to their memory are erected shafts of bronze or marble as lasting tributes.

Miss Cope is not included in this group. It is not likely that her name will be widely acclaimed, outside the realm of a small area. But her words and deeds, her loving affection for young America and her tireless devotion to education will have a lasting effect upon hundreds and hundreds of men and women who were privileged to have had her as their instructor.

Not for pecuniary gain or profit; not for worldly acclaim or the plaudits of the assembly did Miss Cope devote more than forty years to the profession of teaching. She was of the old school and her theories and practices were beyond criticism. She taught school because she loved it. She was a strict disciplinarian but her pupils loved her. She tolerated no brassiness or trifling interest and her pupils respected her for it.
She was held in high esteem by all who knew her. The fruits of her harvest were reflected in the success achieved by those she taught.

Although she retired from active practice she never retired her interest, love and affection for the students of Gettysburg. Their pleasures reached her enjoyment. Their sorrows were her bereavement. Their success was her goal.

Now that she has gone before, her influence will be felt by all of us who are left behind, even by those who were not privileged to be listed among her close acquaintances. Her shaft of tribute will be measured by the success of those she taught and with whom she associated. Miss Cope would want it that way.

Two letters in our morning's mail are published herewith. No comment that we might make would add to their significance and meaning. They are self-explanatory. Here they are:

From Corporal Richard T. Morrison, Care of the Postmaster at New Orleans:

"It gave me a big thrill to read your issue of February 4 which reported that Adams County leads the Nation in obtaining the highest percentage of its Fourth War Bond Campaign quota, and it made me proud to show the article to all my buddies here. They all think the people in my county the doing a real swell job in backing up the boys in the service with such a fine response in bond purchase investments."

"News like that about Adams county is a big factor in keeping up the morale of the men who are far away from home doing this necessary job, and it is nice to know that the people back home are behind us. I know that if people throughout the country come through in the same way as those in Adams County, the time we have to be away from home will be proportionately shorter, and we will be able to come back to our loved ones that much sooner."

"I know that the people of Adams County, by backing the attack as they are with their money, want an early victory so that they can return to the building of the future for us and for our descendants. I know that they are looking forward to the higher things that mean so much in the American way of life—spiritual, educational, cultural and democratic."

"Let this letter be an expression of my own appreciation and that of my fellow-soldiers for the patriotism and devotion of my fellow-citizens of Adams County in supporting our country's war effort."

From Pfc. J. H. Palmer, care of the Postmaster, San Francisco:

"Just a few lines to let you know how proud I am of The Gettysburg Times and all the people of Adams County. It was with great pleasure that I read in the paper that the county was the first one to go over the top in the Bond Drive. It is with great pride that I can say that I am a citizen of our prosperous county."

"I receive The Times at regular intervals. It takes it a long time to get here but it sure is welcome."

With the best of luck to all the folks at home I remain your sincere friend."

HOWARD C. HARTLEY

Howard C. Hartley, merchant, churchman, husband, father and solid citizen has passed to his eternal reward. He lived four score years in plain and simple fashion. Without fanfare he devoted his life to his family, his business and his church.

Death, as it does to all men, came to him early Friday morning. He suffered a heart attack from which he never recovered. His passing was as simple and quiet as his very life had been.

Howard Hartley was a good man, an active churchman, a methodical business man and a good provider. He will be remembered for these noble qualities. He was modest and temperate in all things. He shied from public spotlight. His church work, his business and his own fireside were his worldly pleasures.

For more than a half century he maintained a business and operated it on a simple and even keel. The trend to modernism had no appeal for him. He even frowned on cash registers, preferring the old-style counter-cash drawers. He was an honest, upright gentleman of the old school and he treated his fellow man with tolerance and respect. His reputation for honesty and fairness was widespread.

He walked to and from his work four times a day. One could almost set his clock by his passing, so punctual was he in this and all other things. His life was as sound and as conservative as the merchandise he sold. Dependable to the ninth degree Howard Hartley enjoyed the respect and admiration of the entire community.

His passing came as a shock. His absence will be long felt. There is but one consolation. . . . Howard Hartley, a good man, has gone to his justly earned eternal reward.

"I have just received my Thursday's edition of The Gettysburg Times. The first thing my eyes fell upon was the article 'Have a Heart.' Although I am in the service I felt it was my duty to add my bit to the (Red Cross) fund. It will be a little late but I'm sure it will help just as much. So I am enclosing $3 with this short letter and hope that it will help some fellow-soldier who is not lucky enough to still be in good old America. Very Sincerely, Pvt. Harold L. Ecker, Port Belvoir, Va."

The above communication thrilled the hearts of the Red Cross headquarters staff when it was received this morning. It is typical of many similar letters from our men and women in service who appreciate the efforts of the Red Cross.

Adams county is lagging in its salvage of waste paper and Uncle Sam is making more and stronger appeals to all of us to help him out. He needs waste paper . . . and every piece he can get. Paper is used for a hundred and one purposes in the war effort and it is wasteful not to save waste paper. Don't throw even the smallest piece away. Don't burn any of it. Save every bit!

Three hundred trained merchandising experts from the sales staffs of the National Biscuit company and the Quaker Oats company in Pennsylvania have been loaned to the state salvage committee to work on paper salvage under the direction of salvage chairmen in each county and each community. They'll probably have some new ideas . . . but the most important thing to do is save every piece of waste paper. Dig around your house and salvage every ounce of paper you can. Tie it in bundles or put it in containers and the firemen will collect it at regular intervals.

And while you are at it be sure to save your household fats. That's another important "win-the-war" contribution. Remember you get ration points for food for every pound of household fats you save.

Efficient Work Wins Pay Increase

Miss Thelma P. Kroushour, Gettysburg R. 1, was one of 29 employees of the old-age and survivors' insurance bureau of the Social Security Board at Baltimore who were awarded annual wage increases ranging from $60 to $200 for "outstanding performance and valuable suggestions," was announced Tuesday by John J. Corson, national director of the bureau which keeps social security accounts for nearly 75,000,000 persons.

Miss Kroushour, an employee of the "report processing section" of the bureau was selected for unusual honor by Mr. Corson who stated that she "has been able to turn out 492 cards an hour, or 4,108 daily, the highest consistent average ever maintained in the verifying work."

Confirm Class Of 12 At East Berlin

Moul, Stewart Wrights, Nadine Baker, Evelyn Esenhart, Erma Jean Leib, Nancy J. Morris, Peggy Ann Moul, Louise Jacobs, Elaine Joyce Hoover and Helena Young.

Easter Dawn service will take place at the church Sunday morning at 6:30, and will be open to the public. Mrs. Verne V. Brandt, Mrs. Floyd Hoffman, Mrs. Robert S. Lau and Miss Mae Bender Wolf are in charge of arrangements.

HOLD LAST RITES FOR MISS COPE; TRIBUTE BY DAR

Several hundred friends, relatives and former associates, the great majority of them former pupils of Miss Helen L. Cope, attended funeral services for the retired head of the Gettysburg public school system Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Bender funeral home.

The service was conducted by the Gettysburg Presbyterian church of which Miss Cope was an active member for many years, and the Rev. Dr. Dwight P. Putman, pastor of Christ Lutheran church. Interment was made in Evergreen cemetery.

A committee of regents of the Gettysburg chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution of which Miss Cope was an active member on Wednesday adopted the following resolutions on the death of Miss Cope:

"Whereas: In the death of Miss Helen Cope, a member of the Gettysburg chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the chapter has lost one of its most loyal and devoted daughters; we, a committee of Regents of the Gettysburg chapter, hereby record our admiration for the fine example of Christian citizenship which Miss Cope set before us.

"As chairman of the committee on National Defense through Patriotic Education, Miss Cope planned the essay contests for the high school and the annual program at which the prizes were awarded. The planning of the details of this year's contest and program was her last public duty.

"Miss Cope was deeply interested in the history of our country and believed the education of its youth in patriotism to be of prime importance in responsible citizenship.

"In her personal contacts, Miss Cope was always warmly human, remembering with joy the friendships of all her former students.

"The Daughters of the American Revolution cherish the memory of her life within our chapter.

"Therefore, be it resolved that: This very inadequate expression of our regard for Miss Helen Cope be recorded in the minutes of our chapter and that a copy be sent to her two sisters, Mrs. Harry B. Martin and Mrs. Robert E. Wible, and that it be printed in The Gettysburg Times."

Signed: Mrs. R. S. Saby, regent; Mrs. C. E. Bilheimer, Mrs. R. F. Topper, Mrs. H. W. A. Hanson, Mrs. J. E. Musselman and Mrs. H. D. Sheppard.

Dumping Of Oil On Street Is Banned

A warning that deliberate and habitual violators of the borough ordinance prohibiting the dumping of oil on town streets and alleys will be prosecuted came from borough council Monday evening after one such violation, already under investigation by the police department, was discussed around the council table.

LeRoy H. Winebrenner, borough engineer, said that serious damage can be caused to a stone and tar surfaced street by contact with crankcase oil or other similar materials. Instead of ordering prosecution in the current case, council directed that the public be warned about the costly practice.

COUNTYMAN HELD AS "WITNESS" IN MYSTERY DEATH

The mystery surrounding the death of Harry Francis Wetzel, Fairfield R. D., 40-year-old laborer and father of nine children, who was found dead in the middle of the Zora-Emmingsburg road in Liberty township November 23, 1942, may be near solution, according to developments in the case Thursday.

Wetzel's lifeless body was found about 8:30 p. m. Saturday, November 28, 1942, by Pvt. Philip A. Powell, who was enroute with two young women from Rhode Island to his home at Johnston. He called police who learned that Wetzel had left a roadside stand owned by John Kessler, about a half mile east of the point where he was found, a half hour before Pvt. Powell discovered the body.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams county coroner, who investigated, said at that time that a depressed fracture of the man's forehead and another fracture at the base of the skull caused death. The man apparently was uninjured otherwise and his clothes did not indicate he had been dragged or rolled along the road.

HIT-Run Victim?

Doctor Crist and Ptas. John M. Micka and R. W. Wagner, of the local state police who investigated, said they believed Wetzel the victim of a hit-and-run driver while allowing the possibility that Wetzel was the victim of foul play.

Sometime ago the state police filed a warrant before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehorpe charging "one John Doe with unlawfully killing one Harry Wetzel."

Monday the state police took into custody Calvin Claggett, Fairfield R. D., and are holding him as a material witness to the Wetzel death. District Attorney J. Francis Yake, Jr., said Thursday.

Claggett, through his attorney, Richard A. Brown, Thursday filed for a writ of habeas corpus, alleging to the county court, "That your petitioner is unjustly confined to the Adams county jail for criminal or supposed criminal matter."

H. C. HARTLEY, 80, DIES SUDDENLY THIS MORNING

Howard C. Hartley, 80, one of the founders of the Dougherty and Hartley dry goods store in Gettysburg, died suddenly at 4:15 o'clock Friday morning at his home in Gettysburg. A heart attack caused death.

Mr. Hartley had been in his usual health Thursday and had worked at his store just as he had for the last half century with the exception of two brief periods of illness. He was short of breath Thursday evening and had retired about 7 o'clock. A physician was called when he was stricken early Friday morning but death occurred before the doctor arrived.

Dougherty and Hartley's store, which Mr. Hartley operated as a partner and for the last seven years as sole owner, has been a landmark in Gettysburg's business section with a record of 52 consecutive years on the same site.

Mr. Hartley, who marked his eightieth birthday anniversary last November, was born in East Berlin. He was the last of nine children of the late John and Justina (Williams) Hartley. He went to Gettysburg in his middle teens and resided there since that time. He went to the county seat to take a position as a clerk in the dry goods store operated by George Spangler on the present site of the Plaza restaurant on the square.

In 1892 he and the late Dorsey Dougherty formed a partnership which continued until 1937 when Mr. Dougherty withdrew although the men continued to conduct the Dougherty and Hartley insurance agency which they formed years ago when they bought out the Picking agency. COUNCIL NAMES MRS. W. DRACHA AS SECRETARY

Leroy H. Winebrenner Placed In Charge Of Sewage Disposal Plant

Mrs. Anna (Shealer) Dracha, wife of Borough Secretary Wilmer Dracha who was inducted into the U. S. Army today, was elected unanimously to fill her husband's position during his absence by members of town council at their April meeting, Monday evening.

Mrs. Dracha, one of four applicants, received a majority of the votes on a secret ballot. The councilmen promptly made her election unanimous. The other applicants were Justice of the Peace Robert F. Snyder, Edgar A. Moser and Kenneth P. Hull. Mrs. Dracha was called to the council chamber and observed during the remainder of the meeting.

Mr. Dracha, who has been borough secretary for the last six years, thanked council for selecting his wife for the position and also expressed appreciation for the "swell treatment" accorded him by members of council during his years of service as secretary. The job pays $300 per year.

Survey Town Streets

Council directed the highway committee to make a survey of the town streets preliminary to a decision on the street surfacing program for this year. The sewer committee and borough engineer were directed to inspect the Tiber and make recommendations to council concerning the improvement work which should be undertaken along that stream this year.

Councilman Fred A. Hummelbaugh said the first thing that should be done in the Tiber this year is to, by-pass the silk throwing company plant. He also declared new retaining walls are needed at several points along the stream's course through the town. Early in the meeting council heard a letter of inquiry from George A. Taylor, Springs avenue, about Tiber improvement plans for this year.

After a long discussion council passed a motion placing supervision of the borough sewage disposal plant under Leroy H. Winebrenner, borough engineer, and allowing him an additional $5 per month for estimated traveling expenses for visits to the plant.

Councilman Ray M. Hoffman, chairman of the finance committee who opened an investigation in February of the unpaid taxes held over from the terms of H. H. Thomas as local collector, reported that Mr. Thomas' books now are in the hands of the borough auditors and that when that work is completed he will have a report to make to council.

Council voted to require Tax Collector J. Herbert Weikert to settle his 1943 tax duplicate in full as far as real estate levies are concerned or post a new bond to cover the collection of the $27,616.44 yet outstanding. At the same time he was exonerated from the bond for the collection of $11,729.20 on occupational levies but the tax payers themselves are not exonerated, it was pointed out.

These steps were necessary before the 1944 duplicate, which Mr. Dracha said will be ready by the end of next week, can be turned over to the collector. A new bond for the 1944 duplicate must be approved by the court.

Seek Sheely Advice

Burgess Fred G. Pfeffer told council the new police department setup with two new members has been satisfactory so far and that he is "pleased with the cooperation he is receiving." He said he is giving the officers special instructions and is especially directing their attention to juvenile problems. Council again discussed the possibility of getting Judge W. C. Sheely to attend a council session to talk over juvenile delinquency.

Mr. Winebrenner told council he will start street patching as soon as repairs to the borough roller are completed. He will start work next week on replacing concrete on Carlisle street where openings were made by the gas company. Council authorized the purchase of amesite for patching work on Chambersburg street.

Council authorized the semi-annual payment of $87.50 as rental for the borough dump along the Littlestown road. Council also voted a quarterly appropriation of $75 to the Blue and Gray band.

Burgess' Report

The monthly report of Burgess Pfeffer showed total collections in fines, fees and permits of $395.89 for last month with the theater tax of $382.89 as the large item on the list. The monthly report of Borough Treasurer John H. Baschore showed a balance of $11,584.13 in the general fund after bills totaling $2,801.27 for March were paid.

Council President H. M. Oyer presided at the meeting with Councilmen Harry J. Troxell, L. D. Shealer, George D. March, Ray M. Hoffman, Harry E. Koch, Fred A. Hummelbaugh, Joseph D. Kendrick and Vernon Corlie; Burgess Pfeffer, Secretary Dracha, Mr. Baschore and Mr. Winebrenner in attendance.

Soldier Ballots Are Mailed At Frederick

The Frederick county Board of Election Supervisors last Thursday sent primary mail ballots to men and women in the armed forces whose requests are being received daily at the Secretary of State's office and being forwarded to the supervisors.

Grover C. Stewart, of Brunswick member of the board, said the first printed mail ballots off the presses and reached the supervisors' office Tuesday afternoon. Mailing started shortly thereafter.

Following the election law, the supervisors are having 5,000 mail ballots printed of both Republican and Democratic parties, although they feel certain the requests will fall far short of that number. The Secretary of State's office has reported 78-requests for primary ballots from Frederick county persons in the armed forces thus far.

However, it was reported that only about half of these persons are registered voters. In order to vote in the primaries, a member of the armed forces must be a registered voter, although in the November election this requirement is dropped. The requests for ballots from persons who are not registered will be held until the ballots for the general election go out.

ROTARIANS PICK SIX DIRECTORS AT SESSION HERE

Walter T. Africa, I. Z. Musselman, Dr. C. Harold Johnson, Edmund W. Thomas, H. Wilbur Baker and G. Henry Roth were elected directors of the local Rotary club at its regular meeting Monday evening at the YWCA. The directors will meet during the coming week to elect officers who will be announced at next Monday's session of the club.

Milo Gallinger, a member of the club, spoke on his work of building hand weaving looms and accessories under the name of Gallinger Crafts at Guernsey and of the work of his wife in weaving and teaching and editing craft magazines. He illustrated his talk with a display of various types of work done on hand looms.

The Gallingers started their craft work in Wisconsin in 1931, he said, as one of 14 projects begun by a rich philanthropist in that state. As the projects became self-supporting they were turned over to the managers. The Gallinger crafts project was turned over to Mr. Gallinger in 1938. Last year the Gallingers moved to Pennsylvania. Through the interest of the State Planning Board, they learned of Adams county's background and came here, setting up a loom manufacturing shop in the former country club house at Guernsey and establishing a school at the former home of O. H. Benson at Guernsey.

Annual Conferences

He showed the use of cellophane as a textile which was developed by the Gallinger crafts five years ago but which has been discontinued for the duration of the war because of the shortage of materials. Most of his work now is supplying looms of institutions to be used in occupational therapy, Mr. Gallinger said.

Mrs. Gallinger, who annually conducts the National Weaving Conference, is planning to hold the conference next summer in New York city, Mr. Gallinger said. In the future, however, the conferences will probably be held in Gettysburg, he added.

COAL USERS TO FILE ESTIMATES

Residents of Gettysburg who wish to purchase anthracite coal or eastern coke must fill out a consumer's declaration outlining the amount of fuel they believe they will use from April 1, 1944, to March 31, 1945 before the coal can be delivered to them, it was stated Thursday.

Besides listing the amount of coal estimated as needed for the year, the consumer must list the amount of coal he has on hand and when he files the declaration with a dealer he must state that he has no outstanding order or declaration with another dealer or, if he does he must list the dealer and tonnage ordered. He must also list the types of heating equipment on the premises for which he is purchasing the coal and promise to "keep my heating equipment in good order and conserve all solid fuels so far as possible."

The declarations are obtained from and filed with the dealer and are necessary it was stated because wartime demands for anthracite limit civilian supply. Of the anthracite mined, it was said 1,250,000 tons are replacing wood; 2,500,000 tons are replacing coke. 1,250,000 tons are replacing oil. 1,250,000 tons are needed by the Army, Navy and Coast Guard and 750,000 tons are needed for increased war-worker populations.

TO ADD NAMES TO HONOR ROLL IN SQUARE HERE

The number of names on the Adams county Honor Roll on the center square will be increased to approximately 3,000 by May 30, it was indicated Thursday.

Dr. R. D. Wickerham, chairman of the committee in charge of the honor roll, in announcing that a meeting of the committee will be held in the near future, said that 425 name plates have been or are scheduled to be completed sometime prior to Memorial Day. They will be installed a short time before the end of May.

Because of the cold weather, no names were added during the winter to the original 2,600 on the roll when it was dedicated November 11, 1943. Some of the names to be added will be replacements for names already on the board in cases where the name plates are cracked or where the names are misspelled.

Will Add Gold Stars

Present plans are for names to be added monthly after May during the warm weather months when it will be possible to open the honor roll without danger either to the roll or to the men engaged in installing the nameplates.

The committee today asked the next of kin of all county men who have died in service to contact the committee so that stars may be added to the names of the men indicating that they have made the supreme sacrifice for their country.

Snyder, Edgar A. Moser and Kenneth P. Hull. Mrs. Dracha was called to the council chamber and observed during the remainder of the meeting.

Mr. Dracha, who has been borough secretary for the last six years, thanked council for selecting his wife for the position and also expressed appreciation for the "sweet treatment" accorded him by members of council during his years of service as secretary. The job pays $300 per year.

Council voted to require Tax Collector J. At the same time he was exonerated from the bond for the collection of $1,178.20 on occupational levies but the tax payers themselves are not exonerated, it was pointed out.

These steps were necessary before the 1944 duplicate, which Mr. Dracha said will be ready by the end of next week, can be turned over to the collector. A new bond for the 1944 duplicate must be approved by the court.

Soldier Ballots Are Mailed At Frederick

The Frederick county Board of Election Supervisors last Thursday sent primary mail ballots to men and women in the armed forces whose requests are being received daily at the Secretary of State's office and being forwarded to the supervisors.

Grover C. Stewart, of Brunswick member of the board, said the first printed mail ballots off the presses and reached the supervisors' office Tuesday afternoon. Mailing started shortly thereafter.

Following the election law, the supervisors are having 5,000 mail ballots printed of both Republican and Democratic parties, although they feel certain the requests will fall far short of that number. The Secretary of State's office has reported 78-requests for primary ballots from Frederick county persons in the armed forces thus far.

However, it was reported that only about half of these persons are registered voters. In order to vote in the primaries, a member of the armed forces must be a registered voter, although in the November election this requirement is dropped. The requests for ballots from persons who are not registered will be held until the ballots for the general election go out.

ROTARIANS PICK SIX DIRECTORS AT SESSION HERE

Walter T. Africa, I. Z. Musselman, Dr. C. Harold Johnson, Edmund W. Thomas, H. Wilbur Baker and G. Henry Roth were elected directors of the local Rotary club at its regular meeting Monday evening at the YWCA. The directors will meet during the coming week to elect officers who will be announced at next Monday's session of the club.

Milo Gallinger, a member of the club, spoke on his work of building hand weaving looms and accessories under the name of Gallinger Crafts at Guernsey and of the work of his wife in weaving and teaching and editing craft magazines. He illustrated his talk with a display of various types of work done on hand looms.

The Gallingers started their craft work in Wisconsin in 1931, he said, as one of 14 projects begun by a rich philanthropist in that state. As the projects became self-supporting they were turned over to the managers. The Gallinger crafts project was turned over to Mr. Gallinger in 1938. Last year the Gallingers moved to Pennsylvania. Through the interest of the State Planning Board, they learned of Adams county's background and came here, setting up a loom manufacturing shop in the former country club house at Guernsey and establishing a school at the former home of O. H. Benson at Guernsey.

Annual Conference
He showed the use of cellophane as a textile which was developed by the Gallinger crafts five years ago but which has been discontinued for the duration of the war because of the shortage of materials. Most of his work now is supplying looms of institutions to be used in occupational therapy, Mr. Gallinger said.

Mrs. Gallinger, who annually conducts the National Weaving Conference, is planning to hold the conference next summer in New York city. Mr. Gallinger said. In the future, however, the conferences will probably be held in Gettysburg, he added.

COAL USERS TO FILE ESTIMATES

Residents of Gettysburg who wish to purchase anthracite coal or eastern coke must fill out a consumer's declaration outlining the amount of fuel they believe they will use from April 1, 1944, to March 31, 1945 before the coal can be delivered to them, it was stated Thursday.

Besides listing the amount of coal estimated as needed for the year, the consumer must list the amount of coal he has on hand and when he files the declaration with a dealer he must state that he has no outstanding order or declaration with another dealer or, if he does he must list the dealer and tonnage ordered. He must also list the types of heating equipment on the premises for which he is purchasing the coal and promise to "keep my heating equipment in good order and conserve all solid fuels so far as possible."

The declarations are obtained from and filed with the dealer and are necessary, it was stated because wartime demands for anthracite limit civilian supply. Of the anthracite mined, it was said 1,250,000 tons are replacing wood; 2,500,000 tons are replacing coke, 1,250,000 tons are replacing oil, 1,250,000 tons are needed by the Army, Navy and Coast Guard and 750,000 tons are needed for increased war-worker populations.
